

JOSHUA GOODMAN is the communications director at the AJC Transatlantic Institute. He is also the presenter of “Good Evening, Brussels!”, a weekly international politics programme on 90.2 FM in Brussels. From 2006-2007, he served as an international affairs research fellow at AJC’s Office of Government and International Affairs in Washington, DC, where he was responsible for producing regular analytical pieces on Iran and briefing materials for AJC diplomatic missions. Joshua has also worked as the associate director of the European Foundation for Democracy in Brussels and the director of research for the Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD) in Washington, DC, where he also co-founded FDD’s Center for Terrorism Research. Joshua has published numerous articles on global security issues in leading publications in the US and Canada. He has appeared frequently on both television and radio, including serving as a regular Iran commentator on Al Jazeera English’s Inside Story programme. A native of Toronto, Canada, Joshua received his BA in history from York University and his MA in Middle Eastern history from Tel Aviv University.