Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs

LIBE Committee Inquiry on Electronic Mass Surveillance of EU Citizens

Draft programme

Tuesday, 24 September 2013, 9.00 – 11.30 and 15.00 – 18.30

Brussels

Meeting room: Paul-Henri Spaak PHS 3 C 50

Background

1. The EU-US TFTP Agreement from 2010 contains detailed provisions that allow for transfer of SWIFT data to the US authorities (US Department of Treasury) for the fight against terrorism or terrorist financing. Allegations appeared in recent news reports (TV Globo, Der Spiegel) that the NSA has been tapping into personal financial data from the SWIFT database. Europol has been given the task to verify whether the requests of the US authorities comply with the terms of the Agreement. This condition was one of the reasons for the European Parliament to approve this Agreement after it rejected the previous one. Commissioner Malmström wrote on 12 September to US Under Secretary Cohen, urgently asking for clarifications. Session I will debate this issue.
2. Session II will discuss the outcome of the second meeting of EU-US Transatlantic group of experts on data protection of 19/20 September 2013.
3. The Inquiry will start receiving feedback from US Civil Society (Part I – Session III).
4. Session IV will concentrate on Effectiveness of surveillance in fighting crime and terrorism in Europe
5. A study commissioned by the LIBE Committee to the Policy Department on “The US National Security Agency (NSA) surveillance programmes (PRISM) and Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) activities and their impact on EU citizens' fundamental rights ” will be presented in Session V.

In light of the recent PRISM-related revelations, this briefing note analyses the impact of US surveillance programmes on European citizens' rights. The note explores the scope of surveillance that can be carried out under the US FISA Amendment Act 2008, and related practices of the US authorities which have very strong implications for EU data sovereignty and the protection of European citizens' rights.
