

The Week Ahead 02 – 08 May 2016

Political group meetings, Brussels

Plenary preparations. Political groups will prepare for the 9-12 May plenary session in Strasbourg, where MEPs are to debate the new migration and asylum reform package to be presented by Commission and preparations for the World Humanitarian Summit. The EP will also vote on draft laws giving Europol new powers to fight terrorism and making residence/entry permits easier to obtain for au pairing and students from third countries. Members will also vote recommendations on how to protect women who are victims of human trafficking, improve existing rules on parental leave and help the development of EU mountain regions.

2016 Charlemagne Youth Prize. The Charlemagne Youth Prize 2016 will be awarded on 3 May in Aachen. The prize rewards young people aged between 16 and 30 who have been involved in projects that help promote better understanding between the peoples of different European countries. The award ceremony will take place in the presence of EP President Martin Schulz, who will deliver a keynote speech, and former President Hans-Gert Pöttering.

2016 Charlemagne Prize to go to Pope Francis. Parliament's President Martin Schulz will take part in a debate on the future of the EU with European Council President Donald Tusk, Commission President Jean-Claude Juncker and President of the Italian Council of Ministers Matteo Renzi, in Rome on Thursday. He will also deliver a joint laudatio with Messrs Tusk and Juncker at a ceremony awarding the 2016 Charlemagne Prize to His Holiness Pope Francis and hold a press conference with Mr Juncker, in Rome on Friday.

Transparency register/lobbyists. The ongoing public consultation on the Parliament and Commission joint Transparency Register for lobbyists and interest groups, their role in policy-making and transparency in EU decision-making will be debated at a conference with EP Vice-President Sylvie Guillaume, Commission First Vice-President Frans Timmermans and several other experts. (Monday)

President's diary. EP President Schulz will meet China National People's Congress Standing Committee Vice-Chairman Qiangba Puncog and European Ombudsman Emily O'Reilly, on Tuesday in Brussels.

SPECIAL EVENTS

European Charlemagne Youth Prize

Tuesday 03/05/2016

On Tuesday 03 May 2016 the three final European winners of the European Charlemagne Youth Prize will be announced at an award ceremony in Aachen (Germany). The ceremony will take place from 19.00 to 21.00 in the University of Aachen in the presence of Martin Schulz, President of the European Parliament, Hans-Gert Pöttering, former President of the European Parliament, Michael Jansen, Chairman of the Charlemagne Prize foundation and Marcel Philipp, Major of the city of Aachen.

The three winners will be chosen from 28 national projects, submitted by national juries. In total 330 projects were submitted in all EU Member States. The competition is open to young people aged between 16 and 30 who have been involved with projects helping to promote understanding between peoples of different European countries. It is organised by the European Parliament and the Foundation of the International Charlemagne Prize of Aachen. ECYP winners will be awarded €2,000, €3,000 and €5,000 as third, second and first prize.
