- 12:30 - 13:00 EYE2014 Closing Ceremony in front of the European Parliament in cooperation with the European Youth Forum

Activity codes

The codes you will find in front of every activity title are easy to 'decode' once you know what the different code elements stand for.

The first two letters indicate under which of the five main themes the activity runs:

- YU for Youth Unemployment
- DR for Digital Revolution
- FE for Future of the European Union
- SU for Sustainability
- EV for European Values.

The last 1-2 letters indicate the booking category of the activity:

- P for Panel
- P* for Panel of which each participant can only book one
- Wi for Workshops inside the Parliament building
- Wo for Workshops outside at the Yo!Village
- G for Games

Activity formats

The EYE will offer a large variety of activities in all kinds of formats during the 2,5 days from 9 to 11 May 2014. Here is a little explanation to the main formats you will find in the programme.

- Ideas check:* In this new quick-fire format, devised especially for the EYE event, young people will bounce their ideas and proposals off political leaders, who will have two minutes to respond. Moderated.
- Question time:* Top-level speakers take and answer participants' questions on their positions, actions and ideas. Moderated.
- Hearing:* Experts or young stakeholders affected by the subject of the activity present their cases or arguments from different angles (3-5 min), and then discuss with participants. Moderated.
- Talk:* In a more informal ambience, here the focus lies more on personal stories, views, experiences and ideas than on official policies and statements. Moderated.
- Debate:* Address an issue in a polarised way and challenge the participants with clear pros and cons. Moderated.
- Discussion:* Deal with complex subjects and shed light on many viewpoints and angles rather than just two opposing positions regarding a topic. Moderated.
- Workshops:* Interactive, more hands-on or specialised activities in smaller groups.

In addition, there will be two special formats for each theme that will require more than just your presence during the event – and this will be Ideas Labs and Role play games.

Ideas Labs

In the Ideas Labs of the EYE 2014 you can join other young Europeans to discuss topics that are important exactly to you. You decide the agenda; you decide the outcome of the discussion. How do Ideas Labs work? Here's how, when and what – in three steps:

1. As an EYE participant you can register online at eye2014-ideaslab.eu from the 10th of April – irrespective of whether you will actually take part or not in an Ideas Lab session in Strasbourg. You're invited to leave comments on the five main EYE themes: Where do you see the key problems, what is your criticism of where things are right now? What's getting on your nerves, what is unnecessary, where do you see the most urgent need for action? This is all about your unfiltered and direct criticism. Whether you post text, photo or video is entirely up to you. You're free to comment on just one topic or all of them.
2. After evaluating all contributions we will create what we call 'tag clouds'. They will provide the topics for the Ideas Labs – the most frequently posted criticisms will be the starting points for the development of new ideas in Strasbourg. Your contributions will determine the labs' agenda!
3. In case you have registered for an Ideas Lab session at the EYE, the process will culminate in Strasbourg. You'll be able to develop innovative and creative ideas in small groups: How can the problems that were mentioned during the online phase be solved? How can we work towards a more positive European future regarding those problems? Once you and your group have agreed on your top 5 ideas, you will introduce them in the final plenary session - with a chance to discuss them with politicians and experts.
New ideas – we need you! We're looking forward to seeing you online and at the EYE!

Role play games

The "Role play game" activity offers an opportunity for young Europeans to simulate the working of the European Parliament. The participants will have to act, speak and be like Members of the European Parliament (MEP), and in the process learn about its real-life challenges and some of the most important policy issues facing the EU today: youth unemployment, digital revolution, climate protection and the cocoa agreement.

The roles will be distributed in advance: participants to the game will be communicating with the organizers from the beginning of April 2014. The objective for the MEPs (the participants) is to adopt a report reflecting the Parliament's position. MEPs will attempt to influence the position reflecting their interests and values as members of their respective political groups and national delegations. As MEP you will debate proposals in committees and in plenary meetings, through formal and informal negotiations. You will learn not only how the EU works, but also exercise your negotiation skills.

A competitive one-month long online preparation phase will include few tasks: as participant you shall gain the basic information regarding the themes, as well as learn about your exact role for the game, and get to know online the other players. You will also write a common position paper and fill out short tests which will contribute to your personal overall scoring. And at the end of the session in Strasbourg, if you gained the most points, you can even aim at being the winner of the Role play game!

Most young people are better educated than their parents but they have fewer professional opportunities. Youth unemployment afflicts many and divides society. How can we remove obstacles to finding a job and highlight new opportunities?

The revolution feeds its children

How do internet start-ups emerge from garages and backrooms to become global players and change the world economy? Do internet giants leave enough space for creative newcomers? In this session, young founders of digital start-ups, selected from across Europe, will present their companies and the impact of their innovative ideas. They will then discuss in a panel the key issues affecting digital youth innovation in Europe today.

Presentation and discussion organised by the European Young Innovators Forum (EYIF)

More democracy please!

One of the long-standing and arguably correct points of criticism concerning the EU is the lack of democratic legitimacy of its institutions. Frequently, however, those who blame the EU for lacking democratic legitimacy are, at the same time, sceptical of passing over national sovereignty to EU institutions. So what should be done? Participants in the workshop discuss the current democratic foundations of EU institutions and put forward their ideas on strengthening the democratic quality of these.

Ciné ONU: “The Light Bulb Conspiracy” (1)

There once was a time when consumer goods were built to last. Then, in the 1920's, a group of businessmen realized that the longer their product lasted, the less money they made, thus “Planned Obsolescence” was born, and manufacturers have been engineering products to fail ever since. This documentary (filmed in Europe, the US and Africa) charts the creation of “engineering to fail”, its rise to prominence and its recent fall from grace. The screening will be followed by Q&A session with the Director of the movie.

Should we have a single European army?

During these times of unrest many of us tend to think more about national security. We ask questions like: Are we safe? Who would protect us in the event of conflict? Is it our government or is it the responsibility of the European Union? If so, how can it protect us? These are just a few questions we will be dealing with in our workshop. The participants will hear a brief explanation in the World Schools Debating Championship style that will be followed by a debate by Lithuanian national debate team on the topic of a single army for the European Union.

European Youth Forum

The European Youth Forum is the platform of youth organisations in Europe, representing 99 National Youth Councils and International Youth Organisations. The Forum works to empower young people to participate actively in society to improve their own lives, by representing and advocating their needs and interests.

The European Youth Forum supports the EP EYE 2014 team in preparing the event, outreaching to young people and youth organizations across Europe, contributing with several activities to the overall programme of the event, as well as organizing the YOIFEST, in the context of the EYE.

European Youth Press

The European Youth Press (EYP) is an umbrella association of young journalists in Europe. It involves more than 30,000 journalists younger than 30. The aim of all member associations and of EYP is to inspire young people to become involved in the media and take an active part in civil society by fostering objective and independent journalism.

The EYP will help raising awareness of the EYE 2014 among youth groups, involve its member organisations in the organisation of the European Youth Media Days, be responsible for the daily multi-media coverage of the EYE 2014 and edit the report of ideas for a better Europe which will be handed over to the newly elected Members of the European Parliament for the legislative period 2014-2019.

The European Young Innovators Forum

The European Young Innovators Forum (EYIF), is an independent, non-profit, pan-European, bottom-up association dedicated to promoting youth innovation. EYIF has rapidly become the leading foundation for youth innovation in Europe reaching in excess of 400,000 participants across all EU member states, giving voice to a community of young innovators and experts who believe in taking risks, changing mindsets for innovation and the value of shared ideas and professional mentorship.

As a partner of the event, EYIF organises 5 main thematic workshops on Digital Revolution with 16 high-level speakers from the EU and US.

City of Strasbourg

The City of Strasbourg will be the host/organiser of the Friday evening concert in the city centre and provide logistic support in the city of Strasbourg.

Institute of Political Sciences (IEP) of Strasbourg

Created in 1945, the Institute of Political Sciences (IEP) of Strasbourg "Science po Strasbourg" is a renowned public university which is part of the network of nine institutes of Political Sciences in France. The IEP selects graduates and students and leads them into civil servant and private sphere careers.

The IEP Strasbourg has mobilised its students to become volunteers to support the smooth flow of the EYE. It also organises a debate as part of the EYE panels.

European Commission

The European Commission is the EU's executive body and represents the interests of Europe as a whole (as opposed to the interests of individual countries).

The Commission – namely the Directorate-General for Education and Culture and the Directorate-General for Industry and Enterprise - will contribute with a number of panel activities and workshops to the programme of the event.

ARTE

ARTE (Association Relative à la Télévision Européenne) is a Franco-German TV network, a European channel that promotes programming in the areas of culture and the arts. As an international joint venture (an EEIG), its programs cater technically to audiences from both France and Germany.

ARTE will be the EP's audio-visual media partner which will be involved in various programme elements and contribute to the media coverage of the event.

Council of Europe

The Council of Europe is an international organisation promoting co-operation between all countries of Europe in the areas of legal standards, human rights, democratic development, the rule of law and cultural co-operation.

The Council of Europe will contribute to the programme of the EYE with activities organised by its Youth Centre and provide some of its space capacities – such as its hemicycle and rooms – to be used for activities during the EYE.

ENA

The "École nationale d'administration" (ENA) is in charge of the selection and initial and continuous training of French and international public servants, facilitating its students the access to important jobs in the French public administration.

The École Nationale de l'Administration in Strasbourg will contribute to the activity programme of the EYE 2014 and provide logistic support to the realisation of the whole event.

Jeunes Agriculteurs du Bas-Rhin

Jeunes Agriculteurs (JA) is an agricultural professional union, composed of young farmers of less than 35 years of age. Founded in 1957, Jeunes Agriculteurs had in 2012 more than 50.000 members out of a total of 100.000 farmers under 35 years. The official mission of JA is to ensure the renewal of generations in agriculture and therefore to represent and defend the interests of young farmers, especially as regards installation, meaning the access to this profession and the long-term perspectives.

The Jeunes Agriculteurs will be the outside caterer of the event, selling regional food to the EYE participants.

Foundation of the International Charlemagne Prize of Aachen/ European Charlemagne Youth Prize

“The European Charlemagne Youth Prize” aims to encourage the development of European consciousness among young people, as well as their participation in European integration projects. The Prize is awarded to projects undertaken by young people who foster understanding, promote the development of a shared sense of European identity, and offer practical examples of Europeans living together as one community. ‘The European Charlemagne Youth Prize’ is awarded jointly and annually by the European Parliament and the Foundation of the International Charlemagne Prize of Aachen.
