

Question for written answer P-010385/2014
to the Commission
Rule 130
Laurențiu Rebega (S&D)

Subject: Removing the imbalance in negotiating power in the food chain

There are often and will continue to be differences in negotiating power, and in some cases these differences may represent substantial imbalances that can lead to unfair trading practices.

What specific proposals would the Commission make in view of the imbalance in negotiating power in the food chain, with particular regard to the idea of introducing the local production model?