CURRENT EUFPFP 2004 PROJECTS

Beneficiary	Title	Commission Contrib	Start Date and Duration	Description
Women's Fund for Human Rights	MachsomWatch: Women for Human Rights	60,000 (56.02%)	6/9/2005 12 months	The aim of the action is to collect and document information, in situ, of human rights violations at checkpoints and in seam line villages in the whole of the West Bank and around Jerusalem and to disseminate such information. The main target group is the Palestinians whose daily lives are impacted by the Israeli military occupation. The secondary target group is the Israeli and foreign publics to whom such documentation needs urgently to be disseminated. The main activities planned are practical and impact on people's everyday lives: to document human rights abuse; to demonstrate our shared humanity with Palestinians; and to augment activities with video cameras to garner evidence and testimony from villages affected by the separation barrier, and Palestinian means of access to and from these villages.
Ir Amim (A.R.)	Penultimate Jerusalem: Overcoming the Obstacles to Final Status in Jerusalem	475,160 (80%)	2/9/2005 36 months	Ir Amim seeks to render Jerusalem a more viable city even under the current dire circumstances, while generating and promoting a more politically sustainable Jerusalem in the future. The project aims : "To help create conditions conducive to re-launching the peace process," specifically "clarifying issues that will need to be settled in final status negotiations, such as... the issue of Jerusalem." Specifically, the project targets Israeli decision makers and those who influence them (e.g., aides, advisors, the international diplomatic community) and the Israeli public – through direct meetings, media, study tours, work with opinion shapers, events, website, monitoring reports, legal work – aiming to change both public policy and public perception, regarding Jerusalem. Finally, the project intends to activate a group of Palestinian and Israeli stakeholders and experts to develop, and advocate for, a series of practical policy steps – in short and long term – to move toward final status in Jerusalem.
The Israeli Committee Against House Demolitions	RE-FRAMING: PROVIDING A COHERENT PARADIGM OF PEACE TO THE ISRAELI PUBLIC	472,786 (80%)	1/11/2005 24 months	This project proposal seeks to consolidate ICAHD's advocacy programme. It addresses four major needs: (1) The need for more efficient international advocacy and coordination; (2) the need to re-frame the public discussion from an exclusive focus on security to one based on human rights and international law; (3) the need to strengthen peace activities "on the ground" with other Israeli and Palestinian organizations; and (4) the need to strengthen ICAHD's organizational capabilities. The project's target groups comprise the broad "non-persuaded" political centre of Israeli society (both secular and religious), as well as high school students and Russian immigrants. The
