1. Introduction

This is the final report drafted by the Milan EPIO after the conclusion of the EXPO 2015.

The EXPO universal exposition on the theme of "Feeding the Planet. Energy for life", was a true success.

The overall judgement is positive not only according to the figures collected – 21 million visitors went to see EXPO during the six months – but also due to the fact that EXPO put the centrality of sustainability at the top of the political agendas and increased the awareness of citizens over European and international policies and strategies over the main themes developed – as shown by the Chart of Milan, the legacy of the EXPO brought to the UN Secretary General on the 16 of October. On these themes, the European Parliament adopted a resolution on the 30 of April 2015.

"Every visitors to the EXPO - as EP President Martin Schulz stated in his appreciation speech - left the exposition with many thoughts provoking ideas coming from different pavilions but visitors also left the exposition with a key question: ‘What can I do to make my life on this planet more sustainable and fair?’ Increased awareness of how our choices and habits affect the world and awareness of the interconnections in the global economy is by itself the greatest legacy of EXPO Milan”.

The European Union, with its participation to the EXPO Milan 2015, contributed to this great success. The EU Pavilion had more than 650,000 visitors with a level of satisfaction close to 90%.

The EU Pavilion was meant to give visitors a greater understanding of the achievements of the EU in the past 60 years and the major challenges the EU will face in the future decades on the themes of EXPO Milan 2015. The pavilion presented a story based on the characters of Alex, a young farmer, and Sylvia, a young researcher to help people to understand the importance of cooperation among tradition and innovation, cultures and experiences, including agriculture, passion for the environment and science.

During the 6 months, in addition to the Visitors’ Experience, the whole activities coordinated by the EU task force for EXPO and Milan EPIO at EU Pavilion encompassed the organization of events, conferences and debates with the participation of MEPs, European Commissioners and representatives from various institutions.

The EXPO 2015 EU Scientific Steering Committee played a pivotal role in promoting the scientific debate on the EXPO themes, following wide public consultation and high-level debate yielding the document "The role of research in global food and nutrition security", which proposes recommendations for future policy actions in this area.

2. The European Union Pavilion

During the whole period of the EXPO, data regarding the overall judgement of the EU Pavilion has been collected. Concerning the Visitors’ Experience and the activities organised inside the Pavilion, there had been a constant increase in the amount of visitors per day and a successful series of events. The tables below highlight the public flow registered at the Pavilion Visitors’ Experience.

During the 176 days of activity at the EU Pavilion (since 9 May until 31 October without interruptions), 657,150 people went to the Visitors' Experience on the ground floor of the Pavilion. This equates to 3,733 a day on average. In line with the general trends of the EXPO, the number of visitors increased during the second half of the event (they were 230,000 at mid-EXPO end July). The main target-groups were schools and young people that visited the Pavilion in great numbers. The month with the highest number of visitors was October (157,919 visitors: 5,094/day), followed by September (134,725 visitors) and August (112,795 visitors).
The appreciation rate of the Pavilion was very high: around 90% of the visitors participating to the survey - based on over 190,000 responses given at the end of the visit - gave a positive appreciation.

Alex & Sylvia

The Visitors' Experience was divided into three parts: pre-show, show and post-show. The show consisted in a movie which tells the story of two young Europeans, Sylvia and Alex. Sylvia works as a researcher at the EU Joint Research Centre. Every year, she visits her grandmother in a village not far from the city where she lives. Sylvia's Granny runs the village bakery, the heart and soul of the community.

Alex spends his days in the fields. A farmer like his forefathers, he uses cutting edge technology to grow high-quality wheat. When Sylvia reaches Granny's house there is a surprise in store for her. Granny has decided to take a break, so Sylvia replaces her. This challenge comes as a shock to Sylvia when she meets Alex. As Sylvia enters the bakery she is gripped by fear but also buoyed by courage and starts preparing the products. Within a matter of hours the shop shelves are full of loaves and cakes. The customers, used to Granny's expert baking, come into the shop expecting the usual wares but find themselves tasting bread that is anything but traditional. Sylvia is distraught but refuses Alex's help. Suddenly, the village is hit by a powerful storm. Being an expert in hydraulics, she raises the alarm right across the village. As the flooding worsens, there is a danger that the village's bridge will collapse and, with it, the only road to the city. Her cooperation with Alex begins and they work non-stop to keep the village out of danger. When the worst has passed, the scientist and the farmer go back to prepare the bread. Alex brings his best flour to the bakery and Sylvia follows all his instructions with scientific precision.

Bread is the common thread running through the story of Alex and Sylvia. The European Union Pavilion has chosen it to illustrate the theme of EXPO because bread has historically been the symbol of a food made for sharing. The story told is a metaphor for the motto of the European Union, "Unity in diversity", which testifies to how Europeans, through the EU, have succeeded in working together for peace and prosperity, while retaining the richness of the continent's many and varied cultures, traditions and languages.
In the post-show, visitors were introduced to the EU policies dealt with by the narrative of the pavilion and the movie through three interactive walls on food chain, nutrition, environmental sustainability and cooperation and development.

The Volunteers Programme

The EU pavilion developed a training programme which involved 850 young volunteers mostly from Erasmus+ programmes across Europe with a view to developing future EU 'Ambassadors'. They worked as volunteers at the EU pavilion during a two weeks period explaining to the visitors the underlying messages in the Alex and Sylvia's story and associated policies by conveying a genuine a dynamic image of the EU. Overall, 40 nationalities were represented, half of them being Italians followed by Spanish, German and Rumanian. On 11 October, together with the Erasmus Student Network, the EU pavilion organised at EXPO an "Erasmus+ Parade" with the participation of over 1,000 Erasmus students coming from Italian and European cities.

Communication and media

The work towards media focused on the promotion of the Visitors' Experience and the movie titled The Golden Ear, the scientific debate, the Business to Business (B2B)\(^4\) events and the Volunteers programme. The Pavilion's activities had massive press coverage since the opening of the Pavilion, when the Task Force presented the activities for the six months. Press coverage was also extensive for the inauguration of the Pavilion on 9 May with the presence of EP President, Martin Schulz and EC Vice President, Federica Mogherini.

Digital communication is one of the success stories of the EU Pavilion, which is among the best performers in terms of followership. The Facebook page (51,500 fans) and the Twitter account (over 18,000) are the second most followed of the EXPO, while Instagram (5,000 followers) is fifth. The EU Pavilion Website has been visited around 250,000 times. The EU Pavilion played a pivotal role in gathering the EXPO social media managers.

At the end of the EXPO, a film produced by MCI was realized, offering a review of the EU Pavilion's presence at the EXPO\(^5\).

\(^4\) A specific program of B2B EU-Third countries events was developed in parallel during the six months.

Events

Over 230 events took place during the six months and were linked to the EU EXPO Scientific Programme and on the European policies on the themes of EXPO. In these events more than 30,000 experts took part. The stakeholders were invited by several DGs of the European Commission and its Agencies, the European Parliament, the Committee of Regions and the European Economic and Social Committee. This resulted in the participation of regional and national Authorities from Italy and other Member States, business organisations, representatives of the civil society and NGOs, as well as delegates from non-EU Countries. The events took place in different locations: the EU Pavilion, the EXPO Conference Centre, the Universities in Milan, other locations in Milan city centre, and the JRC Site of Ispra. As part of this program, the Scientific Committee of the Universities of Milan organized many events in cooperation with the EU Institutions, some of which hosted at the EU Pavilion⁶.

Visits and Protocol activities

The participation from the European Parliament was very wide. 86 MEPs⁷ visited the EXPO, including President Martin Schulz, Vice Presidents Mairead McGuinness, Sylvie Guillaume, Anneli Jäätteenmäki, David-Maria Sassoli and Antonio Tajani. Five EP Parliamentary Committees (AGRI, DEVE, INTA, ITRE, and PECH) came to the EXPO for official visits and events, as well as delegations from different political groups, the Bureau of the ACP-EU Joint Parliamentary Assembly and the EP Sakharov Laureate and Former President of Timor Leste, Mr Xanana Gusmao.

Thirteen European Commissioners visited the EXPO and took part in events at the EU Pavilion.

More than 40 Heads of State, Ministers, national Parliaments' Representatives and visited the EU Pavilion. The Pavilion hosted Ministerial delegations of EU Member states that didn't have their own Pavilion at the EXPO, in particular the Luxembourg Presidency. Government Representatives came also from the Czech Republic, Finland, Estonia, San Marino, Slovakia, Serbia, Poland, Republic of Ireland, Spain, Tuvalu, Lithuania, Malta, Slovenia, Timor Leste, Greece. Official delegations came also from the US, Switzerland and other countries.

EXPO 2015 EU Scientific Steering Committee

The Scientific Steering Committee set up by the European Parliament and the European Commission and chaired by former Commissioner Franz Fischler produced a document on "The role of Research in global food and nutrition security". On the 8 of May it was launched the scientific discussion on the EXPO themes during the High Level Conference, which involved key speakers including the EP Vice President and Responsible for STOA, Mairead McGuinness, Commissioner Navracsics, STOA Members Paul Rübig (Chair) and Marijana Petir and 200 high-level invitees among scientific experts, policy makers and representatives from the industry.

⁷ For the full list see Annex 1
Taking into account the results of the public consultation launched by the Scientific Steering Committee on this occasion and developed during the six months, a final document was presented giving four Recommendations on "New ways of providing knowledge to tackle food and nutrition security: what should the EU do?" in the final event on 15 October.\(^8\)

The Recommendations are targeted at EU institutions and take into consideration both internal EU policies and the EU's role as a global actor. More than 250 participants from academia, politics and industry attended the international final conference promoted by the Scientific Steering Committee. The European Parliament Committee on Development's Chair, Linda McAvan introduced the debate together with Commissioners Andriukaitis, Hogan and Moedas; EP rapporteur for the EXPO, Paolo De Castro and other MEPs attended the conference.

3. The Milan EPIO at EXPO 2015

During the whole period of the EXPO Milan 2015 (1st of May- 31st of October), the Milan EPIO organised directly at the EU Pavilion 32 events involving more than 5,000 participants. The EPIO was operative at the Pavilion participating in its activities with a full involvement of the staff and trainees, sharing the management responsibilities within the EU Task Force for the EXPO.

The shared tasks implied, among others, the direction of the EU Pavilion, the organisation of events and conferences and the daily administrative running.

May

The Europe Day, on 9th of May, coincided with the EU Pavilion inauguration ceremony. For the occasion an official delegation from the European Institution has been invited to participate. EP President, Martin Schulz, together with Federica Mogherini, EC Vice-President/High Representative, 10 MEPs and around 1,000 students and teachers from 25 different high schools from all regions of the North-Italy took part to the event. Along with them, a delegation of more than 300 citizens, coordinated by the Europe Direct Centers was also present.

After the Flag Ceremony at the EXPO Center in the morning, the Conference “Inter-institutional Citizen Dialogue” took place at the Auditorium, seeing a genuine discussion among the public, mainly composed of young people, and EP President Martin Schulz and Vice-President Federica Mogherini over the EXPO themes and specifically on the future of Europe and Food Safety. The public could interact and debate via a live tweeting. Students asked questions about GMOs, EU accountability and migration.

Soon after, a big parade with more than 1,000 young and citizens on the Decumanus took place on the notes of the Ode to Joy from Beethoven and ended in front of the EU Pavilion concluded in a flash-mob.

In the afternoon a bread competition took place among bakers coming from European countries, followed by a conference on "Bread society" including a tasting session of various bread recipes from all over Europe. As a conclusion of the day at the Milan Auditorium a Concert by Orchestra La Verdi was organized playing the Ninth Symphony from Beethoven.

June

On the 18th and 19th of June, the European Parliament Committees on Agriculture and Rural Development (AGRI), on International Trade (INTA) and on Industry, Research and Energy (ITRE) were at EXPO Milan for official visits to debate on global food security, food waste and healthy lifestyles.

The three delegations were hosted at the EU Pavilion. A joint press conference, chaired by Bernd Lange (INTA Chair), Patrizia Toia (ITRE Vice-Chair) and Clara Eugenia Aguilera Garcia (AGRI Vice-Chair) took place preceded by a welcome speech by Ambassador Bruno Antonio Pasquino, Commissioner General for the EXPO. After that, the Members were involved in a networking meeting on the EU Pavilion terrace at the presence of local and national authorities.

At the press conference the MEPs pointed out that the EU must step up its efforts to ensure the quality and safety of food in the EU and boost fair trade for the poorest countries.

On the occasion of the EP Parliamentary Committees' visit, the EU pavilion received also two groups of journalists coming from Italy and many other EU Member States. On the 18th of June they attended a briefing at EXPO Media Centre and visited our Pavilion. On the 19th, journalists visited other pavilions and clusters.

July

On the 17 of July, a Citizens' Dialogue on food safety and health was organised at the EXPO by the EC and EP jointly.

Commissioner Vytenis Andriukaitis and MEP Paolo De Castro discussed on "Health, food safety and quality: challenges for a sustainable future" with more than 250 citizens who gathered at the EXPO from all over North Italy. The Dialogue revolved around many topics: the TTIP (Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership) between the US and the EU; the hormones and antibiotics used for raising livestock and the consequent resist of antibiotics developed in humans; the genetically modified organisms (GMOs) and the trade barriers considered as the most effective instrument to address such problems.
On the 20th, 21st and 22nd of July the EU Pavilion hosted a visit of the European Parliament Committee on Fisheries (PECH). During the three days, the delegation was involved in conferences and meetings with scientific experts (from the JRC in Ispra) organized at the EU Pavilion and visited several pavilions. In the same occasion, it was organised a meeting with Mauritanian representatives in order to discuss the Protocol on the Fisheries Partnership Agreement between the European Community and the Islamic Republic of Mauritania that was just signed.

The PECH Delegation with its visit succeeded in promoting sustainable fishing on a global scale, disseminating the knowledge about the new EU Common Fisheries Policy and communicating the achievements obtained so far.

August

On the 27 August, another event organised by Milan EPIO took place at the EU Pavilion, the Caffè Europa, a periodical meeting which offers to the citizens an opportunity of dialogue with MEPs on topical subjects. In this occasion, it offered a field of discussion on the main themes of the Milan EXPO 2015, “Feeding the Planet, Energy for Life”.
September

September was a very busy month, full of events and conferences. On the 17th of September the Milan EPIO promoted and organized a conference on the promotion of Lombardy and Brescia territory heritage, from a local reality to a Europe-wide environment. MEPs from the Culture and Education Committee (CULT), underlined the commitment in promoting a new concept of tourism and in allowing a more accessible and easier usability of cultural heritage.

On the 18th of September, the Milan EPIO hosted at the EU Pavilion the participants to the Israeli/Palestinian Young and Key Political Leader Seminar.

On the 25th of September two EP groups’ delegations went to the EXPO. The ENF delegation visited many pavilions and clusters. The S&D delegation promoted a Round Table on Circular Economy, focussed on the importance for Europe to be competitive in the global economy.

The ACP-EU Joint parliamentary Assembly Bureau held a mission to EXPO Milan 2015 on 26-27 September 2015. The EU Pavilion hosted the conference “Feeding the Planet – together for a sustainable development”, where members of the ACP-EU Joint Parliamentary Assembly Bureau intervened. The meeting offered an opportunity to debate over the EXPO themes from a more sustainable approach and the cooperation and development point of view. The discussion was chaired by MEP Cécile Kyenge (Vice-President of the Delegation to the ACP-EU Joint Assembly) and ACP co-President, Fitz Jackson, with the participation of foreign and Italian institutional representatives.

On the 28th of September, EP VP Antonio Tajani met Luxembourg Finance Minister Pierre Gramegna at the EU Pavilion. On the same day, EP VP Antonio Tajani and MEP Alberto Cirio (EPP) held a meeting with economic operators from the North-Italy.
October

On the 1-2-3 October, the Milan EPIO hosted at the EU Pavilion the participants of the World Think Tank Summit organized by ISPI (Italian Institute for International Politics Studies).

On the 4th of October, EP Vice President David-Maria Sassoli opened the 4th Congress of the South-North Mediterranean Dialogue Foundation at the Conference Centre. On the same day, at the EU Pavilion he brought his greetings to the students that were participating to the European Youth Debate.

The European Youth Debate at EXPO 2015 - Road to Zero Poverty - was an event organized in the frame of the European Year for Development (EYD) by the Milan EPIO and the Bocconi based student Association, European Generation, coordinated by Ragnarock Association, and organised by the European Documentation Centre (EDC) of the Bocconi University. This European Youth Debate was focused on European policies to eradicate absolute poverty, a topic which is linked and complementary to the EXPO 2015 theme, being hunger and poverty closely interrelated issues.

MEP Brando Benifei also attended the event and participated in the panel discussion.

On 7-8-9 October the University of Turin organized the 7th International AESOP Sustainable Food Planning Conference. The AESOP thematic group “Sustainable Food Planning” (SFP) find its rationale recognizing that fashioning a sustainable food system is one of the most compelling challenges of the 21st Century.

The opening Round Table was hosted at the EU Pavilion, where experts presented the case of the "Milan South Agricultural Park, lessons and warnings".

On 8th October, the conclusive conference promoted by Mondohonline in cooperation with Milan EPIO was held at the EU Pavilion. In that occasion, Mondohonline gave a contribution to the Charter of Milan. Claudia Sorlini, Chair of the Scientific Committee of the Universities of Milan for EXPO, participated to the event. Mondohonline supports and promotes initiatives that aim at financing agro-biodiversity and the necessary innovation that can increase the resilience of lands and human bodies.
On the 11th of October at EXPO 2015 the Erasmus Volunteers’ Day took place. The initiative aimed at involving the young people studying and working in international projects and at stressing the great educational value of these experiences. It was a great event promoted by Erasmus Student Network (ESN) in cooperation with the EU Pavilion.

On the 14 of October, a press conference at the EU Pavilion was organised to present the event “Beyond the EXPO: the new digital services for food security”, promoted by OCCAM (UN-Affiliated Observatory on Digital), with the support of the Milan EPIO.

On the 14, 15 and 16 of October the EU Pavilion hosted the EP Sakharov Laureate and Former President of Timor Leste, Mr Xanana Gusmao and the official delegation from the European Parliament Committee on Development (DEVE). On the 14th Mr Xanana Gusmao participated in meetings with the Commissioner General for the EXPO, Bruno Antonio Pasquino, and Representatives from different pavilions (EU Pavilion, Zero Pavilion and Oman Pavilion). In the morning of the 15th October they all together participated at the international conference “Strengthening Global Food and Nutrition Security through Research and Innovation - Lessons Learned from EXPO 2015” at the EXPO Conference Centre. In the afternoon, a roundtable debate “Human Rights, Right to Food and Land Rights: What’s missing?”, organized by DEVE Committee, was held at the EU Pavilion. The event was actively attended also by 93 students from the European Interuniversity Centre for Human Rights and Democratisation of Venice.
Among the many events hosted at the European Pavilion, October saw the visit of the Club of Venice (CoV) on the occasion of their two-day annual meeting in Milan. On the 23rd the participants of the CoV visited the EXPO site and the EU Pavilion; they also met the chief communications officers of different Pavilions.

On the 25 October, the second edition of Caffè Europa at the EXPO was organised by Milan EPIO. This meeting was the occasion to take stock of the EU Pavilion's activity and the results of the six months EXPO experience in a discussion with the public. MEP Patrizia Toia attended.

MEP Stefano Maullu promoted an event on the 26th of October at the EU Pavilion, with citizens and local authorities. On the same day, the Milan EPIO hosted the conclusive conference of the workshop among Euro-Mediterranean teachers, organized by CIPMO (Italian Center for Peace in Middle East), one of the most important Italian non-profit organisations endeavoured towards encouraging and facilitating the Israeli, Palestinian and Arab dialogue.

The last event happened on the 27th of October, organised by the European Women's Management Development International Network and the Milan EPIO. The event was focused on the importance of the role of women for the future of our planet. The EU Pavilion hosted a conference where there were presented outstanding stories of women, witnesses of success cases of practical contributes to world sustainability.

In the occasion of the closing ceremony of the EXPO Milano 2015, the President of the European Parliament Martin Schulz delivered a video message to thank all those who have contributed to making the Universal exposition of Milan a success for Italy and for Europe. The President thanked “the Italian authorities, workers, officials, volunteers and citizens who have made this event possible and who have contributed to make the EXPO of Milan and the Pavilion of the European Union, a success.”

Evaluation of the EU Participation in EXPO Milano 2015

The participation throughout the six months, all the activities and the events that took place at the EU Pavilion, were subject of an evaluation that has been conducted from an external company.

An interim report was produced and released on the 9th of December 2015, while the final one will be delivered in the following months.

Interviews were also performed among MEPs, the Director General for Communication and the Head of the Milan EPIO.
