

Question for written answer P-004397/2017
to the Commission
Rule 130
Julie Girling (ECR)

Subject: Parliament's position on the endocrine disruptor criteria derogation

In its replies to a number of letters from MEPs across political groups regarding the omission of the amendment to the derogation from the endocrine disruptor criteria, the Commission continues to insist that Parliament is clearly against the amendment. Given that these letters demonstrate a contradictory view, when will the Commission retable the derogation for consideration, in order to allow Parliament to have its say via scrutiny?