OPINION

of the Committee on Women's Rights and Gender Equality

for the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development

Rapporteur for opinion: Marijana Petir
SHORT JUSTIFICATION

The principle of equality between women and men should be better reflected in the provisions of the CAP, with a view to improving the participation of women in the socio-economic development of rural areas and ensuring that the work that women do is more visible and better appreciated.

The EU’s rural areas are facing structural problems, so in order to foster the greater inclusion of women in the rural economy, we need new rural value chains, including, in particular, new opportunities linked to the development of ‘smart villages’ across Europe.

Female entrepreneurship is a sustainable development pillar in rural areas and should be promoted and supported by Member States in their strategic plans. Member States should have the possibility, if they consider it necessary, to set additional criteria for the use of reserves for payment entitlements in order to direct them to a greater degree towards female holders of agricultural holdings.

Particular attention should be paid to increasing employment opportunities for women. This calls for the development of digital infrastructure and care services (for children and the elderly) linked to the development of work-life balance policies.

Through strategic plans, Member States may set more favourable conditions for women in rural areas and thus improve their access to financial instruments, farmland and credit.

Thematic subprogrammes should be designed to empower women in rural areas.

Strategic plans may also provide for additional criteria for certain types of interventions, and support may be provided for the establishment and implementation of thematic subprogrammes for the empowerment of rural women.

The Managing Authority of the CAP Strategic Plan shall define the selection criteria for the interventions to ensure equal treatment of all applicants. Member States may decide to use a certain proportion of the EAFRD allocations with a view to assisting young women farmers and women in rural areas.

AMENDMENTS

The Committee on Women's Rights and Gender Equality calls on the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development, as the committee responsible, to take into account the following amendments:

Amendment 1

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 9 a (new)
(9 a) Equality between women and men is a core principle of the European Union and the gender mainstreaming is an important tool in the integration of this principle to the CAP. In this view a particular focus on promoting the participation of women in the socio-economic development of rural areas, including their access to education, vocational and professional trainings, employment and social protection. The size of female-operated farms tends to be smaller and the work performed by women, as farms’ spouse, is not always recognised and visible, which impacts their economic independence and consequently results with gender pay and pension gaps, lack of social protection. This Regulation should help to ensure that the work that women do is more visible, better appreciated and taken into account within the specific objectives to be proposed by the Member States in their strategic plans. Gender equality as well as non-discrimination principles should be integral part of preparation, implementation and evaluation of CAP interventions, whereas the strategic plans developed, implemented, monitored and evaluated in a gender-sensitive manner. In this respect, Member States shall ensure equal access for women and men farmers to farm advisory services and encourage women to take part in the CAP Monitoring Committee. Member States shall also strengthen their capacity in gender mainstreaming and in collection of sex-disaggregated data.

Amendment 2

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 9 a (new)
(9a) In order to ensure consistency between the direct payments types of interventions and rural development types of interventions when addressing the objective of attracting women farmers, a framework definition for ‘women farmer’ with the essential elements should be set out at Union level.

Amendment 3

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 15

(15) In the context of greater market-orientation of the CAP, as outlined by the Communication on ‘The Future of Food and Farming’, market exposure, climate change and associated frequency and severity of extreme weather events, as well as sanitary and phytosanitary crises, may lead to risks of price volatility and increasing pressures on incomes. Thus, although farmers are ultimately responsible for designing their on-farm strategies, a robust framework should be set up to ensure appropriate risk management. To this aim, Member States and farmers may be able to draw on a Union-level platform on risk management for capacity-building in order to provide farmers with adequate financial instruments for investments and access to working capital, training, knowledge transfer and advice. Taking into account the existing gender gaps, including digital gender gap, a gender-perspective must be incorporated and Member States may develop sub-programmes in the Strategic Plan for supporting women farmers to utilise financial instruments and to upgrade their knowledge and skills.
Amendment 4
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 16 – point 1

Text proposed by the Commission

As many rural areas in the Union suffer from structural problems such as lack of attractive employment opportunities, skill shortages, underinvestment in connectivity, infrastructures and essential services, as well as youth drain, it is fundamental to strengthen the socio-economic fabric in those areas, in line with the Cork 2.0 Declaration, particularly through job creation and generational renewal, by bringing the Commission's jobs and growth to rural areas, promoting social inclusion, generational renewal and the development of 'Smart Villages' across the European countryside. As indicated in the Communication on 'The Future of Food and Farming', new rural value chains such as renewable energy, the emerging bio-economy, the circular economy, and ecotourism can offer good growth and job potential for rural areas. In this context, financial instruments and the use of the InvestEU guarantee can play a crucial role for ensuring access to financing and for bolstering the growth capacity of farms and enterprises. There is a potential for employment opportunities in rural areas for legally staying third country nationals, promoting their social and economic integration especially in the framework of Community-led Local Development strategies.

Amendment

As many rural areas in the Union suffer from structural problems such as lack of attractive employment opportunities, skill shortages, underinvestment in connectivity, infrastructures and essential services, in particular childcare and long-term care services, as well as youth drain, it is fundamental to strengthen the socio-economic fabric in those areas, in line with the Cork 2.0 Declaration, particularly through job creation and generational renewal, by bringing the Commission's jobs and growth to rural areas, promoting social inclusion, generational renewal and the development of 'Smart Villages' across the European countryside. Amendment 6
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 16 a (new)
(16a) For the socio-economic sustainability of the rural areas, the European Commission shall check that the Member States ensure in the CAP Strategic Plan a coherence between the application of the Directive 2010/41/EU and the long term approach on the use of Rural Development funds.

Amendment 7
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 27

(27) When providing decoupled direct support based on the system of payment entitlements, Member States should continue to manage a national reserve or reserves per group of territories. Such reserves should be used, as a matter of priority, for young farmers and farmers commencing their agricultural activity. Rules on the use and transfers of payment entitlements are also necessary in order to guarantee a smooth functioning of the system.

(27) When providing decoupled direct support based on the system of payment entitlements, Member States should continue to manage a national reserve or reserves per group of territories. Such reserves should be used, as a matter of priority, for young farmers, women farmers and farmers commencing their agricultural activity. In order to improve women’s involvement in agricultural sector, Member States may consider to support young women farmers in this respect. Rules on the use and transfers of payment entitlements are also necessary in order to guarantee a smooth functioning of the system.

Amendment 8
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 30 a (new)

(30a) Female entrepreneurship, in social, economic and environmental terms, is an important sustainable development pillar in rural areas and should be promoted, encouraged and supported by Member States in their strategic plans. Member States should be allowed to establish an additional criterion for the use of the reserve for payment entitlements that would also cover female holders of agricultural holdings.

Amendment 9

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 41 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(41a) When investing in infrastructure, services and the acquisition of knowledge and skills, Member States should, as part of their strategic plans, consider building necessary infrastructure that forms part of a local development strategy and is also tailored to the needs of rural women. Such infrastructure should be aimed at providing the necessary assistance and support for the empowerment of women and the promotion of their employment. In order to reduce the gender employment gap and to increase female employment, it is necessary for Member States’ Strategic Plans to promote the development of policies aimed at achieving a work-life balance. The development of care services and the building up of related infrastructure can contribute significantly to this. Support for this and similar measures may be funded under the subprogramme for women’s empowerment in rural areas, and for this purpose the InvestEU and the ESF+ programmes may be used in synergy.
Amendment 10
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 41 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(41a) Taking into account the on-going development of digitalisation in agricultural sector, Member States may develop sub-programme to upgrade digital skills in rural areas and may take further measures to minimize the digital gender gap by facilitating women’s access to lifelong learning, vocational and professional training in rural areas.

Amendment 11
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 42

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(42) In the light of the need to fill the investment gap in the Union agricultural sector and improve access to financial instruments for priority groups, notably young farmers and new entrants with higher risk profiles, use of the InvestEU guarantee and combination of grants and financial instruments should be encouraged. Since the use of financial instruments across Member States varies considerably as a result of differences in terms of access to finance, banking sector development, presence of risk capital, familiarity of public administrations and potential range of beneficiaries, Member States should establish in the CAP Strategic Plan appropriate targets, beneficiaries and preferential conditions, and other possible eligibility rules.

Amendment 12
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 43

Text proposed by the Commission

(43) Young farmers and new entrants still face significant barriers regarding access to land, high prices and access to credit. Their businesses are more threatened by price volatility (for both inputs and produce) and their needs in terms of training in entrepreneurial and risk management skills are high. It is therefore essential to continue the support for the setting up of new businesses and new farms. Member States should provide for a strategic approach and identify a clear and coherent set of interventions for generational renewal under the specific objective dedicated to this issue. To this aim, Member States may set in their CAP Strategic Plans preferential conditions for financial instruments for young farmers and new entrants, and should include in their CAP Strategic Plan the ring-fencing of at least an amount corresponding to 2% of the annual direct payments' envelope. An increase of the maximum amount of aid for the installation of young farmers and rural business start-ups, up to EUR 100,000, which can be accessed also through or in combination with financial instrument form of support, should be established.

Amendment 13

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 43 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(43a) Recognising the importance of lifelong education and training for farmers, including education and training for women in rural areas, and taking into account the continually changing nature of...
of the labour market, appropriate education, training and retraining programmes should be provided in order to help reduce female unemployment in rural areas and to eliminate income and pension disparities between women and men.

Amendment 14
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 43 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(43b) In order to promote the principle of equality between women and men, Member States may, in their CAP Strategic Plans, set out specific conditions for financial instruments related to improving the situation of rural women and their business opportunities. They should therefore consider prioritising women, where necessary, in their CAP Strategic Plans, in order, inter alia, to ensure better access to farmland and credit, and to encourage female entrepreneurship, thus contributing to a greater representation of rural women among farm holders and entrepreneurs.

Amendment 15
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 73

Text proposed by the Commission

(73) Each CAP Strategic Plan should be subject to regular monitoring of the implementation and of progress towards the established targets. Such a performance, monitoring and evaluation framework of the CAP should be set up with the purpose of demonstrating the progress and assessing the impact and efficiency of policy implementation, as well as its impact on fundamental rights.

Amendment 16
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 74

Text proposed by the Commission

(74) The result-orientation triggered by the delivery model requires a strong performance framework, particularly since CAP Strategic Plans would contribute to broad general objectives for other shared managed policies. A performance-based policy implies annual and multi-annual assessment on the basis of selected outputs, result and impact indicators, as defined in the performance monitoring and evaluation framework. To this end, a limited and targeted set of indicators should be selected in a way which reflects as closely as possible whether the supported intervention contributes to achieving the envisaged objectives. Result and output indicators relating to climate- and environment-related objectives may include interventions set out in national environmental and climate-planning instruments emanating from Union legislation.
