

Proposal for a
REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL
laying down the Union Customs Code
(Recast)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Articles 33, 114 and 207 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national Parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee¹,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure²,

Whereas:

- (1) A number of changes are to be made to Regulation (EC) No 450/2008 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 April 2008 laying down the Community Customs Code (Modernised Customs Code)³. In the interests of clarity, that Regulation should be recast.
- (2) It is appropriate to ensure consistency of Regulation (EC) No 450/2008 with the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (the Treaty) in particular Articles 290 and 291 thereof to take account of the evolution of Union law and to adapt some provisions of that Regulation in order to facilitate their application.

² (to be completed with the acts of the European Parliament and of the Council in the OLP on the proposal for the recast Regulation)

(3) In order to supplement or amend certain non-essential elements of this Regulation, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level. The Commission, when preparing and drawing-up delegated acts, should ensure a simultaneous, timely and appropriate transmission of relevant documents to the European Parliament and Council.

(3a) In particular, the Commission should ensure the transparent consultation, well in advance when preparing and drawing up delegated acts, of the Member States' experts and the business community.

(4) In order to ensure uniform conditions for implementation of this Regulation, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission in respect of: the format and code of the common data requirements for the purpose of the exchange and storage of information between the customs authorities and between economic operators and customs authorities and the procedural rules on the exchange and storage of information to be made by means other than electronic data-processing techniques; [...] decisions allowing one or several Member States to use means of exchange and storage of [...] information other than electronic data-processing techniques; [...] the customs authority responsible for the registration of economic operators and other persons; the technical arrangements for the development, maintenance and employ of electronic systems; the procedural rules on the conferral and proving of the entitlement for a customs representative to provide services; the procedural rules on the submission and acceptance of the application for a decision, the taking of a decision and the monitoring of a decision; the procedural rules on the annulment, revocation and amendment of favourable decisions; the procedural rules on the use of a decision relating to binding information after it ceases to be valid or is revoked and the notification to the customs authorities that the taking of decisions relating to binding information is suspended and that this suspension is withdrawn; decisions requesting Member States to [...] revoke a decision relating to binding information; the modalities for the application of the criteria for the granting of the status of authorised economic operator; measures to ensure uniform application of customs controls, including the exchange of risk information an analysis, common risk criteria and standards, control measures and priority control areas; the ports or airports where formalities and controls are to be carried out on cabin and hold baggage; currency conversion; measures on the uniform management of tariff quota and tariff ceilings and the management of the surveillance of the release for free circulation or export of goods; the determination of the tariff classification of goods; the procedural rules on the provision and the verification of the proof of non-preferential origin; the procedural rules on the facilitation of the establishment in the Union of the preferential origin of goods; the granting of a temporary derogation from the rules on preferential origin of goods benefiting from preferential measures adopted unilaterally by the Union; the determination of the origin of specific goods; the procedural rules on the determination of the customs value of goods; the procedural rules on the provision of a guarantee, the determination of its amount, its monitoring and release and the revocation and cancellation of the undertaking given by a guarantor; measures [...] temporarily prohibiting the use of comprehensive guarantees; measures to ensure mutual assistance between the customs authorities in case of incurrence of a customs debt; the procedural rules on repayment and remission of an amount of import or export duty including the information to be provided to the Commission; decisions by the Commission on repayment or remission of an amount of import or export duty; the procedural rules on the lodging, amendment and invalidation of the entry summary declaration; the time limit within which risk analysis is to be carried out on the basis of the entry summary declaration; the procedural rules on the notification of arrival of means of transport and the conveyance of the goods to the appropriate place; the procedural rules on the presentation of goods to customs; the procedural rules on the lodging, amendment and invalidation of the declaration for temporary storage and the movement of goods in temporary storage; the procedural rules for the provision and the verification of the proof of the customs status of Union goods; the procedural rules on the determination of competent customs offices other than the one responsible for the place where the goods are presented to customs and the lodging of the customs declaration where other means than electronic-data processing techniques are used; the procedural rules on the lodging of the standard customs declaration and the availability of the supporting documents; the procedural rules on the lodging of the simplified declaration and the supplementary declaration; the procedural rules on the lodging of the customs declaration prior to the presentation of the goods to customs, the acceptance of the customs declaration and the amendment of the customs declaration after the release of the goods; measures for the determination of the tariff subheading of the goods which are subject to the highest rate of import or export duty where a consignment is made of goods falling under different tariff subheadings; the procedural rules on centralised clearance and the waiver from the obligation for goods to be presented in that context; the procedural rules on entry in the declarant's records; the procedural rules on the customs formalities and controls to be carried out by the holder of the authorisation in the context of self-assessment; measures on the verification of the customs declaration; the procedural rules on the disposal of goods; the procedural rules on the provision of the information establishing that the conditions for relief from import duty for returned goods are fulfilled; the procedural rules on the provision of the evidence that the conditions for relief from import duty for products of sea-fishing and other products taken from the sea are fulfilled; the procedural rules on the examination of the economic conditions in the context of special procedures; the procedural rules on the discharge of a special procedure; the procedural rules on the transfer of rights and obligations and the movement of goods in the context of special procedures; the procedural rules on the use of equivalent goods in the context of special procedures; the procedural rules to apply in the customs territory of the Union the provisions of international transit instruments [...]; the procedural rules on the placing of goods under the Union transit procedure, the end of that procedure, the operation of the simplifications of that customs procedure and the customs supervision of goods passing through the territory of a country or territory outside the customs territory of the Union under the external Union transit procedure; the procedural rules on the placing of goods under the customs warehousing or free zone procedure; the time limit within which risk analysis is to be carried out on the basis of the pre-departure declaration; the procedural rules on the exit of goods; the procedural rules on the lodging, amendment and invalidation of the exit summary declaration; the procedural rules on the lodging, amendment and invalidation of the re-export notification; the adoption within 6 months of the entry into force of the Code of a work programme supporting the development of related electronic systems and governing the setting up of transitional periods; decisions authorising Member States to test simplifications in the application of the customs legislation, especially when IT related. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011 laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers⁴.

- (4a) Considering the cooperation which is needed between the Member States and the Commission to develop, maintain and employ the electronic systems required for the implementation of the Code, the Commission may not adopt the work programme supporting that development and governing the setting up of transitional periods where no opinion is delivered by the committee on the draft implementing act containing it.
- (5) The advisory procedure should be used for the adoption of: [...] decisions allowing one or several Member States to use means of exchange and storage of information other than electronic data-processing techniques, given that those decisions do not affect all Member States; [...] decisions requesting Member States to revoke decisions relating to binding information, given that those decisions affect only one Member State and aim at ensuring compliance with customs legislation; decisions on repayment or remission of an amount of import or export duty given that those decisions directly affect the applicant for that repayment or remission.
- (6) In duly justified cases, where imperative grounds of urgency so require, the Commission should adopt immediately applicable implementing acts relating to: [...] measures to ensure uniform application of customs controls, including the exchange of risk information an analysis, common risk criteria and standards, control measures and priority control areas; the determination of the tariff classification of goods; the determination of the origin of specific goods; measures [...] temporarily prohibiting the use of comprehensive guarantees.
- (7) The Union is based upon a customs union. It is advisable, in the interests both of economic operators and of the customs authorities in the Union, to assemble current customs legislation in a Union Customs Code. Based on the concept of an internal market, that Code should contain the general rules and procedures which ensure the implementation of the tariff and other common policy measures introduced at Union level in connection with trade in goods between the Union and countries or territories outside the customs territory of the Union, taking into account the requirements of those common policies. Customs legislation should be better aligned on the provisions relating to the collection of import charges without change to the scope of the tax provisions in force.

- (7a) Further modernisation of the Union's customs legislation should take due account of the views of economic operators in order to ensure effective administrative simplification.*
- (8) In accordance with the Communication from the Commission concerning the protection of the Community's financial interests and the Action Plan for 2004-2005⁵, it is appropriate to adapt the legal framework for the protection of the financial interests of the Union.
- (9) Council Regulation (EEC) No 2913/92 of 12 October 1992 establishing the Community Customs Code⁶ was based upon integration of the customs procedures applied separately in the respective Member States during the 1980s. That Regulation has been repeatedly and substantially amended since its introduction, in order to address specific problems such as the protection of good faith or the taking into account of security requirements. Further amendments to that Regulation were introduced by Regulation (EC) No 450/2008 as a consequence of the important legal changes which have occurred in recent years, at both Union and international level, such as the expiry of the Treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community and the entry into force of the 2003, [...] 2005 and 2011 Acts of Accession, as well as the Amendment to the International Convention on the simplification and harmonisation of customs procedures (the revised Kyoto Convention), the accession of the Union to which was approved by Council Decision 2003/231/EC⁷.
- (10) It is appropriate to introduce in the Union Customs Code a legal framework for the application of certain provisions of the customs legislation to trade in Union goods between parts of the customs territory to which the provisions of Council Directive 2006/112/EC of 28 November 2006 on the common system of value added tax⁸ or Council Directive 2008/118/EC of 16 December 2008 concerning the general arrangements for excise duty and repealing Directive 92/12/EEC⁹ apply and parts of that territory where those provisions do not apply, or to trade between parts where those provisions do not apply. Considering the fact that the goods concerned are Union goods and the fiscal nature of the measures at stake in that intra-Union trade, it is justified to introduce, appropriate simplifications to the customs formalities to be applied to those goods.

- (11) In order to take into account the special fiscal regime of certain parts of the customs territory of the Union, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the customs formalities and controls to be applied to the trade in Union goods between those parts and the rest of the customs territory of the Union.
- (12) The facilitation of legitimate trade and the fight against fraud require simple, rapid and standard customs procedures and processes. It is therefore appropriate, in line with the Communication from the Commission on a simple and paperless environment for customs and trade¹, to simplify customs legislation, to allow the use of modern tools and technology and to promote further the uniform application of customs legislation and modernised approaches to customs control, thus helping to ensure the basis for efficient and simple clearance procedures. Customs procedures should be merged or aligned and the number of procedures reduced to those that are economically justified, with a view to increasing the competitiveness of business.
- (13) The completion of the internal market, the reduction of barriers to international trade and investment and the reinforced need to ensure security and safety at the external borders of the Union have transformed the role of customs authorities giving them a leading role within the supply chain and, in their monitoring and management of international trade, making them a catalyst to the competitiveness of countries and companies. Customs legislation should therefore reflect the new economic reality and the new role and mission of customs authorities.
- (14) The use of information and communication technologies, as laid down in Decision No 70/2008/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on a paperless environment for customs and trade¹¹, is a key element in ensuring trade facilitation and, at the same time, the effectiveness of customs controls, thus reducing costs for business and risk for society. It is therefore necessary to establish in the Union Customs Code the legal framework within which that Decision can be implemented, in particular the legal principle that all customs and trade transactions are to be handled electronically and that information and communication systems for customs operations are to offer, in each Member State, the same facilities to economic operators.

- (15) In order to ensure paperless environment for customs and trade the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of common data requirements [...] for the purpose of the exchange and storage of information using electronic data processing techniques, [...] cases where other means may be used for such exchange and storage and registration of persons. Means other than electronic data processing techniques could be used in particular on a transitional basis, where the necessary electronic systems are not yet operational, but not beyond 31 December 2020. Insofar as centralised clearance is concerned, those transitional measures would consist, until the necessary electronic systems are operational, in maintaining the procedure currently known as the 'single authorisation for simplified procedures'.
- (16) [...] use of information and communication technologies should be accompanied by harmonised and standardised application of customs controls by the Member States, to ensure an equivalent level of customs control throughout the Union so as not to give rise to anti-competitive behaviour at the various Union entry and exit points.
- (17) In the interests of facilitating business, while at the same time providing for the proper levels of control of goods brought into or taken out of the customs territory of the Union, it is desirable that the information provided by economic operators be shared, taking account of the relevant data-protection provisions, between customs authorities and with other agencies involved in that control. Those controls should be harmonised, so that the economic operator need give the information only once and that goods are controlled by those authorities at the same time and at the same place.
- (18) In the interests of facilitating business, all persons should continue to have the right to appoint a representative in their dealings with the customs authorities. However, it should no longer be possible for that right of representation to be reserved under a law laid down by one of the Member States. Furthermore, a customs representative who complies with the criteria for the granting of the status of authorised economic operator for customs simplifications, should be entitled to provide his services in a Member State other than the one where he is established.

In principle a customs representative should be established in the customs territory of the Union. That obligation should be waived where the customs representative is acting on behalf of persons who are not required to be established within the customs territory of the Union or in other justified cases.

- (20) Decisions relating to the application of the customs legislation, including to binding information, should be covered by the same rules. Any such decisions should be valid throughout the Union and should be capable of being annulled, amended except where otherwise stipulated, or revoked where they do not conform to the customs legislation or its interpretation.
- (21) In accordance with the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, it is necessary, in addition to the right of appeal against any decision taken by the customs authorities, to provide for the right of every person to be heard before any decision is taken which would adversely affect him. However, restrictions to this right may be justified in particular where the nature or the level of the threat to the security and safety of the Union and its residents, to human, animal or plant health, to the environment or to consumers so requires.
- (22) The streamlining of customs procedures within an electronic environment requires the sharing of responsibilities between the customs authorities of different Member States. It is necessary to ensure an appropriate level of effective, dissuasive and proportionate sanctions throughout the internal market.
- (22a) Compliant and trustworthy economic operators should enjoy the status of authorised economic operator subject to the granting of an authorisation for customs simplifications or an authorisation for security and safety, or both. Depending on the type of authorisation granted, authorised economic operators should be able to take maximum advantage of widespread use of customs simplifications or benefit from facilitations relating to security and safety. They should also be given more favourable treatment in respect of customs controls, such as fewer physical and document-based controls.*
- (22b) Compliant and trustworthy economic operators should benefit from international mutual recognition of 'authorised economic operators' status.*

- (23) In order to secure a balance between, on the one hand, the need for customs authorities to ensure the correct application of customs legislation and, on the other, the right of economic operators to be treated fairly, the customs authorities should be granted extensive powers of control and economic operators a right of appeal.
- (24) In order to minimise the risk to the Union, its citizens and its trading partners, the harmonised application of customs controls by the Member States should be based upon a common risk management framework and an electronic system for its implementation. The establishment of a risk management framework common to all Member States should not prevent them from controlling goods by random checks.
- (25) In order to ensure a consistent and equal treatment of persons concerned by customs formalities and controls the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of determining [...] other cases where the customs representative is not obliged to be established in the customs territory of the Union and rules relating to decisions taken by the customs authorities, including those relating to [...] binding information, authorised economic operator and simplifications.
- (26) It is necessary to establish the factors on the basis of which import or export duty and other measures in respect of trade in goods are applied. It is also appropriate to lay down more detailed provisions for issuing proofs of origin in the Union, where the exigencies of trade so require.
- (27) In order to supplement the factors on the basis of which import or export duty and other measures are applied, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of rules on origin [...] of goods.
- (28) It is desirable to group together all cases of incurrence of a customs debt on importation, other than following the submission of a customs declaration for release for free circulation or temporary admission with partial relief, in order to avoid difficulties in determining the legal basis on which the customs debt was incurred. The same should apply in cases of incurrence of a customs debt on exportation.

(29) It is appropriate to establish the place where the customs debt is incurred and where the import or export duty should be recovered.

(30) [...]

(31) The rules for special procedures should allow for the use of a single guarantee for all categories of special procedures and for that guarantee to be comprehensive, covering a number of transactions.

(31a) A comprehensive guarantee with a reduced amount, including for customs debts and other charges which have been incurred, or a comprehensive guarantee with a guarantee waiver, should be authorised under certain conditions. A comprehensive guarantee with a reduced amount for customs debts and other charges which have been incurred should be equivalent to the provision of a guarantee for the whole amount of import or export duty payable, in particular for the purposes of the release of the goods concerned and of the entry in the accounts.

(32) In order to ensure better protection of the financial interests of the Union and of the Member States, a guarantee should cover non-declared or incorrectly declared goods included in a consignment or in a declaration for which it is provided. For the same reason, the undertaking of the guarantor should also cover amounts of import or export duty which fall to be paid following post-release controls.

(33) In order to safeguard the financial interests of the Union and of the Member States and to curb fraudulent practices, arrangements involving graduated measures for the application of a comprehensive guarantee are advisable. Where there is an increased risk of fraud it should be possible to prohibit temporarily the application of the comprehensive guarantee, taking account of the particular situation of the economic operators concerned.

(34) It is appropriate to take account of the good faith of the person concerned in cases where a customs debt is incurred through non-compliance with customs legislation and to minimise the impact of negligence on the part of the debtor.

- (35) In order to protect the financial interests of the Union and of the Member States and to supplement the rules concerning the customs debt and the guarantees, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the place of incurrence of the customs debt, the calculation of the amount of import and export duty, the guarantee of that amount and the recovery, repayment, remission and extinguishment of the customs debt.
- (36) It is necessary to lay down the principle of how to determine the customs status of Union goods and the circumstances pertaining to the loss of such status, and to provide a basis for determining when that status remains unaltered in cases where goods are temporarily brought out of the customs territory of the Union.
- (37) In order to ensure free movement of Union goods in the customs territory of the Union and customs treatment of non-Union goods brought into that territory, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the determination of the customs status of goods, the loss of the customs status of Union goods, the preservation of that status for goods temporarily leaving the customs territory of the Union [...] and the [...] duty relief for returned goods [...].
- (38) It is appropriate, where an economic operator has provided, in advance, the information necessary for risk-based controls on the admissibility of the goods, to ensure that quick release of goods is then the rule. Fiscal and trade policy controls should primarily be performed by the customs office competent in respect of the premises of the economic operator.
- (39) The rules for customs declarations and for the placing of goods under a customs procedure should be modernised and streamlined, in particular by requiring that customs declarations be, as a rule, made electronically and providing for only one type of simplified declaration and for the possibility to lodge a customs declaration in the form of an entry in the declarant's records.
- (40) Since the revised Kyoto Convention favours the lodging, registering and checking of the customs declaration prior to the arrival of the goods and, furthermore, the dissociation of the place where the declaration is lodged from the place where the goods are physically located, it is appropriate to provide for centralised clearance at the place where the economic operator is established.

- (41) It is appropriate to lay down at Union level the rules governing the destruction or disposal otherwise of goods by the customs authorities, those being matters which have previously required national legislation.
- (42) In order to supplement the rules regarding the placing of goods under a customs procedure and ensure equal treatment of the persons concerned, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the [...] rules relating to the customs declaration and [...] the release of goods.
- (43) It is appropriate to lay down common and simple rules for the special procedures, supplemented by a small set of rules for each category of special procedure, in order to make it simple for the operator to choose the right procedure, to avoid errors and to reduce the number of post-release recoveries and repayments.
- (44) The granting of authorisations for several special procedures with a single guarantee and a single supervising customs office should be facilitated and there should be simple rules on the incurrence of a customs debt in these cases. The basic principle should be that goods placed under a special procedure, or the products made from them, are to be assessed at the time when the customs debt is incurred. However, it should also be possible, where economically justified, to assess the goods at the time when they were placed under a special procedure. The same principles should apply to usual forms of handling.
- (45) In view of the increased security-related measures, the placing of goods into free zones should become a customs procedure and the goods should be subject to customs controls at entry and with regard to records.
- (46) Given that the intention of re-exportation is no longer necessary, the inward processing suspension procedure should be merged with processing under customs control and the inward processing drawback procedure abandoned. This single inward processing procedure should also cover destruction, except where destruction is carried out by, or under the supervision of customs.

- (47) In order to supplement the rules on special procedures and ensure equal treatment of the persons concerned, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the [...] rules relating to cases where goods are placed under special procedures, movements, usual forms of handling and equivalence of those goods and discharge of those procedures.
- (48) Security-related measures relating to Union goods taken out of the customs territory of the Union should apply equally to the re-export of non-Union goods. The same rules should apply to all types of goods, with the possibility of exceptions where necessary, such as for goods only transiting through the customs territory of the Union.
- (49) In order to ensure the customs supervision of goods brought into and taken out of the customs territory of the Union and the application of security-related measures, the power to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the rules [...] relating to entry summary declaration [...] and pre-departure declarations [...].
- (49a) In order to explore further customs and trade facilitation, in particular by making use of the most recent tools and technology, Member States should be authorised, under certain conditions and upon application, to test for a limited period of time simplifications in the application of the customs legislation. This possibility should not jeopardise the application of that legislation, or create new obligations for economic operators, who may take part in these tests on a purely voluntary basis.*
- (50) In accordance with the principle of proportionality, it is necessary and appropriate, for the achievement of the basic objectives of enabling the customs union to function effectively and implementing the common commercial policy, to lay down the general rules and procedures applicable to goods brought into or taken out of the customs territory of the Union. This Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve the objectives pursued, in accordance with the first subparagraph of Article 5(4) of the Treaty on European Union.

- (51) In order to simplify and rationalise customs legislation, a number of provisions presently contained in autonomous Union acts have, for the sake of transparency, been incorporated into the Union Customs Code. Council Regulation (EEC) No 3925/91 of 19 December 1991 concerning the elimination of controls and formalities applicable to the cabin and hold baggage of persons taking an intra-Community flight and the baggage of persons making an intra-Community sea crossing¹², Regulation (EEC) No 2913/92, Council Regulation (EC) No 1207/2001 of 11 June 2001 on procedures to facilitate the issue or the making out in the Community of proofs of origin and the issue of certain approved exporter authorisations under the provisions governing preferential trade between the European Community and certain countries¹³, and Regulation (EC) No 450/2008 should therefore be repealed.
- (52) The Articles setting out the delegation of power and the conferral of implementing powers and Article 46 on charges and costs should apply from the date of entry into force of this Regulation. The other provisions should apply from the first day of the first month after [...] 30 months following that date.
- (53) This Regulation should be without prejudice to existing and future Union rules on access to documents adopted in accordance with Article 15(3) of the Treaty. It is also without prejudice to national rules on access to documents.
- (54) The Commission should make every effort so that the delegated acts and implementing acts enter into force sufficiently in advance of the application date of the Code to allow timely implementation by Member States,

3. BTI or BOI decisions shall be valid for a period of 3 years from the date on which the decision takes effect.

4. For the application of a BTI or BOI decision in the context of a particular customs procedure, the holder of the decision shall be able to prove that:
- (a) in the case of a BTI decision, the goods declared correspond in every respect to those described in the decision;
 - (b) in the case of a BOI decision, the goods in question and the circumstances determining the acquisition of origin correspond in every respect to the goods and the circumstances described in the decision.

Article 32a

Management of decisions relating to binding information

1. BTI decisions shall cease to be valid before the end of the period referred to in Article 32(3) where they no longer conform to the law, in the following cases:

(a) adoption of an amendment to the nomenclatures referred to in Article 49(2)(a) and (b);

(b) adoption of measures referred to in Article 50(4);

with effect from the date of application of such amendment or measures.

2. BOI decisions shall cease to be valid before the end of the period referred to in Article 32(3) in the following cases:

(a) where a regulation is adopted or an agreement is concluded by and becomes applicable in the Union and the decision no longer conforms to the law thereby laid down, with effect from the date of application of that regulation or agreement;

(b) where they are no longer compatible with the Agreement on Rules of Origin established in the World Trade Organization (WTO) or with the explanatory notes or an origin opinion adopted for the interpretation of that Agreement, with effect from the date of their publication in the Official Journal of the European Union.

3. BTI or BOI decisions shall not cease to be valid with retroactive effect.

4. By way of derogation from Article 24a(3) and Article 28, BTI and BOI decisions shall be annulled where they are based on inaccurate or incomplete information from the applicants.

6. BTI and BOI decisions may not be amended.

7. The customs authorities shall revoke BTI decisions:

- (a) where they are no longer compatible with the interpretation of any of the nomenclatures referred to in Article 49(2)(a) and (b) resulting from:
- (i) explanatory notes referred to in the second indent of Article 9(1)(a) of Regulation (EEC) No 2658/87 with effect from the date of their publication;
 - (ii) a judgement of the Court of Justice of the European Union, with effect from the date of publication of the operative part of this judgement in the Official Journal of the European Union;

That period of extended use shall not exceed 6 months from the date on which the BTI or BOI decision ceases to be valid or is revoked. However, a measure referred to in Article 50(4) or in Article 59 may exclude the application of the first subparagraph or lay down a shorter period of time. In the case of products for which an import or export certificate is submitted when customs formalities are carried out, the period of 6 months shall be replaced by the period of validity of the certificate.

To benefit from the extended use of a BTI or BOI decision, the holder of that decision shall lodge an application to the customs authority that took the decision within 30 days from the date on which it ceases to be valid or is revoked, indicating the quantities for which a period of extended use is requested and the Member State or Member States in which goods will be cleared under the period of extended use. Application of penalties

1. Each Member State shall provide for penalties for failure to comply with the customs legislation. Such penalties shall be effective, proportionate and dissuasive.

 - (b) the revocation, suspension or amendment of any authorisation held by the person concerned.
3. Member States shall notify the Commission, within 180 days from the date of application of this Article, as determined in accordance with Article 247(2), of the national provisions in force as envisaged in paragraph 1 and shall notify it without delay of any subsequent amendment affecting them.

Section 6

Appeals

Article 36

Decisions taken by a judicial authority

Article 37

Right of appeal

Article 38

Suspension of implementation

1. The submission of an appeal shall not cause implementation of the disputed decision to be suspended.
2. The customs authorities shall, however, suspend implementation of such a decision in whole or in part where they have good reason to believe that the disputed decision is inconsistent with customs legislation or that irreparable damage is to be feared for the person concerned.
3. In the cases referred to in paragraph 2, where the disputed decision has the effect of causing import or export duty to be payable, suspension of implementation of that decision shall be conditional upon the provision of a guarantee, unless it is established, on the basis of a documented assessment, that such a guarantee would be likely to cause the debtor serious economic or social difficulties.

Section 7

Control of goods

Article 39

Risk management and customs controls

1. The customs authorities may carry out all the customs controls they deem necessary.

Customs controls may in particular consist of examining goods, taking samples, verifying the accuracy and completeness of the information given in a declaration [...] or notification and the existence, [...] authenticity, accuracy and validity of documents, examining the accounts of economic operators and other records, inspecting means of transport, inspecting luggage and other goods carried by or on persons and carrying out official enquiries and other similar acts.

2. Customs controls, other than random checks, shall primarily be based on risk analysis using electronic data-processing techniques, with the purpose of identifying and evaluating the risks and developing the necessary counter-measures, on the basis of criteria developed at national, Union and, where available, international level.
3. Customs controls shall be performed within a common risk management framework, based upon the exchange of risk information and risk analysis results between customs administrations and establishing, common risk criteria and standards, control measures and priority control areas.

Controls based upon such information and criteria shall be carried out without prejudice to other controls carried out in accordance with paragraph 1 or with other provisions in force.

4. Customs authorities shall undertake risk management to differentiate between the levels of risk associated with goods subject to customs control or supervision and to determine whether or not, and if so where, the goods will be subject to specific customs controls.

The risk management shall include activities such as collecting data and information, analysing and assessing risk, prescribing and taking action and regular monitoring and review of that process and its outcomes, based on international, Union and national sources and strategies.

5. Customs authorities shall exchange risk information and risk analysis results in the following circumstances:
 - (a) the risks are assessed by a customs authority as significant and requiring customs control and the results of the control establish that the event, triggering the risks has occurred;
 - (b) the control results do not establish that the event, triggering the risks has occurred, but the customs authority concerned considers the threat to present a high risk elsewhere in the Union.
 6. For the establishment of the common risk criteria and standards, the control measures and the priority control areas referred to in paragraph 3, account shall be taken of the following:
 - (a) proportionality to the risk;
 - (b) the urgency of the necessary application of the controls;
 - (c) probable impact on trade flow, on individual Member States and on control resources.

Article 40

Cooperation between authorities

1. Where, in respect of the same goods, controls other than customs controls are to be performed by competent authorities other than the customs authorities, customs authorities shall, in close cooperation with those other authorities, endeavour to have those controls performed, wherever possible, at the same time and place as customs controls (one-stop-shop), with customs authorities having the coordinating role in achieving this.
2. In the framework of the controls referred to in this Section, customs and other competent authorities may, where necessary for the purposes of minimising risk and combating fraud, exchange with each other and with the Commission data received in the context of the entry, exit, transit, movement, storage and end-use of goods, including postal traffic, moved between the customs territory of the Union and countries or territories outside the customs territory of the Union, the presence and movement within the customs territory of non-Union goods and goods placed under the end-use procedure, and the results of any control. Customs authorities and the Commission may also exchange such data with each other for the purpose of ensuring a uniform application of the customs legislation.

Article 41

Post-release control

For the purpose of customs controls, the customs authorities may [...] verify the accuracy and completeness of the [...] information given in a customs declaration, declaration for temporary storage, entry summary declaration, exit summary declaration, re-export [...] declaration or re-export [...] notification, and [...] the existence, authenticity, accuracy and validity of any supporting document and examine the accounts of the declarant and other records relating to the operations in respect of the goods in question or to prior or subsequent commercial operations involving those goods after having released them. Those authorities may also examine such goods and/or take samples where it is still possible for them to do so.

Such [...] controls may be carried out at the premises of the holder of the goods or his representative, of any other person directly or indirectly involved in those operations in a business capacity or of any other person in possession of those documents and data for business purposes.

Article 42

1. Customs controls or formalities shall be carried out in respect of the cabin and hold baggage of persons either taking an intra-Union flight, or making an intra-Union sea crossing, only where the customs legislation provides for such controls or formalities.

Article 56

Preferential origin of goods

1. In order to benefit from the measures referred to in points (d) or (e) of Article 49(2) or from non-tariff preferential measures, goods shall comply with the rules on preferential origin referred to in paragraphs 2 to 5.

In the case of goods benefiting from preferential measures contained in agreements which the Union has concluded with certain countries or territories outside the customs territory of the Union or with groups of such countries or territories, the rules on preferential origin shall be laid down in those agreements.
3. In the case of goods benefiting from preferential measures adopted unilaterally by the Union in respect of certain countries or territories outside the customs territory of the Union or groups of such countries or territories, other than those referred to in paragraph 5, the Commission shall adopt measures laying down the rules on preferential origin.

Those rules shall be based either on the criterion that goods are wholly obtained or on the criterion that goods result from sufficient processing or working.

4. In the case of goods benefiting from preferential measures applicable in trade between the customs territory of the Union and Ceuta and Melilla, as contained in Protocol 2 to the 1985 Act of Accession, the rules on preferential origin shall be adopted in accordance with Article 9 of that Protocol.
5. In the case of goods benefiting from preferential measures contained in preferential arrangements in favour of the overseas countries and territories associated with the Union, the rules on preferential origin shall be adopted in accordance with Article 203 of the Treaty.

6. Upon its own initiative or on request by a beneficiary country or territory, the Commission may, for certain goods, grant that country or territory a temporary derogation from the rules on preferential origin referred to in paragraph 3.

The temporary derogation shall be justified by one of the following reasons:

- (a) internal or external factors temporarily deprive the beneficiary country or territory of the ability to comply with the rules on preferential origin;
- (b) the beneficiary country or territory requires time to prepare itself to comply with these rules.

A request for derogation shall be made in writing to the Commission by the beneficiary country or territory concerned, state the reasons, as indicated in the second subparagraph, why derogation is required and contain appropriate supporting documents.

The temporary derogation shall be limited to the duration of the effects of the internal or external factors giving rise to it or the length of time needed for the beneficiary country or territory to achieve compliance with the rules.

Where a derogation is granted, the beneficiary country or territory concerned shall comply with any requirements laid down as to information to be provided to the Commission concerning the use of the derogation and the management of the quantities for which the derogation is granted.

Scope

The customs value of goods, for the purposes of applying the Common Customs Tariff and non-tariff measures laid down by Union provisions governing specific fields relating to trade in goods, shall be determined in accordance with Articles 62 and 63.

Article 62

1. The primary basis for the customs value of goods shall be the transaction value, that is the price actually paid or payable for the goods when sold for export to the customs territory of the Union, adjusted, where necessary.
2. The price actually paid or payable shall be the total payment made or to be made by the buyer to the seller or by the buyer to a third party for the benefit of the seller for the imported goods and include all payments made or to be made as a condition of sale of the imported goods.
3. The transaction value shall apply provided that the following conditions are satisfied:
 - (a) there are no restrictions as to the disposal or use of the goods by the buyer, other than any of the following:
 - (i) restrictions imposed or required by a law or by the public authorities in the Union;
 - (ii) limitations of the geographical area in which the goods may be resold;

- (c) no part of the proceeds of any subsequent resale, disposal or use of the goods by the buyer will accrue directly or indirectly to the seller, unless an appropriate adjustment can be made;
- (d) the buyer and seller are not related or the relationship did not influence the price.

4. [...]

Article 62a

Elements of the transaction value

1. In determining the customs value under Article 62, there shall be added to the price actually paid or payable for the imported goods:
 - (a) the following, to the extent that they are incurred by the buyer but are not included in the price actually paid or payable for the goods:
 - (i) commissions and brokerage, except buying commissions,
 - (ii) the cost of containers which are treated as being one, for customs purposes, with the goods in question,
 - (iii) the cost of packing, whether for labour or materials;
 - (b) the value, apportioned as appropriate, of the following goods and services where supplied directly or indirectly by the buyer free of charge or at reduced cost for use in connection with the production and sale for export of the imported goods, to the extent that such value has not been included in the price actually paid or payable:

- (i) materials, components, parts and similar items incorporated in the imported goods;*
 - (ii) tools, dies, moulds and similar items used in the production of the imported goods;*
 - (iii) materials consumed in the production of the imported goods;*
 - (iv) engineering, development, artwork, design work, and plans and sketches undertaken elsewhere than in the Union and necessary for the production of the imported goods;*
- (c) royalties and licence fees related to the goods being valued that the buyer must pay, either directly or indirectly, as a condition of sale of the goods being valued, to the extent that such royalties and fees are not included in the price actually paid or payable;*

- (e) the following costs up to the place where goods are brought into the customs territory of the Union:*
- (i) the cost of transport and insurance of the imported goods;*
 - (ii) loading and handling charges associated with the transport of the imported goods.*
- 2. Additions to the price actually paid or payable shall be made under this Article only on the basis of objective and quantifiable data.*

Article 62aa

Elements not to be included in the customs value

- (c) charges for interest under a financing arrangement entered into by the buyer and relating to the purchase of the imported goods, irrespective of whether the finance is provided by the seller or another person, provided that the financing arrangement has been made in writing and where required, the buyer can demonstrate that the following conditions are fulfilled:
 - (i) such goods are actually sold at the price declared as the price actually paid or payable;*
 - (ii) the claimed rate of interest does not exceed the level for such transactions prevailing in the country where, and at the time when, the finance was provided;

Simplification

The customs authorities may, upon application, authorise that the following amounts be determined on the basis of specific criteria, where these amounts are not quantifiable on the date on which the customs declaration is accepted:

- (a) amounts which are to be included in the customs value in accordance with Article 62(2);*
- (b) amounts referred to in Articles 62a and 62aa.*

Article 63

Secondary methods of customs valuation

1. Where the customs value of goods cannot be determined under Article 62, it shall be determined by proceeding sequentially from point (a) to point (d) of paragraph 2, until the first point under which the customs value of goods can be determined.

The order of application of points (c) and (d) shall be reversed if the declarant so requests.

2. The customs value, pursuant to paragraph 1, shall be:
 - (a) the transaction value of identical goods sold for export to the customs territory of the Union and exported at or about the same time as the goods being valued;
 - (b) the transaction value of similar goods sold for export to the customs territory of the Union and exported at or about the same time as the goods being valued;

3. Where the customs value cannot be determined under paragraph 1, it shall be determined on the basis of data available in the customs territory of the Union, using reasonable means consistent with the principles and general provisions of the following:

- (a) the agreement on implementation of Article VII of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade;

 - (a) release for free circulation, including under the end-use provisions;
 - (b) temporary admission with partial relief from import duty .
2. A customs debt shall be incurred at the time of acceptance of the customs declaration.
3. The declarant shall be the debtor. In the event of indirect representation, the person on whose behalf the customs declaration is made shall also be a debtor.

Where a customs declaration in respect of one of the procedures referred to in paragraph 1 is drawn up on the basis of information which leads to all or part of the import duty not being collected, the person who provided the information required to draw up the declaration and who knew, or who ought reasonably to have known, that such information was false shall also be a debtor.

Article 66

Special provisions relating to non-originating goods

1. Where a prohibition of drawback of, or exemption from, import duty applies to non-originating goods used in the manufacture of products for which a proof of origin is issued or made out in the framework of a preferential arrangement between the Union and certain countries or territories outside the customs territory of the Union or groups of such countries or territories, a customs debt on importation shall be incurred in respect of those non-originating goods, through the acceptance of the re-export [...] declaration relating to the products in question.
2. Where a customs debt is incurred pursuant to paragraph 1, the amount of import duty corresponding to that debt shall be determined under the same conditions as in the case of a customs debt resulting from the acceptance, on the same date, of the customs declaration for release for free circulation of the non-originating goods used in the manufacture of the products in question for the purpose of ending the inward processing procedure.
3. Article 65(2) and (3) shall apply. However, in the case of non-Union goods as referred to in Article 235 the person who lodges the re-export [...] declaration shall be the debtor. In the event of indirect representation, the person on whose behalf the [...] declaration is lodged shall also be a debtor.

Article 67

Customs debt incurred through non-compliance

1. For goods liable to import duty, a customs debt on importation shall be incurred through non-compliance with any of the following:

- (b) one of the obligations laid down in customs legislation concerning the end-use of goods within the customs territory of the Union;
- (c) a condition governing the placing of non-Union goods under a customs procedure or the granting, by virtue of the end-use of the goods, of duty exemption or a reduced rate of import duty.

- (a) the moment when the obligation the non-fulfilment of which gives rise to the customs debt is not met or ceases to be met;
- (b) the moment when a customs declaration is accepted for the placing of goods under a customs procedure where it is established subsequently that a condition governing the placing of the goods under that procedure or the granting of a duty exemption or a reduced rate of import duty by virtue of the end-use of the goods was not in fact fulfilled.

3. In cases referred to under points (a) and (b) of paragraph 1, the debtor shall be any of the following:

- (a) any person who was required to fulfil the obligations concerned;
- (b) any person who was aware or should reasonably have been aware that an obligation under the customs legislation was not fulfilled and who acted on behalf of the person who was obliged to fulfil the obligation, or who participated in the act which led to the non-fulfilment of the obligation;

In cases referred to under point (c) of paragraph 1, the debtor shall be the person who is required to comply with the conditions governing the placing of the goods under a customs procedure or the customs declaration of the goods placed under that customs procedure or the granting of a duty exemption or reduced rate of import duty by virtue of the end-use of the goods.

Where a customs declaration in respect of one of the customs procedures referred to in point (c) of paragraph 1 is drawn up, and any information required under the customs legislation relating to the conditions governing the placing of the goods under that customs procedure is given to the customs authorities, which leads to all or part of the import duty not being collected, the person who provided the information required to draw up the customs declaration and who knew, or who ought reasonably to have known, that such information was false shall also be a debtor.

Article 68

Deduction of an amount of import duty already paid

1. Where a customs debt is incurred, pursuant to Article 67(1) in respect of goods released for free circulation at a reduced rate of import duty on account of their end-use, the amount of import duty paid when the goods were released for free circulation shall be deducted from the amount of import duty corresponding to the customs debt.

The first subparagraph shall apply where a customs debt is incurred in respect of scrap and waste resulting from the destruction of such goods.

2. Where a customs debt is incurred, pursuant to Article 67(1) in respect of goods placed under temporary admission with partial relief from import duty, the amount of import duty paid under partial relief shall be deducted from the amount of import duty corresponding to the customs debt.

Article 70

1. For goods liable to export duty, a customs debt on exportation shall be incurred through non-compliance with either of the following:
 - (a) one of the obligations laid down in customs legislation for the exit of the goods;
 - (b) the conditions under which the goods were allowed to be brought out of the customs territory of the Union with total or partial relief from export duty.

2. The time at which the customs debt is incurred shall be one of the following:
 - (a) the moment at which the goods are actually brought out of the customs territory of the Union without a customs declaration;
 - (b) the moment at which the goods reach a destination other than that for which they were allowed to be brought out of the customs territory of the Union with total or partial relief from export duty;
 - (c) should the customs authorities be unable to determine the moment referred in point (b), the expiry of the time-limit set for the production of evidence that the conditions entitling the goods to such relief have been fulfilled.

3. In cases referred to under point (a) of paragraph 1, the debtor shall be any of the following:

 - (b) the introduction into the customs territory of the Union of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances other than where strictly supervised by the competent authorities with a view to their use for medical and scientific purposes.
3. For the purposes of penalties as applicable to customs offences, the customs debt shall nevertheless be deemed to have been incurred where, under the law of a Member State, import or export duty or the existence of a customs debt provide the basis for determining penalties.

Article 72

Several debtors

Where several persons are liable for payment of the amount of import or export duty corresponding to one customs debt, they shall be jointly and severally liable for payment of that amount.

Article 73

General rules for calculation of the amount of import or export duty

1. The amount of import or export duty shall be determined on the basis of those rules for calculation of duty which were applicable to the goods concerned at the time at which the customs debt in respect of them was incurred.
2. Where it is not possible to determine precisely the time at which the customs debt is incurred, that time shall be deemed to be the time at which the customs authorities conclude that the goods are in a situation in which a customs debt has been incurred.

However, where the information available to the customs authorities enables them to establish that the customs debt had been incurred prior to the time at which they reached that conclusion, the customs debt shall be deemed to have been incurred at the earliest time that such a situation can be established.

Article 74

Special rules for calculation of the amount of import duty

1. Where costs for storage or usual forms of handling have been incurred within the customs territory of the Union in respect of goods placed under a customs procedure or in temporary storage, such costs or the increase in value shall not be taken into account for the calculation of the amount of import duty where satisfactory proof of those costs is provided by the declarant.

However, the customs value, quantity, nature and origin of non-Union goods used in the operations shall be taken into account for the calculation of the amount of import duty.

2. Where the tariff classification of goods placed under a customs procedure changes as a result of usual forms of handling within the customs territory of the Union, the original tariff classification for the goods placed under the procedure shall be applied at the request of the declarant.

3. Where a customs debt is incurred for processed products resulting from the inward processing procedure, the amount of import duty corresponding to such debt shall, at the request of the declarant, be determined on the basis of the tariff classification, customs value, quantity, nature and origin of the goods placed under the inward processing procedure at the time of acceptance of the customs declaration relating to those goods.
- 3a. [...] In certain cases the amount of import duty shall be determined in accordance with [...] paragraphs 2 and 3 without a request of the declarant in order to avoid the circumvention of tariff measures referred to in Article 49(2)(h).
4. Where a customs debt is incurred for processed products resulting from the outward processing procedure or replacement products as referred to in Article 226(1), the amount of import duty shall be calculated on the basis of the cost of the processing operation undertaken outside the customs territory of the Union.
5. Where customs legislation provides for a favourable tariff treatment of goods, or for relief or total or partial exemption from import or export duty pursuant to Article 49(2) (d) to (g), Articles 174, 175, 176 and 178 or Articles 224 to 227 or pursuant to Council Regulation (EC) No 1186/2009 such favourable tariff treatment, relief or exemption shall also apply in cases where a customs debt is incurred pursuant to Articles 67 or 70 of this Regulation, on condition that the failure which led to the incurrence of a customs debt did not constitute an attempt at deception.

Article 75

Place where the customs debt is incurred

1. A customs debt shall be incurred at the place where the customs declaration or the re-export [...] declaration referred to in Articles 65, 66 and 69 is lodged.

In all other cases, the place where a customs debt is incurred shall be the place where the events from which it arises occur.

If it is not possible to determine that place, the customs debt shall be incurred at the place where the customs authorities conclude that the goods are in a situation in which a customs debt is incurred.

2. If the goods have been placed under a customs procedure which has not been discharged or when a temporary storage did not end properly, and the place cannot be determined pursuant to the second or third subparagraphs of paragraph 1 within a specific time-limit, the customs debt shall be incurred at the place where the goods were either placed under the procedure concerned or were introduced into the customs territory of the Union under that procedure or were in temporary storage.
3. Where the information available to the customs authorities enables them to establish that the customs debt may have been incurred in several places, the customs debt shall be deemed to have been incurred at the place where it was first incurred.
4. If a customs authority establishes that a customs debt has been incurred under Article 67 or Article 70 in another Member State and the amount of import or export duty corresponding to that debt is lower than EUR 10000, the customs debt shall be deemed to have been incurred in the Member State where the finding was made.

Article 76

Delegation of power

The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 243, [...] determining:

- (a) the rules for the calculation of the amount of import or export duty applicable to goods for which a customs debt is incurred in the context of a special procedure, supplementing the ones laid down in Articles 73 and 74;
- (b) the cases referred to in Article 74(3a);
- (c) the time-limit referred to in Article 75(2).

CHAPTER 2

Guarantee for a potential or existing customs debt

Article 77

General provisions

1. This Chapter shall apply to guarantees both for customs debts which have been incurred and for those which may be incurred, unless otherwise specified.
2. Where the customs authorities require a guarantee to be provided, that guarantee shall cover the amount of import or export duty and the other charges due in connection with the importation or exportation of the goods in the following situations:
 - (a) where the guarantee is used for the placing of goods under the Union transit procedure;
 - (b) where the guarantee may be used in more than one Member State.

A guarantee which may not be used outside the Member State where it is required shall be valid only in that Member State and shall cover at least the amount of import or export duty.

3. Where the customs authorities require a guarantee to be provided, it shall be required from the debtor or the person who may become the debtor. They may also permit the guarantee to be provided by a person other than the person from whom it is required.
4. Without prejudice to Article 85, the customs authorities shall require only one guarantee to be provided in respect of specific goods or a specific declaration.

The guarantee provided for a specific declaration shall apply to the amount of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt and other charges in respect of all goods covered by or released against that declaration, whether or not that declaration is correct.

If the guarantee has not been released, it may also be used, within the limits of the secured amount, for the recovery of amounts of import or export duty and other charges payable following post-release control of those goods.

5. Upon application by the person referred to in paragraph 3, the customs authorities may, in accordance with Article 83(1), (2) and (3), authorise the provision of a comprehensive guarantee to cover the amount of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt in respect of two or more operations, declarations or customs procedures.

5a. The customs authorities shall monitor the guarantee.

6. No guarantee shall be required from States, regional and local government authorities or other bodies governed by public law, in respect of the activities in which they engage as public authorities [...].

6a No guarantee shall be required in the following situations:

(a) goods carried on the Rhine and the Rhine waterways and on the Danube and the Danube waterways;

(b) goods carried by fixed transport installation;

(d) goods placed under the Union transit procedure using the simplification referred to in Article 196(4)(e) and carried by sea or air between Union ports or between Union airports.

7. The customs authorities may waive the requirement for provision of a guarantee where the amount of import or export duty to be secured does not exceed the statistical value threshold for declarations laid down in Article 3(4) of Regulation (EC) 471/2009¹⁵ [...].

8. [...]]

Article 78

Compulsory guarantee

1. Where it is compulsory for a guarantee to be provided, the customs authorities shall fix the amount of such guarantee at a level equal to the precise amount of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt and of other charges where that amount can be established with certainty at the time when the guarantee is required.

Where it is not possible to establish the precise amount, the guarantee shall be fixed at the maximum amount, as estimated by the customs authorities, of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt and of other charges which have been or may be incurred.

2. Without prejudice to Article 83 where a comprehensive guarantee is provided for the amount of import or export duty corresponding to customs debts and other charges which vary in amount over time, the amount of such guarantee shall be set at a level enabling the amount of import or export duty corresponding to customs debts and other charges to be covered at all times.

Article 79

Optional guarantee

Where the provision of a guarantee is optional, such guarantee shall in any case be required by the customs authorities if they consider that the amount of import or export duty corresponding to a customs debt and other charges are not certain to be paid within the prescribed period. Its amount shall be fixed by those authorities so as not to exceed the level referred to in Article 78.

Article 80

Provision of a guarantee

¹⁵ OJ L 152, 16.6.2009, p. 23

1. A guarantee may be provided in one of the following forms:

 - (b) by an undertaking given by a guarantor;
 - (c) by another form of guarantee which provides equivalent assurance that the amount of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt and other charges will be paid.
2. A guarantee in the form of a cash deposit or any other equivalent means of payment deemed equivalent to a cash deposit shall be given in accordance with the provisions in force in the Member State in which the guarantee is required.
3. Where guarantee is given by making a cash deposit or any other equivalent means of payment, no interest thereon shall be payable by the customs authorities.

Article 81

Choice of guarantee

The person required to provide a guarantee may choose between the forms of guarantee laid down in Article 80(1).

However, the customs authorities may refuse to accept the form of guarantee chosen where it is incompatible with the proper functioning of the customs procedure concerned.

The customs authorities may require that the form of guarantee chosen be maintained for a specific period.

Article 82

Guarantor

1. The guarantor referred to in Article 80(1)(b) shall be a third person established in the customs territory of the Union . The guarantor shall be approved by the customs authorities requiring the guarantee, unless the guarantor is a credit institution, financial institution or insurance company accredited in the Union in accordance with Union provisions in force.
2. The guarantor shall undertake in writing to pay the secured amount of import or export duty corresponding to a customs debt and other charges.
3. The customs authorities may refuse to approve the guarantor or the type of guarantee proposed where either does not appear certain to ensure payment within the prescribed period of the amount of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt and of other charges.

Article 83

Comprehensive guarantee

1. The authorisation referred to in Article 77(5) shall be granted only to persons who satisfy the following conditions:

 - (c) they are regular users of the customs procedures involved or operators of temporary storage facilities or they fulfil the criteria laid down in Article 34b(d).
2. Where a comprehensive guarantee is to be provided for customs debts and other charges which may be incurred, an economic operator may be authorised to use a comprehensive guarantee with a reduced amount or to have a guarantee waiver provided that he fulfils the criteria laid down in Article 34b(b) and (c).

3. Where a comprehensive guarantee is to be provided for customs debts and other charges which have been incurred, an authorised economic operator for customs simplification shall, upon application, be authorised to use a comprehensive guarantee with a reduced amount.

4. The comprehensive guarantee with a reduced amount referred to in paragraph 3 shall be equivalent to the provision of a guarantee.

Article 84

Temporary prohibitions relating to the use of comprehensive guarantees

1. In the context of special procedures or temporary storage, the Commission may temporarily prohibit recourse to:

- (a) the comprehensive guarantee for a reduced amount or a guarantee waiver referred to in Article 83(2);
- (b) the comprehensive guarantee referred to in Article 83, in respect of goods which have been identified as being subject to large-scale fraud.

2. [...] Where paragraph 1(a) or (b) applies, recourse to the comprehensive guarantee for a reduced amount or a guarantee waiver or recourse to the comprehensive guarantee referred to in Article 83 may be authorised where the person concerned fulfils either of the following conditions:

- (a) that person can show that no customs debt has arisen in respect of the goods in question in the course of operations which that person has undertaken in the 2 years preceding the decision temporarily prohibiting the use of the comprehensive guarantee for a reduced amount, use of a guarantee waiver or use of the comprehensive guarantee;
- (b) where customs debts have arisen during that period, that person can show that these were fully paid by the debtor or debtors or the guarantor within the time limit prescribed.

To obtain authorisation to use a temporarily prohibited comprehensive guarantee, the person concerned must fulfil the criteria laid down in Article 34b(b) and (c).

Article 85

Additional or replacement guarantee

Where the customs authorities establish that the guarantee provided does not ensure, or is no longer certain or sufficient to ensure, payment within the prescribed period of the amount of import or export duty corresponding to the customs debt and other charges, they shall require any of the persons referred to in Article 77(3) either to provide an additional guarantee or to replace the original guarantee with a new guarantee, according to his choice.

Article 86

Release of the guarantee

1. The customs authorities shall release the guarantee immediately when the customs debt or liability for other charges is extinguished or can no longer arise.
2. Where the customs debt or liability for other charges has been extinguished in part, or may arise only in respect of part of the amount which has been secured, a corresponding part of the guarantee shall be released accordingly at the request of the person concerned, unless the amount involved does not justify such action.

Article 87

Delegation of power

The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 243, [...] determining:

- (a) [...]
- (b) the specific cases where no guarantee is required for goods placed under the temporary admission procedure, in accordance with Article 77(6a)(c);

(c) [...]

(d) [...]

(e) [...] the form of the guarantee in accordance with Article 80(1)(c) and the rules concerning guarantor in accordance with Article 82;

(f) the [...] conditions for the granting of an authorisation to use a comprehensive guarantee with a reduced amount or to have a guarantee waiver referred to in Article 83(2).

(g) [...]

(h) [...]

(i) time-limits for the release of the guarantee.

Article 88

Conferral of implementing powers

1. The Commission shall specify, by means of implementing acts, the procedural rules:

(a) for determining the amount of the guarantee, including the reduced amount referred to in Article 83(2) and (3);

(b) regarding the provision and the monitoring of the guarantee referred to in Article 77, the revocation and cancellation of the undertaking given by the guarantor referred to in Article 82, and the release of the guarantee referred to in Article 86;

(c) regarding the temporary prohibitions referred to in Article 84.

Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 244(4).

2. The Commission shall adopt the measures referred to in Article 84 by means of implementing acts.

Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 244(4).

On imperative grounds of urgency relating to such measures, duly justified by the need to rapidly enhance the protection of the financial interests of the Union and of its Member States, the Commission shall adopt immediately applicable implementing acts in accordance with the procedure referred to in Article 244(5).

Where the opinion of the committee referred to in Article 244(1) is to be obtained by written procedure, Article 244(6) shall apply.

CHAPTER 3

Recovery, payment, repayment and remission of the amount of import or export duty

Section 1

Determination of the amount of import or export duty, notification of the customs debt and entry in the accounts

Article 89

Determination of the amount of import or export duty

1. The amount of import or export duty payable shall be determined by the customs authorities responsible for the place where the customs debt is incurred, or is deemed to have been incurred in accordance with Article 75, as soon as they have the necessary information.
2. Without prejudice to Article 41, the customs authorities may accept the amount of import or export duty payable determined by the declarant.
3. Where the amount of import or export duty determined does not result in a whole number, that amount may be rounded.

Where the amount referred in the first subparagraph is expressed in Euros, rounding may not be more than a rounding up or down to the nearest whole number.

A Member state which is not participating in the third stage of Economic and Monetary Union may either apply mutatis mutandis the provisions of the second subparagraph or derogate from that subparagraph, provided the rules applicable on rounding have not a financial impact superior to the application of the rules of the second subparagraph.

Article 90

Notification of the customs debt

1. The customs debt shall be notified to the debtor in the form prescribed at the place where the customs debt is incurred, or is deemed to have been incurred in accordance with Article 75.

The notification referred to in the first subparagraph shall not be made in the following cases:

- (a) where, pending a final determination of the amount of import or export duty, a provisional commercial policy measure taking the form of a duty has been imposed;
 - (b) where the amount of import or export duty payable exceeds that determined on the basis of a decision made in accordance with Article 32;
 - (c) where the original decision not to notify the customs debt or to notify it with an amount of import or export duty at a figure less than the amount of import or export duty payable was taken on the basis of general provisions invalidated at a later date by a court decision;
 - (d) where the customs authorities are exempted under the customs legislation from notification of the customs debt.
2. Where the amount of import or export duty payable is equal to the amount entered in the customs declaration [...], release of the goods by the customs authorities shall be equivalent to notifying the debtor of the customs debt.
 3. Where paragraph 2 [...] does not apply, the customs debt shall be notified to the debtor [...] by the customs authorities when they are in a position to determine the amount of import or export duty payable and take a decision. [...]

However, where the notification of the customs debt would prejudice criminal investigation, the customs authorities may defer that notification until such time as it no longer prejudices criminal investigations.

4. Provided that payment has been guaranteed, the customs debt corresponding to the total amount of import or export duty relating to all the goods released to one and the same person during a period fixed by the customs authorities may be notified at the end of that period. The period fixed by the customs authorities shall not exceed 31 days.

Article 91

Limitation of the customs debt

1. No customs debt shall be notified to the debtor after the expiry of a period of 3 years from the date on which the customs debt was incurred.
2. Where the customs debt is incurred as the result of an act which, at the time it was committed, was liable to give rise to criminal court proceedings, the 3-year period laid down in paragraph 1 shall be extended to a period of a minimum of 5 years and a maximum of 10 years in accordance with national law.
3. [...] The periods laid down in paragraphs 1 and 2 shall be suspended [...] where:
 - (a) an appeal is lodged in accordance with Article 37, from the date on which the appeal is lodged and for the duration of the appeal proceedings;
 - (b) the customs authorities have communicated to the debtor, in accordance with Article 24(4), the grounds on which they intend to notify the customs debt, from the date of that communication and for the duration of the period within which the debtor is given the opportunity to express his point of view.
4. Where a customs debt is reinstated pursuant to Article 103(6), the periods laid down in paragraphs 1 and 2 shall be considered as suspended from the date on which the application for repayment or remission was submitted in accordance with Article 108, until the date on which the decision on the repayment or remission was taken.

Article 92

Entry in the accounts

1. The customs authorities referred to in Article 89 shall enter in their accounts, in accordance with the national legislation, the amount of import or export duty payable as determined in accordance with that Article.

The first subparagraph shall not apply in cases referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 90(1).

2. The customs authorities need not enter in the accounts amounts of import or export duty which, pursuant to Article 91, correspond to a customs debt which could no longer be notified to the debtor.
3. Member States shall determine the practical procedures for the entry in the accounts of the amounts of import or export duty. Those procedures may differ according to whether, in view of the circumstances in which the customs debt was incurred, the customs authorities are satisfied that those amounts will be paid.

Article 93

Time of entry in the accounts

1. Where a customs debt is incurred as a result of the acceptance of the customs declaration of goods for a customs procedure, other than temporary admission with partial relief from import duty, or of any other act having the same legal effect as such acceptance, the customs authorities shall enter the amount of import or export duty payable in the accounts within 14 days of the release of the goods.

However, provided that payment has been guaranteed, the total amount of import or export duty relating to all the goods released to one and the same person during a period fixed by the customs authorities, which may not exceed 31 days, may be covered by a single entry in the accounts at the end of that period. Such entry in the accounts shall take place within 14 days of the expiry of the period concerned.

2. Where goods may be released subject to certain conditions which govern either the determination of the amount of import or export duty payable or its collection, entry in the accounts shall take place within 14 days of the day on which the amount of import or export duty payable is determined or the obligation to pay that duty is fixed.

However, where the customs debt relates to a provisional commercial policy measure taking the form of a duty, the amount of import or export duty payable shall be entered in the accounts within 2 months of the date of publication in the Official Journal of the European Union of the Regulation establishing the definitive commercial policy measure.

3. Where a customs debt is incurred in circumstances not covered by paragraph 1, the amount of import or export duty payable shall be entered in the accounts within 14 days of the date on which the customs authorities are in a position to determine the amount of import or export duty in question and take a decision.
4. Paragraph 3 shall apply with regard to the amount of import or export duty to be recovered or which remains to be recovered where the amount of import or export duty payable has not been entered in the accounts in accordance with paragraphs 1, 2 and 3, or has been determined and entered in the accounts at a level lower than the amount payable.
5. The time-limits for entry in the accounts laid down in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 shall not apply in unforeseeable circumstances or in cases of force majeure.
6. The entry in the accounts may be deferred in the case referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 90(3), until such time as the notification of the customs debt no longer prejudices criminal investigations.

Article 94

Delegation of power

The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 243, [...]

determining:

(a) [...]

(b) the cases referred to Article 90(1)(d) where the customs authorities are exempted from notification of the customs debt;

(c) [...]

Article 95

Conferral of implementing powers

The Commission shall adopt, by means of implementing acts, measures to ensure mutual assistance between the customs authorities in case of incurrence of a customs debt.

Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 244(4).

Section 2

Payment of the amount of import or export duty

Article 96

General time-limits for payment and suspension of the time-limit for payment

1. Amounts of import or export duty, corresponding to a customs debt notified in accordance with Article 90, shall be paid by the debtor within the period prescribed by the customs authorities.

Without prejudice to Article 38(2), that period shall not exceed 10 days following notification to the debtor of the customs debt. In the case of aggregation of entries in the accounts under the conditions laid down in the second subparagraph of Article 93(1), it shall be so fixed as not to enable the debtor to obtain a longer period for payment than if he had been granted deferred payment in accordance with Article 98.

Extension of that period may be granted by the customs authorities upon application by the debtor where the amount of import or export duty payable has been determined in the course of post-release control as referred to in Article 41. Without prejudice to Article 100(1), such extensions shall not exceed the time necessary for the debtor to take the appropriate steps to discharge his obligation.

2. If the debtor is entitled to any of the payment facilities laid down in Articles 98 to 100, payment shall be made within the period or periods specified in relation to those facilities.
3. The time-limit for payment of the amount of import or export duty corresponding to a customs debt shall be suspended in the following cases :
 - (a) where an application for remission of duty is made in accordance with Article 108;
 - (b) where goods are to be confiscated, destroyed or abandoned to the State;

- (c) where the customs debt was incurred pursuant to Article 67 and there is more than one debtor.

Article 97

Payment

1. Payment shall be made in cash or by any other means with similar discharging effect, including by adjustment of a credit balance, in accordance with national legislation.
2. Payment may be made by a third person instead of the debtor.
3. The debtor may in any case pay all or part of the amount of import or export duty without awaiting expiry of the period he has been granted for payment.

Article 98

Deferment of payment

The customs authorities shall, upon application by the person concerned and upon provision of a guarantee, authorise deferment of payment of the duty payable in any of the following ways:

- (a) separately in respect of each amount of import or export duty entered in the accounts in accordance with the first subparagraph of Article 93(1), or Article 93(4);
- (b) globally in respect of all amounts of import or export duty entered in the accounts in accordance with the first subparagraph of Article 93(1) during a period fixed by the customs authorities and not exceeding 31 days;
- (c) globally in respect of all amounts of import or export duty forming a single entry in accordance with the second subparagraph of Article 93(1).

Article 99

Periods for which payment is deferred

1. The period for which payment is deferred under Article 98 shall be 30 days.
2. Where payment is deferred in accordance with Article 98(a), the period shall begin on the day following that on which the customs debt is notified to the debtor.
3. Where payment is deferred in accordance with Article 98(b), the period shall begin on the day following that on which the aggregation period ends. It shall be reduced by the number of days corresponding to half the number of days covered by the aggregation period.
4. Where payment is deferred in accordance with Article 98(c), the period shall begin on the day following the end of the period fixed for release of the goods in question. It shall be reduced by the number of days corresponding to half the number of days covered by the period concerned.
5. Where the number of days in the periods referred to in paragraphs 3 and 4 is an odd number, the number of days to be deducted from the 30-day period pursuant to those paragraphs shall be equal to half the next lowest even number.
6. Where the periods referred to in paragraphs 3 and 4 are calendar weeks, Member States may provide that the amount of import or export duty in respect of which payment has been deferred is to be paid on the Friday of the fourth week following the calendar week in question at the latest.

If those periods are calendar months, Member States may provide that the amount of import or export duty in respect of which payment has been deferred is to be paid by the 16th day of the month following the calendar month in question.

Article 100

Other payment facilities

1. The customs authorities may grant the debtor payment facilities other than deferred payment on condition that a guarantee is provided.

2. Where facilities are granted pursuant to paragraph 1, credit interest shall be charged on the amount of import or export duty.

For a Member State whose currency is the euro, the rate of credit interest shall be equal to the interest rate as published in the Official Journal of the European Union, C series, which the European Central Bank applied to its main refinancing operations, on the first day of the month in which the due date fell, increased by one percentage point.

For a Member State whose currency is not the euro, the rate of credit interest shall be equal to the rate applied on the first day of the month in question by the National Central Bank for its main refinancing operations, increased by one percentage point, or, for a Member State for which the National Central Bank rate is not available, the most equivalent rate applied on the first day of the month in question on the Member State's money market, increased by one percentage point.

3. The customs authorities may refrain from requiring a guarantee or from charging credit interest where it is established, on the basis of a documented assessment of the situation of the debtor, that this would create serious economic or social difficulties.
4. [...] The customs authorities shall refrain from charging credit interest where the amount per recovery action is less than EUR 10.

Article 101

Enforcement of payment [...]

[...] Where the amount of import or export duty payable has not been paid within the prescribed period, the customs authorities shall secure payment of that amount by all means available to them under the law of the Member State concerned.

Article 101a

Interests on arrears

*[...]*1. Interest on arrears shall be charged on the amount of import or export duty from the date of expiry of the prescribed period until the date of payment.

For a Member State whose currency is the euro, the rate of interest on arrears shall be equal to the interest rate as published in the Official Journal of the European Union, C series, which the European Central Bank applied to its main refinancing operations, on the first day of the month in which the due date fell, increased by two percentage points.

For a Member State whose currency is not the euro, the rate of interest on arrears shall be equal to the rate applied on the first day of the month in question by the National Central Bank for its main refinancing operations, increased by two percentage points, or, for a Member State for which the National Central Bank rate is not available, the most equivalent rate applied on the first day of the month in question on the Member State's money market, increased by two percentage points.

*[...]*2. Where [...] the customs debt [...] is incurred on the basis of Article 67 or 70, or where the notification of the customs debt results from a post-release control, interest on arrears shall be charged over and above the amount of import or export duty, from the date on which the customs debt was incurred until the date of its notification [...].

The rate of interest on arrears shall be set in accordance with paragraph 1.

*[...]*3. The customs authorities may refrain from charging interest on arrears where it is established, on the basis of a documented assessment of the situation of the debtor, that to charge it would create serious economic or social difficulties.

*[...]*4. [...] The customs authorities shall refrain from charging credit interest where the amount per recovery action is less than EUR 10.

Article 102
Delegation of power

The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 243, [...] determining [...] the rules for the suspension of the time-limit for payment of the amount of import or export duty corresponding to a customs debt referred to in Article 96(3) and the period of suspension.

(b) [...]

(c) [...]

Section 3

Repayment and remission

Article 103

General provisions

1. Subject to the conditions laid down in this Section, amounts of import or export duty shall, [...] be repaid or remitted on the following grounds:

- (a) overcharged amounts of import or export duty;
- (b) defective goods or goods not complying with the terms of the contract;
- (c) error by the competent authorities;
- (d) equity.

Where an amount of import or export duty has been paid and the corresponding customs declaration is invalidated in accordance with Article 150, that amount shall be repaid.

1a. The customs authorities shall repay or remit the amount of import or export duty referred to in paragraph 1 where it is EUR 10 or more, except where the person concerned requests the repayment or remission of a lower amount.

2. [...] Where the [...] customs authorities consider that repayment or remission should be granted on the basis of Article 106 or 107, the Member State concerned shall transmit the file to the Commission for decision in any of the following cases:

- (a) where the customs authority considers that the special circumstances are the result of the Commission failing in its obligations;
- (b) where the customs authority considers that the Commission has committed an error within the meaning of Article 106;

- (c) where the circumstances of the case are related to the findings of a Union investigation carried out under Regulation (EC) No 515/97¹⁶, or under any other Union legislation or any agreement concluded by the Union with countries or groups of countries in which provision is made for carrying out such Union investigations;*
- (d) where the amount for which the person concerned may be liable in respect of one or more import or export operations but in consequence of an error or special circumstances equals or exceeds EUR 500 000.*

Nevertheless, the files referred to in the first subparagraph shall not be transmitted in either of the following situations:

- (a) where the Commission has already adopted a decision on a case involving comparable issues of fact and of law;*
- (b) where the Commission is already considering a case involving comparable issues of fact and of law.*

- 3 Subject to the rules of competence for a decision, where the customs authorities themselves discover within the periods referred to in Article 108(1) that an amount of import or export duty is repayable or remissible pursuant to Articles 104,106 or 107 they shall repay or remit on their own initiative.
4. No repayment or remission shall be granted when the situation which led to the notification of the customs debt results from deception by the debtor.
5. Repayment shall not give rise to the payment of interest by the customs authorities concerned.

However, interest shall be paid where a decision granting repayment is not implemented within 3 months of the date on which that decision was taken, unless the failure to meet the deadline was outside the control of the customs authorities.

In such cases, the interest shall be paid from the date of expiry of the 3-month period until the date of repayment. The rate of interest shall be established in accordance with Article 100.

6. Where the customs [...] authorities have granted repayment or remission in error, the original customs debt shall be re-instated insofar as it is not time-barred under Article 91.

In such cases, any interest paid under the second subparagraph of paragraph 5 shall be reimbursed.

Article 104

Overcharged amounts of import or export duty

1. An amount of import or export duty shall be repaid or remitted insofar as the amount corresponding to the customs debt initially notified exceeds the amount payable, or the customs debt was notified to the debtor contrary to points (c) or (d) of Article 90(1).
2. Where the application is based on the existence, at the time when the declaration for release for free circulation was accepted, of a reduced or zero rate of import duty on the goods under a tariff quota, a tariff ceiling or other favourable tariff measures, repayment or remission shall be granted provided that, at the time of lodging the application accompanied by the necessary documents, either of the following conditions are fulfilled:
 - (a) in the case of a tariff quota, its volume has not been exhausted;
 - (b) in other cases, the rate of duty normally due has not been re-established.

Article 105

Defective goods or goods not complying with the terms of the contract

1. An amount of import duty shall be repaid or remitted if the notification of the customs debt relates to goods which have been rejected by the importer because, at the time of release, they were defective or did not comply with the terms of the contract on the basis of which they were imported.

Defective goods shall be deemed to include goods damaged before their release.

2. Repayment or remission shall be granted provided the goods have not been used, except for such initial use as may have been necessary to establish that they were defective or did not comply with the terms of the contract and provided they are [...] taken out of the customs territory of the Union.

2a. Repayment or remission shall not be granted in the following situations:

- (a) where the goods, before being released for free circulation, were placed under a special procedure for testing, unless it is established that the fact that the goods were defective or did not comply with the terms of the contract could not normally have been detected in the course of such tests;*
- (b) where the defective nature of the goods was taken into consideration in drawing up the terms of the contract, in particular the price, before the goods were placed under a customs procedure involving the incurrence of a customs debt;*
- (c) where the goods are sold by the applicant after it has been ascertained that they are defective or do not comply with the terms of the contract.*

3. Instead of being [...] taken out of the customs territory of the Union, and upon application by the person concerned, the customs authorities shall authorise that the goods to be placed under the inward processing procedure, including for destruction, or the external transit, the customs warehousing or the free zone procedure.

Article 106

Error by the competent authorities

1. In cases other than those referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 103(1) and in

Articles 104,105 and 107, an amount of import or export duty shall be repaid or remitted where, as a result of an error on the part of the competent authorities, the amount corresponding to the customs debt initially notified was lower than the amount payable, provided the following conditions are met:

- (a) the debtor could not reasonably have detected that error;
- (b) the debtor was acting in good faith.

1a. Where the conditions laid down in Article 104(2) are not fulfilled, repayment or remission shall be granted where the failure to apply the reduced or zero rate of duty was the result of an error on the part of the customs authorities themselves and the customs declaration for release for free circulation contained all the particulars and was accompanied by all the documents necessary for application of the reduced or zero rate.

- 2. Where the preferential treatment of the goods is granted on the basis of a system of administrative cooperation involving the authorities of a country or territory outside the customs territory of the Union, the issue of a certificate by those authorities, should it prove to be incorrect, shall constitute an error which could not reasonably have been detected within the meaning of paragraph 1(a).

The issue of an incorrect certificate shall not, however, constitute an error where the certificate is based on an incorrect account of the facts provided by the exporter, except where it is evident that the issuing authorities were aware or should have been aware that the goods did not satisfy the conditions laid down for entitlement to the preferential treatment.

The debtor shall be considered to be in good faith if he can demonstrate that, during the period of the trading operations concerned, he has taken due care to ensure that all the conditions for the preferential treatment have been fulfilled.

The debtor may not rely on a plea of good faith if the Commission has published a notice in the Official Journal of the European Union stating that there are grounds for doubt concerning the proper application of the preferential arrangements by the beneficiary country or territory.

Article 107

Equity

1. In cases other than those referred to in the second subparagraph of Article 103(1) and in Articles 104, 105 and 106 an amount of import or export duty shall be repaid or remitted in the interest of equity where a customs debt is incurred under special circumstances in which no deception or obvious negligence may be attributed to the debtor.
2. The existence of special circumstances as referred to in paragraph 1 is established where it is clear from the circumstances of the case that the debtor is in an exceptional situation as compared with other operators engaged in the same business, and that, in the absence of such circumstances, he would not have suffered disadvantage caused by the collection of the amount of import or export duty.

Article 108

Procedure for repayment and remission

1. Applications for repayment or remission in accordance with Article 103 shall be submitted to the [...] customs authorities within the following periods:
 - (a) in the case of overcharged , amounts of import or export duty, error by the competent authorities or equity, within 3 years of the date of notification of the customs debt;
 - (b) in the case of defective goods or goods not complying with the terms of the contract, within 1 year of the date of notification of the customs debt;
 - (c) in the case of invalidation of a customs declaration, within the period specified in the rules applicable to invalidation.

The period specified in points (a) and (b) of the first subparagraph shall be extended where the applicant provides evidence that he was prevented from submitting his application within the prescribed period as a result of unforeseeable circumstances or force majeure.

- 1a. Where the customs authorities are not in a position, on the basis of the grounds adduced, to grant repayment or remission of an amount of import or export duty, it is required to examine the merits of that application in the light of the other grounds for repayment or remission referred to in Article 103.
2. Where an appeal has been lodged under Article 37 against the notification of the customs debt, the relevant period specified in the first subparagraph of paragraph 1 shall be suspended, from the date on which the appeal is lodged, for the duration of the appeal proceedings.
3. [...] Where a customs authority grants repayment or remission in accordance with Articles 106 and 107, the Member State concerned shall*[...]* inform the Commission thereof.

Article 109

Delegation of power

The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 243, [...] determining [...] the rules for the Commission to take the decision referred to in Article 103(2) and in particular on the following:

- (a) the conditions for the acceptance the file;*
- (b) the time limit to take a decision and the suspension of that time limit;*
- (c) the communication of the grounds on which the Commission intends to base its decision, before taking a decision which would adversely affect the person concerned;*
- (d) the notification of the decision;*
- (e) the consequences of a failure to take a decision or to notify it.*

Article 110

Conferral of implementing powers

1. The Commission shall specify, by means of implementing acts, the procedural rules:

(a) for repayment and remission, referred to in Article 103;

(b) for informing the Commission in accordance with Article 108(3) and the information to be provided.

Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 244(4).

2. The Commission shall adopt the decision referred to in Article 103(2) by means of implementing acts.

Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure referred to in Article 244(2).

Where the opinion of the committee referred to in Article 244(1) is to be obtained by written procedure, Article 244(6) shall apply.

CHAPTER 4

Extinguishment of a customs debt

Article 111

Extinguishment

1. Without prejudice to the provisions in force relating to non-recovery of the amount of import or export duty corresponding to a customs debt in the event of the judicially established insolvency of the debtor, a customs debt on importation or exportation shall be extinguished in any of the following ways:
 - (a) where the debtor can no longer be notified of the customs debt, in accordance with Article 91;
 - (b) by payment of the amount of import or export duty;
 - (c) subject to paragraph 5, by remission of the amount of import or export duty;
 - (d) where, in respect of goods declared for a customs procedure entailing the obligation to pay import or export duty, the customs declaration is invalidated;
 - (e) where goods liable to import or export duty are confiscated or seized and simultaneously or subsequently confiscated;
 - (f) where goods liable to import or export duty are destroyed under customs supervision or abandoned to the State;
 - (g) where the disappearance of the goods or the non-fulfilment of obligations arising from the customs legislation results from the total destruction or irretrievable loss of those goods as a result of the actual nature of the goods or unforeseeable circumstances or force majeure, or as a consequence of instruction by the customs authorities; for the purpose of this point, goods
