

Terms of use of the European Parliament logo

The European Parliament logo is intended for use on Parliament's own documents, or documents distributed with its agreement. It can also be used on any other document relating to or devoted to the European Parliament, subject to compliance with the Graphics Guide.

The use of the European Parliament logo is allowed unless

- (a) the use creates the incorrect impression or assumption that there is a connection between the user and the European Parliament;
- (b) the use leads the public to believe erroneously that the user benefits from the support, sponsorship, approval or consent of the European Parliament;
- (c) the use is in connection with any objective or activity which is incompatible with the aims and principles of the European Union.

The use of the logo shall not imply Parliament's agreement to such use nor shall it imply any endorsement or sponsorship by Parliament of such use.

In all cases, the European Parliament reserves the right to prohibit the use of its logo in any circumstances where this use might be harmful to it or of an inappropriate nature.

The European Parliament's logo is a protected original work. It may not be registered as a trademark or for any other purpose. The use of the logo by third parties, even with Parliament's consent, does not confer any rights over the logo.

Should you have questions about the correct use of the logo, please contact the Visual Identity Service at visualidentity@europarl.europa.eu .
