AMENDMENTS BY THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT*

to the Commission proposal

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 53(1) and Article 62 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) Amendments are to be made to Directive 2002/92/EC of the European Parliament and the Council¹. Thus it is proposed that the Directive ■ be recast.
- (2) Since the main objective and subject-matter of this proposal is to harmonise national provisions concerning the mentioned areas, the proposal should be based on Article 53(1) and Article 62 TFEU. The form of a Directive is appropriate in order to enable the implementing provisions in the areas covered by this Directive, when necessary, to be adjusted to any existing specificities of the particular market and legal system in each Member State. This Directive should also aim at coordinating national rules concerning the access to the activity of insurance and reinsurance mediation, and is therefore based on Article 53(1) TFEU. In addition, since this is a sector offering services across the Union, this Directive is also based on Article 62 TFEU.

Amendments: new or amended text is highlighted in bold italics; deletions are indicated by the symbol **■.

- (3) Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries play a central role in the distribution of insurance and reinsurance products in the Union.
 - (4) Various types of persons or institutions, such as agents, brokers and 'bancassurance' operators, insurance undertakings, travel agents and car rental companies can distribute insurance products.
 - (4a) In order to guarantee that the same level of protection applies and that the consumer can benefit from comparable standards it is essential that this Directive promotes a level playing field and competition on equal terms between intermediaries whether they are tied to an insurance undertaking or not. Consumers benefit if insurance products are mediated through a variety of channels and intermediaries with different forms of cooperation with insurance undertakings, provided that those channels and intermediaries have to apply the same rules on consumer protection. It is important that those aspects are taken into account by the Member States in the implementation of this Directive.
 - (5) The application of Directive 2002/92/EC has shown that a number of provisions require further precision with a view to facilitating the exercise of insurance and reinsurance mediation and that the protection of consumers requires an extension of the scope of that Directive to all sales of insurance products as a main professional activity, whether by insurance intermediaries or insurance undertakings. In respect of their sales, after-sales and claims processes insurance undertakings which sell directly insurance products, should be brought into the scope of the new Directive on a similar basis as insurance agents and brokers.
- (8) There are still substantial differences between national provisions which create barriers to the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance intermediaries in the internal market. There is a need to further strengthen the internal market and create a true European internal market for life and non-life insurance products and services.
 - (9) Current and recent financial turbulence has underlined the importance of ensuring effective consumer protection across all financial sectors. It is appropriate therefore to strengthen the confidence of customers and to make regulatory treatment of the distribution of insurance products more uniform in order to ensure an adequate level of customer protection across the Union. The level of consumer protection should be raised in relation to Directive 2002/92/EC in order to reduce the need for varying national measures. It is important to take into consideration the specific nature of insurance contracts in comparison to investment products regulated under Directive 2014/.../EU of the European Parliament and of the Council [MiFID]¹. The distribution of insurance contracts, including so called insurance investment products should therefore be regulated under this Directive and be aligned with Directive 2014/.../EU [MiFID]. The minimum standards need to be raised with regard to distribution rules and the creation of a level playing field applicable to all packaged insurance investment products. Measures to protect customers should be higher for 'non professional' than for 'professional' customers.

- (10) This Directive should apply to persons whose activity consists of providing insurance or reinsurance mediation services to third parties for remuneration, which may be pecuniary or take some other form of agreed economic benefit tied to performance.
- (11) This Directive should apply to persons whose activity consists of the provision of information on one or more contracts of insurance or reinsurance in response to criteria selected by the customer whether via a website or other means, or the provision of a ranking of insurance or reinsurance products or a discount on the price of a contract, when the customer is able to directly conclude an insurance contract at the end of the process; it should not apply to mere introducing activities consisting of the provision of data and information on potential policyholders to insurance or reinsurance intermediaries or undertakings or of information about insurance or reinsurance products or an insurance or reinsurance intermediary or undertaking to potential policyholders.
- (12) This Directive should not apply to persons with another professional activity, such as tax experts or accountants, who provide advice on insurance cover on an incidental basis in the course of that other professional activity, neither should it apply to the mere provision of information of a general nature on insurance products, provided that the purpose of that activity is not to help the customer conclude or fulfil an insurance or reinsurance contract. It should not apply to the professional management of claims on behalf of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, nor to the loss adjusting and expert appraisal of claims.
- (13) This Directive should not apply to persons practising insurance mediation as an ancillary activity under certain restrictions regarding the policy, in particular the knowledge required to sell it, the risks covered and the amount of premium.
- (14) This Directive defines 'tied insurance intermediary' to take account of the characteristics of certain Member States' markets and to establish conditions applicable to such intermediaries.
- (15) Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries who are natural persons should be registered with the competent authority of the Member State where they have their residence; those which are legal persons should be registered with the competent authority of the Member State where they have their registered office (or, if under their national law they have no registered office, their head office), provided that they meet strict professional requirements in relation to their ability, good repute, professional indemnity cover and financial capacity. Insurance intermediaries already registered in Member States shall not be required to register again under this Directive.
- (16) Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries should be able to avail themselves of the freedom of establishment and the freedom to provide services which are enshrined in the TFEU. Accordingly, registration with or a declaration to their home Member State should allow insurance and reinsurance intermediaries to operate in other Member States in accordance with the principles of freedom of establishment and freedom to provide services, provided that an appropriate notification procedure has been followed between the competent authorities.

- █ (18) In order to enhance transparency and facilitate cross-border trade, the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority ('EIOPA'), established by Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010 of the European Parliament and of Council¹ should establish, publish and keep up to date a single electronic database containing a record of each insurance and reinsurance intermediary which has notified an intention to exercise its freedom of establishment or to provide services. Member States should provide relevant information to EIOPA promptly to enable it to do this. This database should show a hyperlink to each relevant competent authority in each Member State. Each competent authority of each Member State should show on its website a hyperlink to this database.
- (19) The relative rights and responsibilities of home and host Member States in respect of the supervision of insurance and reinsurance intermediaries registered by them or carrying on insurance or reinsurance mediation activities within their territory in exercise of the rights of freedom of establishment or freedom to provide services, should be clearly established.

- (21) The inability of insurance intermediaries to operate freely throughout the Union hinders the proper functioning of the single market in insurance. This Directive is an important step towards an increased level of consumer protection and market integration within the internal market.
- (21a) An insurance or reinsurance intermediary carries on insurance mediation activities under the terms of freedom to provide services if he or she performs insurance or reinsurance mediation activities for a policy-holder or potential policy-holder resident or established in a Member State other than the Member State of origin of the intermediary, and each risk to be insured is located in a Member State other than the Member State of origin of the intermediary. An insurance or reinsurance intermediary carries on insurance or reinsurance mediation activities under the terms of freedom to provide services if it maintains a permanent presence in a Member State other than its Member State of origin.
- (22) It is important to guarantee a high level of professionalism and competence among insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and the employees of direct insurers who are involved in activities preparatory to, during and after the sales of insurance policies. Therefore, the professional knowledge of an intermediary and of the employees of direct insurers needs to match the level of complexity of these activities. Continuing education should be ensured. Issues of form, substance and required documentary evidence should be regulated by the Member States. Professional training organisations linked to the sector or belonging to an association should receive certification in that context.

- (22a) For employees of an intermediary who advise on or sell insurance investment products to retail customers, Member States should ensure that they possess an appropriate level of knowledge and competence in relation to the products offered. This is particularly important given the increased complexity and the continuous innovation in the design of insurance investment products. Buying an insurance investment product implies a risk and investors should be able to rely on the information and quality of assessments provided. It is furthermore necessary that employees are given adequate time and resources to be able to provide all relevant information to clients about the products that they provide.
- (23) The coordination of national provisions on professional requirements and registration of persons taking up and pursuing the activity of insurance or reinsurance mediation can contribute both to the completion of the single market for financial services and to the enhancement of customer protection in this field.
- (24) In order to enhance cross border trade, principles regulating mutual recognition of intermediaries' knowledge and abilities should be introduced.
- (25) A national qualification accredited to level 3 or above under the European Qualification Framework established under the Recommendation of the European Parliament and Council of 23 April 2008 on the establishment of the European Qualifications Framework for lifelong learning should be accepted by a host member state as demonstrating that an insurance or reinsurance intermediary meets the requirements of knowledge and ability which are a condition of registration in accordance with this Directive. This framework helps Member States, education institutions, employers and individuals compare qualifications across the Union's diverse education and training systems. This tool is essential for developing a employment market throughout the Union. This framework is not designed to replace national qualifications systems but to supplement the actions of the Member States by facilitating cooperation between them.
- (26) Despite the existing single passport systems for insurers and intermediaries, the European insurance market remains very fragmented. In order to facilitate cross-border business and enhance transparency for consumers, Member States shall ensure publication of the general good rules applicable in their territories, and a single electronic register and information on all Member States' general good rules applicable to insurance and reinsurance mediation should be made publicly available.
- (27) Cooperation and exchange of information between the competent authorities are essential in order to protect customers and ensure the soundness of insurance and reinsurance business in the single market.
- (28) There is a need for appropriate and effective out-of-court complaint and redress procedures in the Member States in order to settle disputes between insurance intermediaries or undertakings and customers, using, where appropriate, existing procedures. Effective out-of-court complaint and redress procedures should be available to deal with disputes concerning rights and obligations under this Directive between insurance undertakings or persons selling or offering insurance products and customers. In the case of alternative dispute resolution (ADR), the provisions of Directive

2013/11/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council¹ should be binding also for the purposes of this Directive. In order to enhance the effectiveness of out-of-court resolution of disputes procedures dealing with complaints submitted by customers, this Directive should provide that insurance undertakings or persons selling or offering insurance products have to participate in dispute resolution procedures, and the decisions which upon explicit request may be binding for the intermediary and the customer, instituted against themselves by customers and concerning rights and obligations established under this Directive. Such out-of-court resolution of disputes procedures would aim to achieve a quicker and less expensive settlement of disputes between insurance undertakings or persons selling or offering insurance products and customers and lightening of the burden on the court system.

Without prejudice to the right of customers to bring their action before the courts, Member States should ensure that ADR entities dealing with disputes referred to under this Directive cooperate in resolving cross-border disputes. Member States should encourage ADR entities dealing with such disputes to become part of the Financial Services Complaints Network (FIN-NET).

- (29) The expanding range of activities that many insurance intermediaries and undertakings carry on simultaneously has increased potential for conflicts of interest between those different activities and the interests of their customer. It is therefore necessary that Member States provide rules to ensure the interest of the customer are addressed.
- (30) Consumers should be provided in advance with clear information about the status of the persons who sell the insurance product. It would be worth considering introducing a mandatory status disclosure for European insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings. This information should be given to the consumer at the pre-contractual stage. Its role is to show the relationship between the insurance undertaking and the intermediary, where applicable.
- (31) In order to mitigate conflicts of interest between the seller and the buyer of an insurance product, it is necessary to ensure sufficient disclosure of remuneration of insurance distributors. The intermediary and the employee of the insurance intermediary or the insurance undertaking should be obliged to inform the customer, on request, about the nature and source of its remuneration in advance of the sale and, free of charge.
- (32) In order to provide a customer with comparable information on the insurance mediation services provided regardless of whether the customer purchases through an intermediary, or directly from an insurance undertaking, and to avoid the distortion of competition by encouraging insurance undertakings to sell direct to customers rather than via intermediaries in order to avoid information requirements, insurance undertakings should also be required to provide information about remuneration to customers with whom they deal directly in the provision of insurance mediation services about the remuneration they receive for the sale of insurance products. (32a) Where the cost of fees and inducements cannot be ascertained prior to the provision of the advice, then the manner of calculation must be disclosed in a comprehensive, accurate and understandable manner in the key services documents with the total aggregate cost and its impact on returns of the advice being disclosed to the client as soon as practically possible thereafter. Where investment advice is provided on an ongoing basis, disclosure as to the cost of investment advice, including inducements, must be provided on a periodic basis and at least annually. The periodic report shall disclose all inducements paid or received in the preceding period.

(32b) Any person selling insurance products, who is not the product manufacturer, should provide the retail investor in a separate key service document with details of their costs and services in accordance with this Directive and Directive 2014/.../EU [MiFID] as well as additional relevant information needed for the retail investor to assess the appropriateness of the of the insurance product for their needs which cannot be provided by the investment product manufacturer.

(32c) There is a benefit to consumers if insurance products are sold through various channels and intermediaries with different forms of cooperation with insurance undertakings provided they have to apply the same rules on consumer protection and transparency.

(33) As the current proposal aims to enhance consumer protection, some of its provisions are only applicable in "business to consumer" (B2C) relationships, especially those which regulate conduct of business rules of insurance intermediaries or of other sellers of insurance products.

I

(34a) Member States should require that remuneration policies of insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings in relation to their employees or representatives do not impair the ability to act in the best interests of customers. For employees who advise on or sell insurance investment products to customers, Member States should require that insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings ensure that their remuneration by the firm does not affect employees' impartiality in making a suitable recommendation or appropriate sale or presenting information in a form that is fair, clear and not misleading. Remuneration in such situations should not be solely dependent on sales targets or the profit to the firm from a specific product.

(35) It is important for the customer to know whether he/she is dealing with an intermediary who is advising the customer on products from a broad range of insurance undertakings or on products provided by a specific number of insurance undertakings.

(36) Due to the increasing dependence of consumers on personal recommendations, it is appropriate to include a definition of advice. The quality of advice is crucial and any advice should reflect the personal characteristics of the customer. Before advice is provided, the insurance intermediary or undertaking should assess the customer's needs, expectations and its financial situation. If the intermediary declares that it is giving advice on products from a broad range of insurance undertakings, it should carry out a fair and wide-ranging analysis of a sufficiently large number of insurance products available on the market. In addition, all insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings should explain the reasons underpinning their advice and recommend suitable insurance products according to the customer's preferences, needs, financial situation and personal circumstances.

- (37) Prior to the conclusion of a contract, including in the case of non-advised sales, the customer should be given the relevant information about the insurance product to allow the customer to make an informed decision. The insurance intermediary should explain to the customer the key features of the insurance products it sells and therefore its staff should be given appropriate resources and time to do so.
- (38) Uniform rules should be laid down in order to facilitate the choice of the medium in which mandatory information is provided to the customer allowing for use of electronic communications where it is appropriate having regard to the circumstances of the transaction. However, the customer should be given the option to receive it on paper. In the interest of consumer access to information, all pre-contractual information should be accessible free of charge.
- (39) There is less of a need to require that such information be disclosed when the customer is seeking reinsurance or insurance cover for commercial and industrial risks, or is a professional customer [...].
- (40) This Directive should specify the minimum obligations which insurance undertakings and insurance intermediaries should have in providing information to customers. A Member State should be able to in this area maintain or adopt more stringent provisions which may be imposed on insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings independently of the provisions of their home Member State where they are pursuing insurance mediation activities on its territory provided that any such more stringent provisions comply with Union law, including Directive 2000/31/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council¹. A Member State which proposes to apply and applies provisions regulating insurance intermediaries and the sale of insurance products in addition to those set out in this Directive should ensure that the administrative burden stemming from these provisions remains limited.
- (41) Cross-selling practices are a common and appropriate strategy for retail financial service providers throughout the Union.
- (42) Contracts of insurance that involve investments are often made available to customers as potential alternatives or substitutes to investment products subject to Directive 2014/.../EU [MiFID]. To deliver consistent investor protection and avoid the risk of regulatory arbitrage, it is important that retail investment products (insurance investment products as defined in the Regulation on key information documents for investment products) are subject to the same conduct of business standards: these include provision of appropriate information, requirements for advice to be suitable and restrictions on inducements, as well as requirements to manage conflicts of interest further restrictions on remuneration. The European Supervisory Authority (European Securities and Markets Authority) ('ESMA'), established by Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council² and EIOPA should work together to achieve as much consistency as possible in the conduct of business standards for retail investment products that are subject to either Directive 2014/.../EU [MiFID] or to this Directive through guidelines. The specificities of non-life insurance products should, however, be taken into account in those guidelines. Also, in line with the analogous principle in Directive 2014/.../EU [MIFID], an analogous regime for insurance undertakings, when implementing this Directive at national level, and in the joint committee's guidelines should be considered. For insurance investment products, there should be enhanced conduct of business standards that replace the standards of this Directive which are applicable to general insurance contracts [...]. Accordingly, persons carrying out insurance mediation in relation to insurance investment products should comply with the enhanced standards applicable to such products.

- (42a) This Directive lays down rules concerning the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation by natural and legal persons which are established in a Member State or which wish to be established there. Provisions of other Union instruments which depart from or supplement those rules should not apply to the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation.
- (43) In order to ensure compliance with the provisions of this Directive by insurance undertakings and persons who pursue insurance mediation, and to ensure that they are subject to similar treatment across the Union, Member States should be required to provide for administrative penalties and other measures which are effective, proportionate and dissuasive. A review of existing powers and their practical application has been carried out with the aim of promoting convergence of penalties and other measures in the Commission Communication of 8 December 2010 on reinforcing penalty regimes in the financial sector. Therefore, administrative penalties and other measures laid down by Member States should satisfy certain essential requirements in relation to addressees, criteria to be taken into account when applying a penalty or other measure, publication and key [...] powers to impose penalties.
- (44) In particular, the competent authorities should be empowered to impose pecuniary penalties which are sufficiently high to offset the benefits that can be expected and to be dissuasive even for larger institutions and their managers.
- (45) In order to ensure a consistent application of penalties across Member States, when determining the type of administrative penalties or other measures and the level of administrative pecuniary penalties, Member States should be required to ensure that the competent authorities take into account all relevant circumstances. Member States are however not obliged to provide for administrative penalties when national law provides for penalties within the criminal justice system.
- (46) In order to strengthen the dissuasive effect on the public at large and to inform about breaches of rules which may be detrimental to customer protection, penalties and measures imposed should be published, except in certain well-defined circumstances. In order to ensure compliance with the principle of proportionality, penalties and other measures imposed should be published on an anonymous basis where publication would cause a disproportionate damage to the parties involved.
- (47) In order to detect potential breaches, the competent authorities should have the necessary investigatory powers, and should establish effective mechanisms to encourage reporting of potential or actual breaches which provide appropriate protection for those who denounce such breaches. However this Directive does not imply that Member States have to give administrative authorities the power to conduct criminal investigations.

- (48) This Directive should refer to both administrative penalties and other measures irrespective of their qualification as a penalty or other a measure under national law.
- (49) This Directive should be without prejudice to any provisions in the laws of Member States in respect of criminal offences.
- (49a) Whistleblowers bring new information to the attention of competent authorities which assists them in detecting and penalising cases of insider dealing and market manipulation. However, whistleblowing may be deterred for fear of retaliation, or for lack of adequate procedures for reporting breaches. This Directive should therefore ensure that adequate arrangements are in place to encourage whistleblowers to alert competent authorities to possible breaches of this Directive and to protect them from retaliation. Member States should also ensure that whistleblowing schemes they implement include mechanisms that provide appropriate protection of a reported person, particularly with regard the right to the protection of personal data and procedures to ensure the rights of the defence of the reported person and the right to be heard before the adoption of a decision concerning that person as well as the right to seek effective remedy before a court against a decision concerning that person.
- (50) In order to attain the objectives set out in this Directive, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ■ management of conflicts of interest, conduct of business obligations in relation to insurance packaged retail investment products and procedures and forms for submitting information in relation to penalties. It is of particular importance that the Commission carries out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level. The Commission, when preparing and drawing up delegated acts, should ensure a simultaneous, timely and appropriate transmission of relevant documents to the European Parliament and to the Council
- (51) Technical standards in financial services should ensure consistent harmonisation and adequate protection of consumers across the Union. As EIOPA is a body with highly specialised expertise, but limited capacities, it could be entrusted solely with the elaboration of draft proposals which do not necessitate policy choices, for submission to the European Parliament and to the Commission.
- (52) By means of delegated acts pursuant to Articles 290 and 291 of the TFEU and in accordance with Articles 10 to 15 of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010 [...], the Commission should adopt delegated acts as set out in this Directive regarding management of conflicts of interest, regarding conduct of business obligations in relation to insurance packaged retail investment products as well as implementing technical standards and regarding procedures and forms for submitting information in relation to penalties. These delegated acts and implementing technical standards should be developed in draft by EIOPA.

- (53) Directive 95/46 of the European Parliament and of the Council [...] ¹ and Regulation (EU) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council [...] ² shall govern the processing of personal data carried out by EIOPA within the framework of this Regulation, under the supervision of the European Data Protection Supervisor.
- (54) This Directive respects the fundamental rights and observes the principles recognised in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, as enshrined in the Treaty.
- (55) In accordance with the Joint Political Declaration of Member States and the Commission on explanatory documents of 28 September 2011 ³, Member States have undertaken to accompany, in justified cases, the notification of their transposition measures with one or more documents explaining the relationship between the components of a directive and the corresponding parts of national transposition instruments. With regard to this Directive, the legislator considers the transmission of such documents to be justified.
- (55a) *The supervisory authorities of the Member States should have at their disposal all means necessary to ensure the orderly pursuit of business by insurance intermediaries and reinsurance undertakings throughout the Union, whether pursued in accordance with the right of establishment or the freedom to provide services. In order to ensure the effectiveness of the supervision all actions taken by the supervisory authorities should be proportionate to the nature, scale and complexity of the risks inherent in the business of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, regardless of the importance of the undertaking concerned for the overall financial stability of the market.
- (55b) *This Directive should not be too burdensome for small and medium-sized insurance undertakings. One of the tools by which to achieve that objective is the proper application of the proportionality principle. That principle should apply both to the requirements imposed on the insurance and reinsurance undertakings and to the exercise of supervisory powers.
- (56) A review of this Directive should be carried out three years after the date on which this Directive enters into force in order to take account of market developments as well as developments in other areas of Union law or Member States experiences in implementation of Union law, in particular with regard to products covered by Directive 2003/41/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council ⁴.

CHAPTER I

SCOPE AND DEFINITIONS

Article 1 Scope

1. This Directive lays down rules concerning the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation, ■ by natural and legal persons which are established in a Member State or which wish to be established there.
2. This Directive shall not apply to persons providing mediation services for insurance contracts if all the following conditions are met:
 - (a) the insurance contract only requires knowledge of the insurance cover that is provided;
 - (b) the insurance contract is not a life assurance contract;
 - (c) the insurance contract does not cover any liability risks;
 - (d) the principal professional activity of the person is other than insurance mediation.
 - (e) the insurance is complementary to the supply of goods or provision of a service by any provider, where such insurance covers the risk of breakdown, loss or theft of or damage to the goods supplied by that provider;
 - (f) the amount of the annual premium for the insurance contract, when pro-rated to produce an annual amount, does not exceed EUR 600.
3. This Directive shall not apply to insurance and reinsurance mediation services provided in relation to risks and commitments located outside the Union.

This Directive shall not affect a Member State's law in respect of insurance and reinsurance mediation business pursued by insurance and reinsurance undertakings or intermediaries established in a third country and operating on its territory under the principle of freedom to provide services, provided that equal treatment is guaranteed to all persons carrying out or authorised to carry out insurance and reinsurance mediation activities on that market.

This Directive shall not regulate insurance or reinsurance mediation activities carried out in third countries.

Member States shall inform the Commission of any general difficulties which their insurance intermediaries encounter in establishing themselves or carrying out insurance mediation activities in any third country.

- 3a. This Directive shall ensure that the same level of protection applies and that the consumer can benefit from comparable standards. This Directive shall promote a level playing field and competition on equal terms between intermediaries whether or not they are tied to an insurance undertaking. There is a benefit to consumers if insurance products are mediated through various channels and intermediaries with different forms of cooperation with insurance undertakings provided that they have to apply the similar rules on consumer protection. This shall be taken into account by the Member States in the implementation of this Directive.

REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS

Article 3 Registration

1. Except as provided in Article 4, insurance and reinsurance intermediaries shall be registered with a competent authority as referred to in Article 10(2), in their home Member State. Insurance and reinsurance undertakings registered in Member States under *Council Directive 73/239/EEC*¹, *Directive 2002/83/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council*² and *Directive 2005/68/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council*³ and their employees shall not be required to register again under this Directive.

Without prejudice to the first subparagraph, Member States may stipulate that insurance and reinsurance undertakings and other bodies may cooperate with the competent authorities in registering insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and in the application of the requirements of Article 8 to such intermediaries. In particular, in the case of tied insurance intermediaries, they may be registered by an insurance undertaking by an association of insurance undertakings, or by an insurance or reinsurance intermediary under the supervision of a competent authority.

Member States may stipulate that, where an insurance or reinsurance intermediary acts under the responsibility of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or intermediary, the insurance intermediary shall not be required to provide the competent authority with the information in Article 3(7)(a) and (b) and the insurance entity responsible shall ensure that the insurance intermediary meets the conditions for registration and other provisions set out in this Directive. Member States may also stipulate that the person or entity which takes responsibility for the intermediary shall register that intermediary.

Member States need not apply the requirement referred to in the first and second subparagraphs to all the natural persons who work in an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or a registered insurance or reinsurance intermediary and who pursue the activity of insurance or reinsurance mediation.

Member States shall ensure the registration of legal persons and shall also specify in the register the names of the natural persons within the management who are responsible for the mediation business.

2. Member States may establish more than one register for insurance and reinsurance intermediaries provided that they lay down the criteria according to which intermediaries are to be registered.

Member States shall establish an online registration system consisting of one single registration form available on an internet website, which should be easily accessible for insurance intermediaries and undertakings, and allowing the form to be completed directly online.

3. Member States shall see to it that a single information point is established allowing quick and easy access to information from these various registers, which shall be compiled electronically and kept constantly updated. This information point shall also provide the identification details of the competent authorities of each Member State referred to in paragraph 1, first subparagraph. The register shall indicate further the country or countries in which the intermediary conducts business under the rules on the freedom of establishment or on the freedom to provide services.
4. EIOPA shall establish, publish on its website and keep up-to-date a single electronic register containing records of insurance and reinsurance intermediaries which have notified their intention to carry on cross-border business in accordance with Chapter IV. That register shall contain links to, and be accessible from, each of the Member States' competent authorities' websites. EIOPA shall have right of access to the data stored there. EIOPA and the competent authorities shall have the right to modify this data. Member States shall also ensure that insurance intermediaries, including tied ones, and reinsurance intermediaries who cease to fulfil these requirements are immediately removed from the register. The validity of the registration shall be subject to a regular review by the competent authority. If necessary, the home Member State shall inform the host Member State of such removal.

5. Member States shall ensure that the competent authorities do not register an insurance or reinsurance intermediary unless that the intermediary meets the requirements laid down in Article 8, or that another intermediary or undertaking will take responsibility for ensuring that the intermediary meets these requirements in accordance with subparagraph 3 of Article 3(1).

5a. Registered insurance and reinsurance intermediaries shall be allowed to take up and pursue the activity of insurance and reinsurance mediation in the Union by means of both freedom of establishment and freedom to provide services.

An insurance intermediary is operating under Freedom to provide services if it intends to supply a policyholder, who is established in a Member State different from the one where the insurance intermediary is established, with an insurance contract relating to a risk situated in a Member States different from the Member State where the insurance intermediary is established.

The competent authorities may provide the insurance and reinsurance intermediaries with a document enabling any interested party by consultation of any of the registers referred to in paragraph 2 to verify that they are duly registered.

That document shall at least provide the information specified in Article 16(a) (i) and (iii) and (b)(i) and (iii), and, in the case of a legal person, the name(s) of the natural person(s) referred to in the fourth subparagraph of paragraph 1 of this Article.

6. Member States shall provide that applications by intermediaries for inclusion in the register shall be treated within two months of the submission of a complete application, and that the applicant shall be notified promptly of the decision.

Member States shall ensure that the competent authorities have in place appropriate measures enabling them to monitor whether insurance and reinsurance intermediaries continue to meet the registration requirements of this Directive at all times.

7. Member States shall ensure that their competent authorities request evidence of the following as a condition of registration from insurance and reinsurance intermediaries other than for tied intermediaries and intermediaries where another insurance entity takes responsibility for ensuring that the intermediary meets these requirements in accordance with subparagraph 3 of Article 3(1).

- (a) to provide information to their competent authorities of the identities of shareholders or members, whether natural or legal persons, that have a holding in the intermediary that exceeds 10% and the amounts of those holdings;
- (b) to provide information to their competent authorities of the identities of persons who have close links with the insurance or reinsurance intermediary;
- (c) to demonstrate in a satisfactory manner that the holdings or close links do not prevent the effective exercise of the supervisory functions of the competent authority.

Member States shall ensure that their competent authorities require that insurance and reinsurance intermediaries to whom Article 3(7) applies inform them without undue delay where information provided under Article 3(7)(a) and (b) changes.

8. Member States shall ensure that the competent authorities refuse registration if the laws, regulations or administrative provisions of a third country governing one or more natural or legal persons with which the insurance or reinsurance intermediary has close links, or difficulties involved in the enforcement of those laws, regulations or administrative provisions, prevent the effective exercise of their supervisory functions.
- 8a. Member States may provide that those persons who exercised a mediation activity before 1 January 2014, who were entered in a register and who had a level of training and experience similar to that required by this Directive, shall be automatically entered in the register to be created, once the requirements set down in Article 4(3) and (4) are complied with.

Professional and organisational requirements

1. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries, and members of staff of insurance undertakings carrying out insurance mediation activities, shall possess appropriate knowledge and ability, as determined by the home Member State of the intermediary or undertaking, to complete their tasks and perform their duties adequately.

Member States shall ensure that members of staff of insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings, which pursue insurance mediation as principal professional activity, regularly update their knowledge and ability appropriate to the function they are performing and the relevant market.

To ensure that these provisions are complied with a continuing professional development and sufficient and appropriate training to their staff of at least 200 hours in a five-year period, or a proportional number of hours where it is not their principal activity, needs to be fulfilled. Member States shall also make public the criteria they have established in order for staff to meet their competence requirements. Such criteria shall include a list of any qualifications they recognise.

To that end, Member States shall have in place mechanisms to control, assess, and certify the knowledge and skills through independent bodies.

Member States shall adjust the required conditions with regard to knowledge and ability in line with the particular activity of insurance or reinsurance mediation and the products mediated, particularly if the principal professional activity of the intermediary is other than insurance mediation. Member States may provide that in the cases referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 3(1) and with regard to the employees of insurance companies engaged in insurance mediation, the insurance undertaking or intermediary shall verify that the knowledge and ability of the intermediaries are in conformity with the obligations set out in the first subparagraph of this paragraph and, if need be, shall provide such intermediaries with training which corresponds to the requirements concerning the products sold by the intermediaries.

Member States need not apply the requirement referred to in the first subparagraph of this paragraph to all the natural persons working in an insurance undertaking or insurance or reinsurance intermediary who pursue the activity of insurance or reinsurance mediation. Member States shall ensure that a reasonable proportion of the persons within the management structure of such undertakings who are responsible for mediation in respect of insurance and reinsurance products and all other persons directly involved in insurance or reinsurance mediation demonstrate the knowledge and ability necessary for the performance of their duties.

2. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and members of staff of insurance undertakings carrying out insurance mediation activities shall be of good repute. As a minimum, those directly involved in the marketing or selling of the product shall have a clean police record or any other national equivalent in relation to serious criminal offences linked to crimes against property or other crimes related to financial activities.

Member States may, in accordance with the provisions of the second subparagraph of Article 3(1), allow the insurance undertaking to check the good repute of insurance intermediaries.

Member States need not apply the requirement referred to in the first subparagraph of this paragraph to all the natural persons who work in an insurance undertaking or insurance and reinsurance intermediary and who pursue the activity of insurance and reinsurance mediation. Member States shall ensure that the management structure of such undertakings and any staff directly involved in insurance or reinsurance mediation fulfil that requirement.

3. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries shall hold professional indemnity insurance covering the whole territory of the Union or some other comparable guarantee against liability arising from professional negligence, for at least EUR 1 250 000 applying to each claim and in aggregate EUR 1 850 000 per year for all claims, unless such insurance or comparable guarantee is already provided by an insurance undertaking, reinsurance undertaking or other undertaking on whose behalf the insurance or reinsurance intermediary is acting or for which the insurance or reinsurance intermediary is empowered to act or such undertaking has taken on full responsibility for the intermediary's actions.

When providing advice, the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking shall, before the insurance-based investment product is arranged with the customer, provide the customer with a statement in a durable medium on suitability specifying the advice given and how that advice meets the preferences, objectives and other characteristics of the customer.

Where the agreement is concluded using a means of distance communication which prevents the prior delivery of the suitability assessment, the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking can provide the written statement on suitability in a durable medium immediately after the customer is bound by any agreement.

5. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 33 to specify the principles with which insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings must comply ■ when carrying out insurance mediation activities to their customers. Those delegated acts shall take into account:
 - (a) the nature of the services offered or provided to the customer or potential customer, taking into account the type, object, size and frequency of the transactions;
 - (b) the nature of the products being offered or considered, including different types of financial instruments and banking deposits referred to in Article 1(2) of Directive .../.../EU [MiFID];
 - (ba) the retail or professional nature of the customer or potential customer.
- 5a. EIOPA shall develop by ... [OJ please insert date: 18 months after the date of entry into force of this Directive], and update periodically, guidelines for the assessment of insurance-based investment products incorporating a structure which makes it difficult for the customer to understand the risk involved in accordance with paragraph 3(a).*

PENALTIES AND OTHER MEASURES

Article 26

Administrative penalties and other measures

1. Member States shall ensure that their administrative penalties and other measures are effective, proportionate and dissuasive.
2. Member States shall ensure that where obligations apply to insurance or reinsurance undertakings or insurance or reinsurance intermediaries, in case of a breach, administrative penalties and other measures can be applied to the members of their management body, and any other natural or legal persons who, under national law, are responsible for a breach.
3. The competent authorities shall be given all investigatory powers that are necessary for the exercise of their functions. In the exercise of their [...] powers to impose penalties, the competent authorities shall cooperate closely to ensure that penalties or other measures produce the desired results and coordinate their action when dealing with cross border cases, while ensuring that conditions are met for legitimate data processing in accordance with Directive 95/46/EC and Regulation (EC) No 45/2001. The competent authorities may request documents or other information under a formal decision, which shall indicate the legal basis for the request for information, the deadline for compliance and the right of the recipient to seek a judicial review of the decision.

Article 26a

Specific penalties

1. In accordance with Article 9(2) of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010, EIOPA shall monitor the insurance and reinsurance products which are marketed, distributed or sold in the Union and may proactively investigate new insurance and reinsurance products or financial instruments before they are marketed, distributed or sold in the Union in cooperation with the competent authorities. EIOPA shall also monitor the other financial activities and practices, including investment activities, of the insurance and reinsurance undertakings.
2. In accordance with Article 9(5) of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010, EIOPA may, where it is satisfied on reasonable grounds that the conditions in paragraphs 3 and 4 are fulfilled, temporarily prohibit or restrict in the Union:
 - (a) the marketing, distribution or sale of certain specified insurance and reinsurance products, including health insurance and insurance investment products with certain specified features; or
 - (b) a type of financial activity or practice, including investment activity, of insurance or reinsurance undertakings.

A prohibition or restriction may apply in circumstances, or be subject to exceptions, specified by EIOPA.

3. EIOPA shall take a decision under paragraph 2 only if all of the following conditions are fulfilled:
 - (a) the proposed action addresses a significant threat to the protection of policy holders or beneficiaries or to the orderly functioning and integrity of financial markets or to the stability of the whole or part of the financial system in the Union;
 - (b) regulatory requirements under Union law that are applicable to the relevant insurance or reinsurance product, financial instrument or activity do not address the threat;
 - (c) a competent authority or competent authorities have not taken action to address the threat or actions that have been taken do not adequately address the threat.

Where the conditions set out in the first subparagraph are fulfilled, EIOPA may impose the prohibition or restriction referred to in paragraph 2 on a precautionary basis before an insurance or reinsurance product has been marketed or sold to policy holders or a financial activity or practice is carried out.

4. When taking action under this Article EIOPA shall take into account the extent to which the action:
 - (a) does not have a detrimental effect on the efficiency of financial markets or on policyholders and beneficiaries that is disproportionate to the benefits of the action; and
 - (b) does not create a risk of regulatory arbitrage.

Where a competent authority or competent authorities have taken a measure under Article 32, EIOPA may take any of the measures referred to in paragraph 2 without issuing the opinion provided for in Article 33.

5. Before deciding to take any action under this Article, EIOPA shall notify competent authorities of the action it proposes.
6. Before taking a decision under paragraph 2, EIOPA shall give notice of its intention to prohibit or restrict an insurance or reinsurance product or a financial activity or practice unless certain changes are made to features of the insurance or reinsurance product or financial activity or practice within a specified timescale.
7. EIOPA shall publish on its website notice of any decision to take any action under this Article. The notice shall specify details of the prohibition or restriction and a time after the publication of the notice from which the measures will take effect. A prohibition or restriction shall only apply to action taken after the measures take effect.

8. EIOPA shall review a prohibition or restriction imposed under paragraph 2 at appropriate intervals and at least every twelve months. If the prohibition or restriction is not renewed after that twelve-month period it shall expire.
9. Action adopted by EIOPA under this Article shall prevail over any previous action taken by a competent authority.
10. The Commission shall adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 41 specifying criteria and factors to be taken into account by EIOPA in determining when the threats to investor protection or to the orderly functioning and integrity of financial markets and to the stability of the whole or part of the financial system of the Union referred to in paragraph 3(a) arise. Those delegated acts shall ensure that EIOPA is able to act, where appropriate, on a precautionary basis and shall not be required to wait until the product has been marketed or the type of activity or practice has been undertaken before taking action.

Article 27

Publication of penalties

Member States shall provide that the competent authority publishes any penalty or other measure that has been imposed for breaches of the provisions of the national provisions adopted in the implementation of this Directive ■ including information on the type and nature of the breach and the identity of persons responsible for it, only if the penalty or other measure has become final and is not subject to appeal or judicial review. ANNEX II

EXPLANATORY DOCUMENTS

In accordance with the Joint Political Declaration of Member States and the Commission on explanatory documents of 28 September 2011, Member States have undertaken to accompany, in justified cases, the notification of their transposition measures with one or more documents explaining the relationship between the components of a directive and the corresponding parts of national transposition instruments.

With regard to this Directive, the Commission considers the transmission of such documents to be justified for the following reasons:

Complexity of the Directive and of the sector concerned:

The field of insurance and distribution of insurance products is particularly complicated and can be very technical from the point of view of professionals who are not specialised in it. In the absence of well-structured explanatory documents, the task of overseeing the transposition would be disproportionately time-consuming. The current proposal represents a review where the text of the Insurance Mediation Directives (IMD) was recasted. Even though many of the provisions have not changed as to their substance, a number of new provisions have been introduced, and a number of existing provisions have been revised or deleted. The structure, form, and presentation of the texts are completely new. The new structure has been necessary to give a clearer and more logical order to the legal provisions but it will result in the need for a structured approach during the transposition supervision.

Some of the provisions of the proposed Directive may potentially have an impact on a number of areas of the national legal order such as the company, commercial or tax law or other legislative areas in the Member States. It may also affect secondary national law including Acts and general conduct of business rules for Financial or Insurance Intermediaries. The interrelation of matters with all these neighbouring fields may mean, depending on the system in the Member States, that some provisions are implemented by means of new or already existing rules from those fields, a clear view of which should be available.

Consistency and interrelation with other initiatives:

The current proposal is tabled for adoption as part of a 'Consumer Retail Package' together with the PRIPs proposal on product disclosures (Regulation on key information documents on investment products and amending Directives 2003/71/EC and 2009/65/EC) and UCITS V. The PRIPs initiative aims at ensuring a coherent horizontal approach to product disclosure with regard to investment products and insurance products with investment elements (so-called insurance investments), and provisions on selling practices will be included in the revisions of the IMD and MiFID (Markets in Financial Instruments Directive). The proposal is furthermore consistent with, and complementary to, other EU legislation and policies, particularly in the areas of consumer protection, investor protection and prudential supervision, such as Solvency II (Directive 2009/138/EC), MiFID II (the recast of MiFID), and the above mentioned PRIPs initiative.

The new IMD would continue to have the features of a "minimum harmonisation" legal instrument. This means that Member States may decide to go further if necessary for the purposes of consumer protection. However, the minimum standards of IMD will be raised significantly. ■ Moreover, a revision clause is considered in the directive and, in order to be able to collect all relevant information on the functioning of those rules, the Commission will need to be able to monitor their implementation from the outset.

Chapter on insurance investment: The text of the proposal features a Chapter introducing additional customer protection requirements in relation to insurance investment products.

There is a strong political will to put such provisions in place but, at the same time, there is very little experience as this is a new area. Therefore, it is of high importance that the Commission receives transposition documents on how the Member States have given effect to such provisions.

The specificities of non-life insurance products must however be taken into account in the Level 2 guidelines. In line with the analogous principle in MIFID II Article 3, there should be considered an analogous regime for insurances when implementing the Directive at national level and in the joint committee's guidelines. Persons carrying out insurance mediation in relation to insurance investment products should comply with the conduct standards applicable to all insurance contracts as well as to the enhanced standards applicable to insurance investment products. Anyone intermediating in insurance investment products must be registered as an insurance intermediary.

Low estimated additional administrative burden stemming from requesting explanatory documents from Member States: As mentioned above, the current text has been in place since 2002 (when the original Directive was adopted). Therefore, it will not be burdensome for Member States to notify their implementing provisions as they have normally been notifying most of them for quite some time already. The estimated low additional administrative burden of requesting explanatory documents from Member States regarding the new parts of the Directive is proportionate and necessary for the Commission to carry out its task of overseeing the application of Union law.

On the basis of the above, the Commission believes that the requirement to provide explanatory documents in the case of the proposed Directive is proportionate and does not go beyond what is necessary to achieve the objective to carry out efficiently the task of overseeing accurate transposition.

Subject: Proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on insurance mediation (recast)
(COM(2012)0360 – C7-0180/2012 – 2012/0175(COD))

Dear Chairman,

The Committee on Legal Affairs, which I am honoured to chair, has examined the proposal referred to above, pursuant to Rule 87 on Recasting, as introduced into the Parliament's Rules of Procedure.

Paragraph 3 of that Rule reads as follows:

"If the committee responsible for legal affairs considers that the proposal does not entail any substantive changes other than those identified as such in the proposal, it shall inform the committee responsible.

In such a case, over and above the conditions laid down in Rules 156 and 157, amendments shall be admissible within the committee responsible only if they concern those parts of the proposal which contain changes.

However, if in accordance with point 8 of the Interinstitutional Agreement, the committee responsible intends also to submit amendments to the codified parts of the proposal, it shall immediately notify its intention to the Council and to the Commission, and the latter should inform the committee, prior to the vote pursuant to Rule 54, of its position on the amendments and whether or not it intends to withdraw the recast proposal."

Following the opinion of the Legal Service, whose representatives participated in the meetings of the Consultative Working Party examining the recast proposal, and in keeping with the recommendations of the draftsman, the Committee on Legal Affairs considers that the proposal in question does not include any substantive changes other than those identified as such in the proposal and that, as regards the codification of the unchanged provisions of the earlier acts with those changes, the proposal contains a straightforward codification of the existing texts, without any change in their substance.

In conclusion, after discussing it at its meeting of 6 November 2012, the Committee on Legal Affairs, by 23 votes in favour and no abstentions¹, recommends that your Committee, as the committee responsible, proceed to examine the above proposal in accordance with Rule 87.

Yours faithfully,

Klaus-Heiner LEHNE

THE COUNCIL
THE COMMISSION

Proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on insurance mediation
COM(2012)360 of 3.7.2012 – 2012/0175(COD)

Having regard to the Inter-institutional Agreement of 28 November 2001 on a more structured use of the recasting technique for legal acts, and in particular to point 9 thereof, the Consultative Working Party consisting of the respective legal services of the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission met on 23 July 2012 for the purpose of examining, among others, the aforementioned proposal submitted by the Commission.

At that meeting¹, an examination of the proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council recasting Directive 2002/92/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 December 2002 on insurance mediation resulted in the Consultative Working Party's establishing, by common accord, as follows:

1) As far as the explanatory memorandum is concerned, in order to be drafted in full compliance with the relevant requirements laid down by the Inter-institutional Agreement such a document should have specified which provisions of the earlier act remain unchanged in the proposal, as is provided for under point 6(a)(iii) of that agreement.

2) In the draft recast text, the following proposed changes should have been identified with the grey-shaded type generally used for marking substantive changes:

- in Article 1(2)(e), the deletion of the words "or service";

¹ The Consultative Working Party had at its disposal the English, French and German language versions of the proposal and worked on the basis of the English version, being the master-copy language version of the text under discussion.

- in Article 1(2)(f), the replacement of the figure "500" with "600";
- in Article 8(3), the replacement of the figure "1000000" with "1,120,000", and that of the figure "1500000" with "1,680,000";
- in Article 8(4)(b), the replacement of the figure "15000" with "16800";
- in Article 13(1), introductory wording, the replacement of the word "encourage" with "ensure";
- in Article 13(2), the replacement of the words "encourage these bodies to cooperate" with the words "ensure that these bodies cooperate";
- in Article 17(1)(c)(ii), the deletion of the words "at the customer's request".

3) The existing wordings of point 11 of Article 2 and of paragraph 2 of Article 13 of Directive 2002/92/EC should have been present in the draft recast text, and should have been identified by using the sign composed of a double strikethrough and a grey-shaded type which is generally used for marking substantive changes consisting of deletions of existing texts.

4) In order to comply with all the requirements laid down in point 7(b) of the Inter-institutional Agreement, the wording of the second paragraph of Article 37 should be completed with the final words "and shall be read in accordance with the correlation table in Annex III" and a correlation table should be annexed to the recast act as a new Annex III.

In consequence, examination of the proposal has enabled the Consultative Working Party to conclude, without dissent, that the proposal does not comprise any substantive amendments other than those identified as such therein or in the present opinion. The Working Party also concluded, as regards the codification of the unchanged provisions of the earlier act with those substantive amendments, that the proposal contains a straightforward codification of the existing text, without any change in its substance.

OPINION OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE INTERNAL MARKET AND CONSUMER PROTECTION for the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs on the proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on insurance mediation (recast)

(COM(2012)0360 – C7-0180/2012 – 2012/0175(COD))

Rapporteur: Catherine Stihler

SHORT JUSTIFICATION

The collapse in consumer confidence since the financial crisis extends further than retail banking, to the sale of insurance products. Insurance mediators are valuable assets to the sector, bringing a depth of knowledge that consumers have become reliant upon. This reliance brings with it risks, and has exposed a number of shortcomings which this revision seeks to address. IMD I set a benchmark for protecting consumers and clarifying what responsibilities Member States must take, designed to ensure a high level of professionalism and competence among insurance intermediaries. Since then, when Parliament was working on Solvency II there were indications of potential market failure in respect of insurance brokerage and Parliament called for a review of IMD I. To assist with the revision, PWC conducted a study¹, and an impact assessment² was commissioned.

The recast Commission proposal is a good starting point. Insurance products are exceptionally complicated for consumers who do not deal with contracts regularly. Insurance plays an important role at times when consumers are at their most vulnerable and in need and rely on intermediaries following clear and fair rules. It therefore falls to European legislators to ensure that the shortcomings from IMD I and those exposed by the global financial crisis are addressed.

That's why, in my opinion, I want to draw focus to the following areas for the lead Committee

¹ Study on the impact of the revision of the Insurance Mediation Directive (ETD/2007/IM/B2/51) final report;

http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/insurance/docs/mediation/imd_final_en.pdf

² Commission staff working document Impact Assessment accompanying the document Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on Insurance Mediation

http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/insurance/docs/consumers/mediation/20120703-impact-assessment_en.pdf

on Economic and Monetary Affairs:

- Tying and bundling have been clarified so that the products which European consumers value highly are explicitly protected, whilst poor selling practices will cease to operate. Tying will not be allowed because it has been abused in the past and the benefits to consumers are not significant enough to justify the risk.
- Remuneration rules have been reformed so that the best interest of the consumer is always what motivates the mediator's advice. Thresholds on claims and targets for sales of particular contracts will no longer be a factor that consumers have to consider. The burden of disclosure will fall on the intermediary to voluntarily disclose rather than the consumer having to make a request.
- Geographical scope is clearer to allow sales between intermediaries registered within the single market, and those outside the internal market. The objective is to give legal clarity, avoiding unnecessary doubt.
- The scope of the directive has been extended so that price comparison websites have increased duties, putting them in line with office based intermediaries.

AMENDMENTS

The Committee on the Internal Market and Consumer Protection calls on the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs, as the committee responsible, to incorporate the following amendments in its report:

Such out-of court resolution of disputes procedures would aim to achieve a quicker and less expensive settlement of disputes between insurance undertakings or persons selling or offering insurance products and customers and lightening of the burden on the court system. Justification

See justification for Article 17.

Amendment 3

Proposal for a directive

Recital 40

Text proposed by the Commission

(40) This Directive should specify the minimum obligations which insurance undertakings and insurance intermediaries should have in providing information to customers. A Member State should be able to in this area maintain or adopt more stringent provisions of their home Member State where they are pursuing insurance mediation activities on its territory provided that any such more stringent provisions comply with Union law, including Directive 2000/31/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2000 on certain legal aspects of information society services, in particular electronic commerce, in the Internal Market (Directive on electronic commerce). A Member State which proposes to apply and applies provisions regulating insurance intermediaries and the sale of insurance products in addition to those set out in this Directive should ensure that the administrative burden stemming from these provisions is proportionate for consumer protection. In the interest of consumer protection and in order to prevent mis-selling of insurance products, Member States should be permitted to apply exceptionally the more stringent requirements to such insurance intermediaries conducting insurance mediation on an ancillary basis if they consider it necessary and proportionate.

In the interest of consumer protection and in order to prevent mis-selling of insurance products, Member States should be permitted to apply the more stringent requirements to such insurance intermediaries conducting insurance mediation on an ancillary basis if they consider it necessary and proportionate.

Justification

Member States should be allowed to apply more stringent rules where they see fit, due to the heterogeneously structured European insurance market.

Amendment 4 Proposal for a directive

Article 1 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

1. This Directive lays down rules concerning the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation, including professional management of claims and loss adjusting, by natural and legal persons which are established in a Member State or which wish to be established there.

Amendment

1. This Directive lays down rules concerning the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation, by natural and legal persons which are established in a Member State or which wish to be established there.

Justification

Extending the scope to include loss adjustment and expert services causes serious concern because it introduces into the distribution of insurance products a fresh series of occupations which are not, by their professional nature, relevant to the activity which is being regulated.

Amendment 5 Proposal for a directive

Article 1 – paragraph 2 – point f

Text proposed by the Commission

(f) the amount of the annual premium for the insurance contract, when pro-rated to produce an annual amount, does not exceed EUR 600.

Amendment

(f) the amount of the annual premium for the insurance contract, when pro-rated to produce an annual amount, does not exceed EUR 600.

EIOPA shall review the amount referred to in point (f) of paragraph 2 regularly in order to take account of changes in the European Index of Consumer Prices as published by Eurostat. The first review shall take place five years after the entry into force of this Directive and the successive reviews every five years after the previous review date.

EIOPA shall develop draft regulatory standards which adapt the base amount in euro referred to in point (f) of paragraph 2 by the percentage change in that Index over the period between the entry into force of this Directive and the first review date or between the last review date and the new review date and rounded up to the nearest euro.

EIOPA shall submit those draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission five years after the entry into force of this Directive and the successive reviews every five years after the previous review date.

Power is conferred on the Commission to adopt the implementing technical standards referred to in the first subparagraph in accordance with Article 15 of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010.

Amendment 6

Proposal for a directive Article 2 – point 3

Text proposed by the Commission

3. 'insurance mediation' means the activities of advising on, proposing or carrying out other work preparatory to the conclusion of contracts of insurance, concluding such contracts or assisting in the administration and performance of such contracts, in particular in the event of a claim, and the activity of professional management of claims and loss adjusting. These activities shall be considered to be insurance mediation also if carried on by an insurance undertaking without the intervention of an insurance intermediary.

Amendment

3. 'insurance mediation' means the activities of advising on, proposing or carrying out other work preparatory to the conclusion of contracts of insurance, concluding such contracts or assisting in the administration and performance of such contracts, in particular in the event of a claim. These activities shall be considered to be insurance mediation also if carried on by an insurance undertaking without the intervention of an insurance intermediary. Comparing information regarding insurance products and prices on a commercial basis on a website should be considered as insurance intermediation.

Justification

It must be made clear that this paragraph applies to insurance comparison websites.

Amendment 7
Proposal for a directive

Article 2 – point 6 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

6a. In order to guarantee that the same level of protection applies and that the consumer can benefit from comparable standards it is essential that this Directive promotes a level playing field and competition on equal terms between intermediaries whether they tied to an insurance undertaking or not. There is a benefit to consumers if insurance products are mediated through various channels and intermediaries with different forms of cooperation with insurance undertakings provided they have to apply the same rules on consumer protection. It is important that these aspects are taken into account by the Member States in the implementation of this Directive.

Amendment 8
Proposal for a directive

Article 2 – point 8

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

8 ‘tied insurance intermediary’ means any person who carries on the activity of insurance mediation for and on behalf of one or more insurance undertakings or insurance intermediaries, and who acts under the full responsibility of those insurance undertakings or insurance intermediaries, provided that the insurance intermediaries under whose responsibility the person acts do not themselves act under the responsibility of another insurance undertaking or intermediary;

8 ‘tied insurance intermediary’ means any person who carries on the activity of insurance mediation for and on behalf of one or more insurance undertakings or insurance intermediaries, and who acts under the full responsibility of those insurance undertakings or insurance intermediaries;

Justification

An intermediary is tied regardless of the capacity of the entity to which it is tied. The term also needs to be streamlined with the definition provided in previous legislation, such as in the proposed wording of the Proposal for a Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on credit agreements relating to residential property, COM(2011) 142 final (CARRP).

Amendment 9

Proposal for a directive Article 2 – point 9

Text proposed by the Commission

9. 'advice' means the provision of a recommendation to a customer, either upon their request or at the initiative of the insurance undertaking or the insurance intermediary;

Amendment

9. 'advice' means the provision of a personal recommendation to a customer, either upon their request or at the initiative of the insurance undertaking or the insurance intermediary;

Justification

Alignment with the definition used in CARP and MiFID. This is also to differentiate between what is information and what is advice.

Amendment 10 Proposal for a directive

Article 2 – point 10

Text proposed by the Commission

10. 'contingent commission' means a remuneration in the form of a commission where the amount payable is based on the achievement of agreed targets relating to the business placed by the intermediary with that insurer;

Amendment

Member States may stipulate that, where an insurance or reinsurance intermediary acts under the responsibility of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or of another registered insurance or reinsurance intermediary, the latter intermediary or the undertaking shall be responsible for ensuring that it meets the conditions for registration set out in this Directive. In such a case, the person or entity accepting responsibility shall, having been informed by the Member States of the matters set out in paragraph 7 of this Article, subparagraphs (a) and (b), be satisfied as to the matter set out in paragraph 7 of this Article, subparagraph (c). Member States may also stipulate that the person or entity which takes responsibility for the intermediary shall register that intermediary.

Member States may stipulate that, where an insurance or reinsurance intermediary acts under the responsibility of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or of another registered insurance or reinsurance intermediary, the insurance intermediary shall not be required to provide the competent authority with the information in points (a) and (b) of Article 3(7) and the insurance entity responsible shall ensure that the insurance intermediary meets the conditions for registration and other provisions set out in this Directive. Member States may also stipulate that the person or entity which takes responsibility for the intermediary shall register that intermediary.

Amendment 14
Proposal for a directive

Article 3 – paragraph 5 – subparagraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

Member States shall ensure that the competent authorities do not register an insurance or reinsurance intermediary unless it is satisfied that the intermediary meets the requirements laid down in Article 8.

Amendment

Member States shall ensure that the competent authorities do not register an insurance or reinsurance intermediary unless it is satisfied that the intermediary meets the requirements laid down in Article 8, or that another intermediary or undertaking will take the responsibility for ensuring that the intermediary meets these requirements in accordance with subparagraph 3 of Article 3(1).

(b) intermediaries where another insurance entity takes responsibility for ensuring that the intermediary meet these requirements in accordance with subparagraph 3 of Article 3(1).

Member States shall ensure that their competent authorities require that insurance and reinsurance intermediaries to whom Article 3(7) applies inform them without undue delay where information provided under points (a) and (b) of Article 3(7) changes.

Declaration procedure for providing ancillary insurance mediation; professional management of claims or loss assessment services

1. The registration requirements in Article 3 shall not apply to an insurance intermediary which conducts insurance mediation on an ancillary basis, provided that its activities meet all the following conditions:

(a) the principal professional activity of the insurance intermediary is other than insurance mediation;

(b) the insurance intermediary only mediates certain insurance products that are complementary to a product or service and clearly identifies them in the declaration;

(c) the insurance products concerned do not cover life assurance or liability risks, unless that cover is incidental to the main cover.

2. The registration requirements in Article 3 shall not apply to insurance intermediaries whose sole activity is professional management of claims or loss assessment services.

3. Any insurance intermediary who is subject to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article shall submit to the competent authority of its home Member State a declaration whereby it informs the competent authority of its identity, address and professional activities.

4. Intermediaries who are subject to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article shall be subject to the provisions of Chapters I, III, IV, V, VIII, IX and Articles 15 and 16 of this Directive.

Justification

In principle, intermediaries should be registered and something between registration and lack of registration should be avoided. It is also difficult to see that the procedure means any real simplification for the companies in question, given that the requirements in Article 8 have to be met.

Amendment 19
Proposal for a directive

Article 6 – paragraph 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

1a. An insurance intermediary is operating under freedom of establishment if he carries on business in a host Member State for an indefinite period via a permanent presence in that Member State.

Amendment 20
Proposal for a directive

Article 6 – paragraph 4 – subparagraph 4 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

A registered insurance or reinsurance intermediary carries on an insurance mediation activity under the 'freedom of services' if:

a) it carries on insurance or reinsurance mediation with or for a policyholder who resides or is established in a Member State different from the home Member State of the intermediary;

b) any risk to be insured is situated in a Member State different from the home Member State of the intermediary;

c) it must comply with paragraphs 1 and 4.

Amendment 21
Proposal for a directive

Article 7 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

1. If an insurance intermediary's primary place of business is located in another Member State, then the competent authority of that other Member State may agree with the home Member State competent authority to act as if it were the home Member State competent authority with regard to the obligations in chapters VI, VII and VIII of this Directive. In the event of such an agreement, the home Member State competent authority shall notify the insurance intermediary and EIOPA without delay.

Amendment

1. Each Member State shall require that:

a) any insurance intermediary which is a legal person have its head office in the same Member State as its registered office and that it actually operates there;

b) any insurance intermediary which is not a legal person or any insurance intermediary which is a legal person but under its national law has no registered office have its head office in a Member State in which it actually carries on its business.

If an insurance intermediary's primary place of business is located in another Member State, then the competent authority of that other Member State may agree with the home Member State competent authority to act as if it were the home Member State competent authority with regard to the obligations in Chapters VI, VII and VIII of this Directive. In the event of such an agreement, the home Member State competent authority shall notify the insurance intermediary and EIOPA without delay.

Amendment 22
Proposal for a directive

Article 7 – paragraph 3 – introductory part

Text proposed by the Commission

3. Where the host Member State has grounds for concluding that an insurance or reinsurance intermediary acting within its territory under the freedom to provide services or through an establishment is in breach of any obligation set out in this Directive it shall refer those findings to the competent authority of the home Member State which shall take the appropriate measures. In cases where, despite measures taken by the competent authority of the home Member State, an insurance or reinsurance intermediary persists in acting in a manner that is clearly prejudicial to the interests of host Member State consumers or the orderly functioning of insurance and reinsurance markets, the insurance or reinsurance intermediary shall be subject to the following measures:

Amendment

3. Where the host Member State has grounds for concluding that an insurance or reinsurance intermediary acting within its territory under the freedom to provide services or through an establishment is in breach of any obligation set out in this Directive, and where the host Member State does not have powers under this Directive to take action in response to such breaches, it shall refer those findings to the competent authority of the home Member State which shall take the appropriate measures. In cases where, despite measures taken by the competent authority of the home Member State, an insurance or reinsurance intermediary persists in acting in a manner that is clearly prejudicial to the interests of host Member State consumers or the orderly functioning of insurance and reinsurance markets, the insurance or reinsurance intermediary shall be subject to the following measures:

Text proposed by the Commission

Member States may adjust the required conditions with regard to knowledge and ability in line with the particular activity of insurance or reinsurance mediation and the products mediated, particularly if the principal professional activity of the intermediary is other than insurance mediation. In such cases, that intermediary may pursue an activity of insurance mediation only if an insurance intermediary fulfilling the conditions of this Article or an insurance undertaking assumes full responsibility for the intermediary's actions. Member States may provide that in the cases referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 3(1), the insurance undertaking or intermediary shall verify that the knowledge and ability of the intermediaries are in conformity with the obligations set out in the first subparagraph of this paragraph and, if need be, shall provide such intermediaries with training which corresponds to the requirements concerning the products sold by the intermediaries.

Amendment

Member States shall adjust the required conditions with regard to knowledge and ability in line with the particular activity of insurance or reinsurance mediation and the products mediated, particularly if the principal professional activity of the intermediary is other than insurance mediation.

The training and monitoring requirements of this article should not directly apply to those intermediaries who provide insurance mediation on an ancillary basis, but to the insurance undertakings or other intermediaries under whose responsibility they act and who themselves fulfil these obligations.

Member States may provide that in the cases referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 3(1), the insurance undertaking or intermediary shall verify that the knowledge and ability of the intermediaries are in conformity with the obligations set out in the first subparagraph of this paragraph and, if need be, shall provide such intermediaries with training which corresponds to the requirements concerning the products sold by the intermediaries.

Justification

Where there is a change of the professional requirements, the insurance undertaking which is underwriting a policy not only assumes full responsibility for the intermediary's actions but is also responsible for the training and monitoring of the ancillary intermediary.

Amendment 24 Proposal for a directive

Article 8 – paragraph 3

Text proposed by the Commission

3. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries shall hold professional indemnity insurance covering the whole territory of the Union or some other comparable guarantee against liability arising from professional negligence, for at least EUR 1,120,000 applying to each claim and in aggregate EUR 1,680,000 per year for all claims, unless such insurance or comparable guarantee is already provided by an insurance undertaking, reinsurance undertaking or other undertaking on whose behalf the insurance or reinsurance intermediary is acting or for

Amendment

3. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries shall hold professional indemnity insurance or provide some other equivalent suretyship relative to:

which the insurance or reinsurance intermediary is empowered to act or such undertaking has taken on full responsibility for the intermediary's actions.

- the amount of mediation they undertake;*
- whether or not insurance mediation is their main business activity; and*
- the complexity of the products they mediate.*

It shall cover the whole territory of the Union and provide surety-ship against liability arising from professional negligence, for at least EUR 1,120,000 applying to each claim and in aggregate EUR 1,680,000 per year for all claims, unless such insurance or comparable surety-ship is already provided by an insurance undertaking, reinsurance undertaking or other undertaking on whose behalf the insurance or reinsurance intermediary is acting or for which the insurance or reinsurance intermediary is empowered to act or such undertaking has taken on full responsibility for the intermediary's actions.

Justification

There should be a certain degree of proportionality between the complexity of insurance products and the indemnity insurances to be held by intermediaries. The word « guarantee » is quite a narrow legal term, which should be changed to encompass equivalent instruments, e.g. allowing for surety-ships (German: Bürgschaft).

(b) appropriate criteria for determining in particular the level of professional qualifications, experiences and skills required for carrying on insurance mediation;

Amendment 30 Proposal for a directive

Article 13 – paragraph 1 – introductory part

Text proposed by the Commission

1. Member States shall ensure the setting-up of appropriate, effective, impartial and independent complaints and redress procedures for the out-of-court settlement of disputes between insurance intermediaries and customers, and between insurance undertakings and customers, using existing bodies where appropriate.
Member States shall further ensure that all insurance undertakings and insurance intermediaries participate in the procedures for the out-of-court settlement of disputes where the following conditions are met:

Amendment

1. Member States shall ensure the setting-up of appropriate, effective, impartial and independent complaints and redress procedures for the out-of-court settlement of disputes between insurance intermediaries and customers, and between insurance undertakings and customers, using existing bodies where appropriate.

Justification

The draft proposal would fundamentally undermine consumer protection by requiring that the decisions of ADR should not be binding on firms. If firms do not face the risk of being bound, their incentives to reach a mediated settlement will be significantly reduced. These amendments propose that all conditions imposed on ADR schemes in Article 13 are omitted. This will allow member states the flexibility to adopt ADR arrangements that are suited to the specificities of their market and legal system.

Consumers must be well informed about the advice they are receiving.

Proposal for a directive

Article 17 – paragraph 1 – point f

Text proposed by the Commission

(f) if the intermediary will receive a fee or a commission of any kind, the full amount of the remuneration concerning the insurance products being offered or considered or, where the precise amount is not capable of being given, the basis of calculation of all the fee or commission or the combination of both;

(f) if the intermediary will receive remuneration of any kind in relation to the insurance contract, the full amount of the remuneration concerning the insurance products being offered or considered or, where the precise amount is not capable of being given, the basis of calculation of all remuneration, upon request of the consumer;

Justification

The proposed amendment will ensure the full disclosure of fees to customers.

Amendment 47

Proposal for a directive

Article 17 – paragraph 1 – point (g)

Text proposed by the Commission

(g) if the amount of the commission is based on the achievement of agreed targets or thresholds relating to the business placed by the intermediary with an insurer, the targets or thresholds as well as the amounts payable on the achievement of them.

Amendment

(g) that the consumer has the right to request the information referred to in point (f)

Justification

There is a direct conflict of interest between targets or thresholds of sales of products and acting in the consumer's best interest.

five years from the date on which this Directive comes into force, the intermediary of insurance contracts other than contracts in any of the classes specified in Annex I of Directive 2002/83/EC, shall, prior to the conclusion of any such insurance contract, if the intermediary is to be remunerated by a fee or commission,

(a) provide the customer with the amount or, where the precise amount is not capable of being given, the basis of calculation of the fee or commission or the combination of both, if the customer so requests.

(b) inform the customer of his right to request the information referred to in point (a).

Justification

With special reference to the provisions on the marketing of non-financial insurance products, since such products do not comprise any investment component and the commission does not in any way affect its performance, we propose that these provisions be deleted.

Amendment 49

Proposal for a directive Article 17 – paragraph 4

Text proposed by the Commission

4. If any payments are made by the customer under the insurance contract after its conclusion, the insurance undertaking or intermediary shall also make the disclosures in accordance with this Article for each such payment.

Amendment

4. With the exception of cases where a regular monthly direct debit of the exact same amount has been fully disclosed, including the number of months the direct debit will be debited before the signing of a contract, if any payments are made by the customer under the insurance contract after its conclusion, the insurance undertaking or intermediary shall also make the disclosures in accordance with this Article for each such payment.

Justification

For regular direct debits which have been agreed to in a contract, where the consumer has been well informed about such direct debits, it is an unfair burden on insurance undertakings or intermediaries to communicate with the consumer every time the debit occurs.

Amendment 50

Proposal for a directive

Article 17 – paragraph 5

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

5. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 33. Those delegated acts shall specify: deleted

(a) appropriate criteria for determining how the remuneration of the intermediary - including contingent commission – shall be disclosed to the customer as referred to in paragraph 1 (f) and (g) and paragraph 2 of this Article;

(b) appropriate criteria for determining in particular the basis of calculation of all the fee or commission or the combination of both;

(c) the steps that insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings might reasonably be expected to take to disclose their remuneration to the customer.

Justification

IMD2 should have a clear and comprehensive level 1 text which goes against the logic of giving the Commission delegated powers.

Amendment 52

Proposal for a directive Article 18 – paragraph 3

Text proposed by the Commission

3. When the insurance intermediary or the insurance undertaking inform the customer that it gives its advice on the basis of a fair analysis, it is obliged to give that advice on the basis of an analysis of a sufficiently large number of insurance contracts available on the market, to enable it to make a recommendation, in accordance with professional criteria regarding which insurance contract would be adequate to meet the customer's needs.

Amendment

3. When the insurance intermediary or the insurance undertaking inform the customer that it provides its advice on the basis of a fair analysis, it is obliged to provide that advice on the basis of an analysis of a significant and sufficiently large number of insurance contracts. Insurance intermediaries must also source these contracts from a significant and sufficiently large number of insurance providers available on the market, to enable it to make a recommendation, in accordance with professional criteria regarding which insurance contract would be adequate to meet the customer's needs.

Justification

To avoid cases where only one insurance provider's contracts are looked at and suggested, more than one provider's contracts should be analysed.

Amendment 53 Proposal for a directive

Article 18 – paragraph 4

Text proposed by the Commission

4. Prior to the conclusion of a contract, whether or not advice is given, the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking shall give the customer the relevant information about the insurance product in a comprehensible form to allow the customer to make an informed decision, while taking into account the complexity of the insurance product and the type of customers.

Amendment

4. Prior to the conclusion of a contract, whether or not advice is provided, the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking shall provide the customer the relevant information about the insurance product in a comprehensible form to allow the customer to make an informed decision, while taking into account the complexity of the insurance product and the type of customers. It shall be provided in a standardised information sheet, in a plain language, and containing the key information of the insurance contract.

Amendment 54
Proposal for a directive

Article 18 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

Article 18a

This Article shall not apply to persons carrying out insurance mediation when carried on in relation to the sale of insurance investment products by:

(a) an insurance intermediary;

(b) an insurance undertaking.

Justification

Insurance mediation in relation to the sale of insurance investment products is already dealt with in chapter VII. The associated appropriateness and suitability test are also already applicable and dealt with in Article 25. These rules should therefore not be duplicated.

Amendment 55
Proposal for a directive

Article 19 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

1. The information referred to in Articles 16, 17 and 18 need not be given when the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking mediates in the insurance of large risks, in the case of mediation by reinsurance intermediaries or reinsurance undertakings, or in relation to professional customers as specified in the Annex .

1. The information referred to in Articles 16, 17 and 18 need not be provided when the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking mediates in the insurance of large risks, in the case of mediation by reinsurance intermediaries or reinsurance undertakings, or in relation to professional customers as specified in the Annex .

Amendment 56

Article 19 – paragraph 2 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

2a. Member States which maintain or adopt stricter provisions applying to insurance intermediaries shall ensure that these provisions respect level playing field principles and that the administrative burden stemming from these provisions is proportionate relative to the consumer protection benefits.

Amendment 57

Proposal for a directive Article 20 – paragraph 7

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

7. In the case of telephone selling, the prior information given to the customer shall be in accordance with Union rules applicable to the distance marketing of consumer financial services. Moreover, information shall be provided to the customer in accordance with paragraph 1 or 2 immediately after the conclusion of the insurance contract.

7. In the case of telephone selling, the prior information given to the customer shall be in accordance with Union rules applicable to the distance marketing of consumer financial services. Moreover, following the conditions of paragraph 4(b) being met, information shall be provided to the customer in accordance with paragraph 1 or 2 immediately after the conclusion of the insurance contract.

Justification

It's fair to ask the customer if they want paper or electronic means rather than a telephone seller making the decision for the customer.

Amendment 58 Proposal for a directive

Article 21 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

1. Member States shall allow bundling practices but not tying practices.

1. Member States shall allow bundling practices

1a. Member States may require that national competent authorities in cooperation with EIOPA shall intervene on a case-by-case basis to forbid certain tying practices when they can demonstrate that such practices are detrimental to consumers.

Justification

There is no clear evidence of consumer detriment to support a ban on tying insurance products, as these proposals were not part of the Commission's IMD consultation and impact assessment.

Amendment 59
Proposal for a directive

Article 21 – paragraph 2

Text proposed by the Commission

2. When an insurance service or product is offered together with another service or product as a package, the insurance undertaking or, where applicable, the insurance intermediary shall offer and inform the customer that it is possible to buy the components of the package separately and shall provide information of the costs and charges of each component of the package that may be bought through or from it separately.

Amendment

2. When insurance is offered together with another service or product as a package, the insurance undertaking or, where applicable, the insurance intermediary shall inform the customer whether it is possible to buy the components of the package separately and, if so shall provide information of the costs and charges of each component of the package that may be bought through or from it separately.

Justification

This wording brings the proposal in line with the MiFID approach.

Amendment 60
Proposal for a directive

Article 22 – paragraph 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

Article 23 (1) and (2) shall also apply to insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings when carrying out insurance mediation in relation to all insurance products.

Justification

As for MH AMs in relation to Article 17, remuneration disclosure is of limited value in addressing conflicts of interest. This extends the Article 23 conflicts of interest rules to all insurance products.

Amendment 61

Proposal for a directive
Article 22 – paragraph 1 b new

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

Member States may maintain or adopt stricter provisions regarding the customer protection requirements referred to in Articles 21, 23, 24 and 25 provided that such provisions comply with Union law. ESMA and EIOPA should work together to achieve as much consistency as possible in the conduct of business standards for retail investment products that are subject to either (MiFID II) or to this Directive through guidelines.

Amendment 62

Proposal for a directive
Article 23 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

1. Member States shall require insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings to take all appropriate steps to identify conflicts of interest between themselves, including their managers, employees and tied insurance intermediaries, or any person directly or indirectly linked to them by control and their customers or between one customer and another that arise in the course of carrying on insurance mediation.

1. Member States shall require insurance intermediaries and insurance undertakings to take all appropriate steps to identify, mitigate, avoid and remove conflicts of interest between themselves, including their managers, employees and tied insurance intermediaries, or any person directly or indirectly linked to them by control and their customers or between one customer and another that arise in the course of carrying on insurance mediation.

Justification

It's fair to ask the customer if they want paper or electronic means rather than the phone insurance company making that call.

Amendment 63

Proposal for a directive Article 23 – paragraph 2

Text proposed by the Commission

2. Where steps taken by the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking in compliance with Articles 15, 16 and 17 are not sufficient to ensure, with reasonable confidence, that risks of damage to the interests of customers and potential customers arising from conflicts of interest will be prevented, the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking shall clearly disclose the general nature or sources of conflicts of interest to the customer before undertaking business on the customer's behalf.

Amendment

2. An insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking shall maintain and operate effective organisational and administrative arrangements with a view to taking all reasonable steps designed to prevent conflicts of interest from adversely affecting the interests of its customers.

Where steps taken by the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking are not sufficient to ensure, with reasonable confidence, that risks of damage to the interests of customers and potential customers arising from conflicts of interest will be prevented, the insurance intermediary or insurance undertaking shall clearly disclose the general nature and sources of conflicts of interest and the steps taken to mitigate those risks to the customer.

Amendment 64 Proposal for a directive

Article 23 – paragraph 2 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

2a. The disclosure must:
(a) be made in a durable medium; and
(b) include sufficient details, taking into account the nature of the customer, to enable that customer to take an informed decision with respect to the service in the context of which the conflict of interest arises.

Justification

It is essential that those sale standards for insurance investment products are consistent, irrespective of whether these products are financial instruments or as insurance investment products. This will help reduce confusion and potential for regulatory arbitrage while strengthening policyholder protection. It is therefore important that the IMD2 text mirrors the MiFID text.

Amendment 65
Proposal for a directive

Article 24 – paragraph 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

1a. The implementation of the information requirements contained in Articles 24 and 25 should be proportionate, taking into account whether or not the customer is a professional customer as specified in Annex I.

Justification

The proposed changes to Article 24 provides guidance on the application of these articles in regard to professional customers and other amendments to bring the text in line with the current approach in MiFID II.

Amendment 66
Proposal for a directive

Article 24 – paragraph 3 – point a

An on-going assessment, meaning repeated compulsory advice about the insurance product and its suitability is hardly feasible, whereas providing the latest information about a product or service at the customer's request is a necessary service.

(a) the nature of the service(s) offered or provided to the customer or potential customer, taking into account the type, object, size and frequency of the transactions; and

Amendment 75
Proposal for a directive

Article 34 – paragraph 5

Text proposed by the Commission

5. A delegated act adopted pursuant to Articles 8, 17, 23, 24 and 25 shall enter into force only if no objection has been expressed either by the European Parliament or the Council within a period of 2 months of notification of that act to the European Parliament and the Council or if, before the expiry of that period, the European Parliament and the Council have both informed the Commission that they will not object. The Committee on Legal Affairs calls on the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs, as the committee responsible, to incorporate the following amendments into its report:

Amendment 1 Proposal for a directive Recital 2

(2) Since the main objective and subject-matter of this proposal is to harmonise national provisions concerning the mentioned areas, the proposal should be based on Article 53(1) and 62 TFEU. The form of a Directive is appropriate in order to enable the implementing provisions in the areas covered by this Directive, when necessary, to be adjusted to any existing specificities of the particular market and legal system in each Member State. This Directive should also aim at coordinating national rules concerning the access to the activity of insurance and reinsurance mediation including professional management of claims and loss adjusting, and is therefore based on Article 53(1) of the Treaty. In addition, since this is a sector offering services across the Union, this Directive is also based on Article 62 of the Treaty.

activity of insurance and reinsurance mediation and is therefore based on Article 53(1) of the Treaty. In addition, since this is a sector offering services across the Union, this Directive is also based on Article 62 of the Treaty.

Amendment 2
Proposal for a directive
Recital 6

Text proposed by the Commission

(6) In order to guarantee that the same level of protection applies regardless of the channel through which consumers buy an insurance product, either directly from an insurance undertaking or indirectly from an intermediary, the scope of the Directive needs to cover not only insurance undertakings but other market participants who sell insurance products on an ancillary basis (e.g. travel agents and car rental companies, suppliers of goods not meeting conditions for the exemption).

Amendment

(7) This Directive should apply to persons whose activity consists of assisting (whether on behalf of a customer or an insurance undertaking) in the administration and performance of a contract of insurance or reinsurance.

Amendment 4
Proposal for a directive
Recital 12

Text proposed by the Commission

(12) This Directive should not apply to persons with another professional activity, such as tax experts or accountants, who provide advice on insurance cover on an incidental basis in the course of that other professional activity, neither should it apply to the mere provision of information of a general nature on insurance products, provided that the purpose of that activity is not to help the customer conclude or fulfil an insurance or reinsurance contract.

Amendment

(12) This Directive should not apply to persons with another professional activity, such as tax experts or accountants, who provide advice on insurance cover on an incidental basis in the course of that other professional activity, neither should it apply to the mere provision of information of a general nature on insurance products, provided that the purpose of that activity is not to help the customer conclude or fulfil an insurance or reinsurance contract nor the professional management of claims for an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, nor the loss adjusting and expert appraisal of claims.

Amendment 5
Proposal for a directive
Recital 20

Text proposed by the Commission

(20) Member States should not apply the registration requirements to insurance intermediaries which conduct insurance mediation in relation to certain types of insurance contract on an ancillary basis or to professional management of claims, loss adjusting or expert appraisal of claims, provided that they comply with the requirements of this Directive as to knowledge and ability and good repute and the applicable information and conduct of business requirements, and a declaration of activity has been submitted to the competent authority.

Amendment

(22) It is important to guarantee a high level of professionalism and competence among insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and the employees of direct insurers who are involved in activities preparatory to, during and after the sales of insurance policies. Therefore, the professional knowledge of an intermediary, of the employees of direct insurers, and of car rental companies and travel agents, as well as the professional knowledge of persons carrying on the activities of the management of claims, loss adjusting or expert appraisal of claims needs to match the level of complexity of these activities. Continuing education should be ensured.

among insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and the employees of direct insurers who are involved in activities preparatory to, during and after the sales of insurance policies. Therefore, the professional knowledge of an intermediary and of the employees of direct insurers needs to enable them to complete their tasks and perform their duties adequately. Continuing education should be ensured.

Amendment 7
Proposal for a directive
Recital 31

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(31) In order to mitigate conflicts of interest between the seller and the buyer of an insurance product, it is necessary to ensure sufficient disclosure of remuneration of insurance distributors. Accordingly, for life insurance products, the intermediary and the employee of the insurance intermediary or the insurance undertaking should be obliged to inform the customer about its remuneration, in advance of the sale. For other insurance products, subject to a transitional period of 5 years, the customer must be informed of the customer's right to request this information, which must be provided to the customer upon request.

(50) In order to attain the objectives set out in this Directive, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of details concerning notions of adequate knowledge and competence of the intermediary, management of conflicts of interest, conduct of business obligations in relation to insurance packaged retail investment products and procedures and forms for submitting information in relation to sanctions. It is of particular importance that the Commission carries out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level. The Commission, when preparing and drawing up delegated acts, should ensure a simultaneous, timely and appropriate transmission of relevant documents to the European Parliament and to the Council.

Amendment

1. This Directive lays down rules concerning the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation, including professional management of claims and loss adjusting, by natural and legal persons which are established in a Member State or which wish to be established there.

1. This Directive lays down rules concerning the taking-up and pursuit of the activities of insurance and reinsurance mediation by natural and legal persons which are established in a Member State or which wish to be established there.

Justification

The inclusion of the activities of professional management of claims and loss adjusting in the scope of the directive is not justified. These activities do not relate to the selling of insurance products and cannot be considered insurance mediation activities. Moreover, these activities are already sufficiently covered by national legislation.

10. ‘contingent commission’ means a remuneration in the form of a commission where the amount payable is based on the achievement of any kind of agreed targets relating to the activities run by the intermediary with that insurer;

Justification

Commissions can be generated not only by achieving targets related to the business placed but also by the number of claims from the clients of the intermediary. The definition should include all elements influencing this remuneration. Some bank-insurance groups calculate commissions based on cross-selling practices: e.g. a commission on a mortgage differs depending on whether a life insurance is sold to the same customer. This practice encourages the intermediary to sell several products at the same time, even if the client does not need them or could find a more attractive offer elsewhere.

Amendment

Article 4

Declaration procedure for providing ancillary insurance mediation; professional management of claims or loss assessment services

1. The registration requirements in Article 3 shall not apply to an insurance intermediary which conducts insurance mediation on an ancillary basis, provided that its activities meet all the following conditions:

(a) the principal professional activity of the insurance intermediary is other than insurance mediation;

(b) the insurance intermediary only mediates certain insurance products that are complementary to a product or service and clearly identifies them in the declaration;

(c) the insurance products concerned do not cover life assurance or liability risks, unless that cover is incidental to the main cover.

2. The registration requirements in Article 3 shall not apply to insurance intermediaries whose sole activity is professional management of claims or loss assessment services.

3. Any insurance intermediary who is subject to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article shall submit to the competent authority of its home Member State a declaration whereby it informs the competent authority of its identity, address and professional activities.

4. Intermediaries who are subject to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article shall be subject to the provisions of Chapters I, III, IV, V, VIII, IX and Articles 15 and 16 of this Directive.

Justification

With the exclusion of the activities of professional management of claims and loss adjusting from the scope of the directive and the re-inclusion of the exception in Article 1 paragraph 2 point e), the declaration procedure is deprived of its main purpose and should therefore be deleted.

Amendment 22

Proposal for a directive

Article 8 – paragraph 1 – subparagraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

1. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries, including those who pursue these activities on an ancillary basis, persons carrying on the activities of the professional management of claims, loss adjusting or expert appraisal of claims, and members of staff of insurance undertakings carrying out insurance mediation activities, shall possess appropriate knowledge and ability, as determined by the home Member State of the intermediary or undertaking, to complete their tasks and perform their duties adequately, demonstrating

Amendment

1. Insurance and reinsurance intermediaries and members of staff of insurance undertakings carrying out insurance mediation activities, shall possess appropriate knowledge and ability, as determined by the home Member State of the intermediary or undertaking, to complete their tasks and perform their duties adequately.

appropriate professional experience relevant to the complexity of the products they are mediating .

Justification

It is important that intermediaries and members of staff of insurance undertakings possess the appropriate knowledge and ability to complete their tasks adequately. The additional requirement of demonstrating appropriate professional experience should, however, be deleted. Otherwise, access to the profession of insurance intermediaries would become practically impossible.
