

Question for written answer P-013109/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Francesc Gambús (PPE)

Subject: Question on written answers to parliamentary questions

On 22 September 2015, the Commission's answer to question E-011776-15 was published. 24 hours later, the answer was withdrawn, as a discrepancy had been found between the English and Spanish versions. This had considerable repercussions in the media and on social networks, potentially harming the reputation of both the European Parliament and the European Commission. In fact, the Commission announced that it would launch an investigation to establish what had occurred.

I would therefore like to know:

- What conclusion has the Commission reached on the incident under investigation?
- What measures will the Commission take to ensure that this does not happen again?
