Subject: Impact of TPP on EU trade and economy

The Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) Agreement was concluded on 5 October 2015. This is a major trade deal involving 12 countries – including the USA, Canada and Japan – that account for more than 40% of global GDP.

1. Once the text of the agreement is made public, will the Commission assess the impact that a fully implemented TPP will have on the EU's share of global trade and, as a consequence, on the EU economy, including any repercussions for the EU's industrial and agricultural sectors?
2. If so, when can Parliament, the Member States and the general public expect the results to be made public?
