Elisabeth Jeggle

Motion for a resolution
Recital A a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Aa. whereas every activity to protect and ensure the well-being of animals must be based on the principle that animals are sentient beings whose specific needs must be taken into account, and whereas animal welfare in the 21st century is an expression of our humanity and a challenge to European civilisation and culture and must, as a matter of principle, apply to all animals,

Or.de

Amendment 14
Giovanni La Via

Motion for a resolution
Recital A a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Aa. whereas, in order to further develop animal protection in the Community, it is necessary to step up research efforts and to integrate animal protection into all relevant impact assessments, as well as to involve all interest groups in the decision-making process; whereas the transparency, acceptance and uniform application of, and monitoring of compliance with, existing provisions at all levels are a prerequisite for a successful animal protection strategy in Europe,

Or.en

Amendment 28
Marc Tarabella, Stéphane Le Foll

Motion for a resolution
Recital B a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Ba. whereas animal welfare must not be neglected, as it may constitute a comparative advantage for the European Union on condition, however, that the Union ensures, in an open market, that all animals and meat imported from third countries meet the same welfare requirements as apply within the Union,

Or. fr

Amendment 29
Herbert Dorfmann

Motion for a resolution
Recital B a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Ba. whereas there is a link between animal welfare, animal health and product safety, and whereas a high level of animal welfare from breeding to slaughter can improve product safety and quality,

Or.de

Amendment 30
Béla Glattfelder

Motion for a resolution
Recital B b (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Bb. whereas there is a need for a different approach to animal welfare, based primarily on non-obligatory standards which may be accepted and applied by the producers on a voluntary basis; whereas the primary objective of Community legislation should be to set up new non-obligatory animal welfare standards without compromising the existing rules,

Or.en

Amendment 31
Iratxe García Pérez

Motion for a resolution
Recital B b (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Or.es

Amendment 34
Elisabeth Köstinger, Peter Jahr

Motion for a resolution
Recital C

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

C. whereas in its above-mentioned resolution of 2006 the European Parliament insisted that the rules, standards and indicators adopted should be based on the latest technology and science and stressed that a high standard of animal welfare also entailed financial and administrative costs for Europe's farmers,

C. whereas in its above-mentioned resolution of 2006 the European Parliament insisted that the rules, standards and indicators adopted should be based on the latest technology and science and stressed that economic aspects must also be taken into account, since a high standard of animal welfare in particular also entailed financial and administrative costs for Europe's farmers,

Amendment

C. whereas in its above-mentioned resolution of 2006 the European Parliament insisted that the rules, standards and indicators adopted should be based on the latest technology and science and stressed that a high standard of animal welfare also entailed financial and administrative costs for the EU's farmers; whereas failure to respect the principle of reciprocity poses a risk to fair competition vis-à-vis non-Community producers,

Or.pt

Amendment 38
Marc Tarabella, Stéphane Le Foll

Motion for a resolution
Recital C a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Ca. whereas at the time of this review of the Community Action Plan on the Protection and Welfare of Animals 2006-2010 and on the eve of the first reflections on the CAP for the period after 2013, the European Union must adopt a balanced position on welfare, taking into account the economic consequences in terms of additional costs for livestock producers, linked to adequate income support for them through policy on prices and markets and/or direct aid,

Or. fr

Amendment 39
Béla Glattfelder

Motion for a resolution
Recital C a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Ca. whereas it is essential that European animal protection policy is accompanied by a coherent trade policy, which must be based on the fact that, in spite of the efforts of the EU, animal welfare concerns are not addressed by either the July 2004 Framework Agreement or by any other key documents of the Doha Round, therefore until there is no fundamental change in the attitude of the main trading partners in the WTO, it is not viable to introduce further animal welfare standards which have negative effects on the international competitiveness of producers,

Or.en

Amendment 40
Chris Davies

Motion for a resolution
Recital C a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Ca. whereas animal welfare is commonly understood to mean the result of the application of the standards and norms relating to the well-being and health of animals, which are designed to meet inherent species-specific needs and long-term welfare needs, regardless of the circumstances under which they are kept; whereas as a minimum requirement all captive animals and livestock need the following:

(a) ready access to fresh water and a diet suitable to maintain full health and vigour,

(b) a living environment that provides shelter, privacy, and mental and physical stimulation,

(c) provision of sufficient space, facilities and enrichment to permit natural behaviours,
(d) measures to prevent injury, illness, disease or infection,
(e) protection from fear and distress,

Michel Dantin, Christophe Béchu, Véronique Mathieu, Jean-Paul Gauzès

Motion for a resolution
Recital C a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Ca. whereas the communication from the Commission of October 2009 entitled 'A better functioning food supply chain in Europe' indicates that 'significant imbalances in bargaining power between contracting parties are a common occurrence' and that they 'have a negative impact on the competitiveness of the food supply chain as smaller but efficient actors may be obliged to operate under reduced profitability, limiting their ability and incentives to invest in improved product quality and innovation of production processes',

Or. fr

Amendment 43
Iratxe García Pérez

Motion for a resolution
Recital C a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Amendment

26a. Welcomes the recent changes in policy on combating animal diseases since the Foot and Mouth Disease (FMD) crisis in 2001, which take greater account of animal welfare aspects and assign more scope to vaccination; notes, however, that it must be possible for products from vaccinated animals to be sold on the European market in order for this policy to be effective; stresses that in emergencies vaccination at regional level is in principle preferable to culling large numbers of healthy animals as a preventive measure; considers, moreover, that, where technically feasible, there should be greater scope for preventive vaccination; calls on the Commission to make an even greater effort to secure corresponding amendments to the relevant conventions of the World Organisation for Animal Health (Office International des Epizooties, OIE) so that, provided that there are no public health implications, there are less restrictions on trade in products derived from vaccinated animals;

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 32 – subparagraph b (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Notes that the production of cereals and soy as feed for intensively reared livestock leads to emissions of greenhouse gases due to the use of nitrogen fertilisers in producing these crops and deforestation caused by the increasing demand for soy; considers that, because of its dependence on cereals and soy, intensive livestock production is an inefficient use of land, water and energy; calls on the Commission, therefore, to encourage more extensive animal farming which will benefit animal welfare, climate change, sustainability and the environment;
