

Mit Philips, MD, MscPH.

Health policy analysis and medical advocacy support.

Coordinator of health access team, Analysis and Advocacy Unit, General Direction, Médecins Sans Frontières (M.S.F.), Brussels.

Bio:

Dr. Mit Philips is a medical doctor with a Masters degree in Public Health in developing countries from the London School of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene in 1993 and a diploma in Tropical Medicine in 1985 in Antwerp.

She works in the MSF headquarters in Brussels since 1999, first as Director of Operations, and now as health policy analyst in the Analysis and Advocacy Unit. Her main focus of work at MSF concerns HIV/AIDS, financial barriers to health care and health financing, the crisis in human resources for health, health care in fragile states and health systems policies.

In 2010-2011, she worked also as part of the team of the Health Policy and Planning Unit at the Institute of Tropical Medicine in Antwerp, Belgium. Her work focused on global health policies, on health in fragile states and mixed emergency-development contexts.

Before being based in Europe, Mit Philips worked and lived abroad during 15 years in Africa (Chad, Angola, Sudan, Ethiopia, Kenya, DRC) and South East Asia (Cambodia) for Médecins Sans Frontières.
