Amendment

4. Where necessary, additional documents necessary for the return of third-country nationals may be attached to the European travel document for return.
In the case of forced returns, a declaration of fitness to travel, following a medical examination carried out prior to removal, shall be attached to the European travel document for return.

Or. en

Justification

Guideline 16(1) of the Council of Europe "Twenty Guidelines on Forced Return", establishes that persons "shall not be removed as long as they are medically unfit to travel" and encourages member states to perform a medical examination prior to removal. Frontex Code of Conduct for Joint Return Operations (Article 7(1)) stresses that "returnees are to be removed only as long as they are "fit-to-travel" at the time of the JRO".

Review

The Commission shall review this Regulation at the latest 18 months after its entry into force in order to assess its impact on the implementation of return decisions.

That review shall take account of returns in the context of Union readmission agreements, bilateral readmission agreements or other arrangements with third countries, as well as in the context of return-related cooperation with third countries not covered by formal agreements.

For the purposes of that assessment, the Member States shall provide the Commission with all relevant information concerning the issuing of European travel documents for return and the implementation of return decisions.

The Commission shall present the results of its assessment to Parliament and the Council and, if appropriate, propose modifications to this Regulation.
