

DR MARIO OETHEIMER

Dr Mario Oetheimer is a team coordinator 'Data protection' at the European Agency for Fundamental Rights.

His areas of expertise with respect to the FRA's work include: data protection and freedom of expression; disability and human rights; the European Court of Human Rights. He previously worked for the Council of Europe for thirteen years – first with the Council of Europe media division and then with the European Court of Human Rights research division.

He studied law, and is the author of the book Harmonisation of Freedom of Expression in Europe (2001) in French. He has authored several articles on freedom of expression and the European Court of Human Rights.