Paragraph 18 a (new)

18 a. Recalls that inequalities affects men:

- 1. Longer life for women: on average women live longer than men
- 2. Greater level of disposable income esp (rich) widows
- 3. Women have "women only hospitals" - men don't have such facilities
- 4. More lenient sentencing for the same crime as men
- 5. Men cannot take their babies into prison with them - women can
- 6. Men have no say in whether their child is aborted or not
- 7. In divorce situations, men will most likely be worse off financially than the woman
- 8. In divorce, men will rarely be the resident parent, having the children live with him
- 9. The educational system in most developed countries is designed for a woman's learning style - disadvantaging men
- 10. In a spirit of positive discrimination, with equally qualified candidates applying for a job the woman will always be preferred
- 11. Men are depicted as weaker characters in films, literature, marketing campaigns
- 12. Men are prejudged to be a sexual threat to women and children
- 13. Men have more hazardous occupations
- 14. Common misconception assumes that all domestic violence is committed by men against women, when about 40% is women abusing men

15. Men are more likely to have heart attacks, strokes, etc.

16. More boys than girls die in childhood

Motion for a resolution

Paragraph 29 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

29 a. Stresses that in its resolution of 11 September 2013, the European Parliament reminded that the Commission should pay attention to the fact that with their policies, some Member States and regions are endangering the survival of languages inside their borders, even if those languages are not in danger in the European context and called on the Commission to consider the administrative and legislative obstacles posed to projects relating to these languages.
