Godelieve Quisthoudt-Rowohl
(PE571.491v01-00)

Implementation of the 2010 recommendations of Parliament on social and environmental standards, human rights and corporate responsibility
(2015/2038(INI))

Amendment 1

Klaus Buchner

on behalf of the Verts/ALE Group

Draft opinion

Recital B

Draft opinion

B. whereas Article 21 of the Treaty on the European Union (TEU) reaffirms that the EU's external actions will be guided by the principles of democracy, the rule of law, the universality and indivisibility of human rights and fundamental freedoms, respect for human dignity, the principle of equality and solidarity, and compliance with the UN Charter and international law;

Amendment

B. whereas Article 21 of the Treaty on the European Union (TEU) states that the Union shall define and pursue common policies and actions, in order to consolidate and support democracy, the rule of law, human rights and the principles of international law; and that the Union shall respect these principles and pursue these objectives in the development and implementation of its external action and of the external aspects of its other policies;

Draft opinion

C. whereas the link between trade, human rights and social and environmental standards has become an integral part of the EU's economic and commercial relations; whereas the EU's human rights and democracy policy in third countries should continue to be mainstreamed through other EU policies with an external dimension, including the trade policy;

Amendment

C. whereas the Commission's proposal for a new trade and investment strategy, "Trade for All", recognises the link between trade, human rights and social and environmental standards and insists on the need to make those rights and standards an integral part of the EU's economic and commercial relations; whereas human rights and democracy policy should however continue to be better integrated into EU policies with an external dimension, notably the trade policy;

Or. en

Amendment 5
Marietje Schaake

Draft opinion
Recital C a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Ca. whereas trade policy and ambitious trade agreements are key to promoting and strengthening the global-rules based trading system, which is essential for the EU with its trade-dependent economy; whereas the EU should use trade policy to aim towards setting high global standards in the area of human and social rights, consumer protection, the environment and animal and plant health;

Or. en

Amendment 6
Petras Auštrevičius, Beatriz Becerra Basterrechea

Draft opinion
Recital C a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Ca. whereas trade policies can have a negative impact on human rights of residents, consumers and workers; whereas, the issues of human rights should be considered prior to concluding any bilateral or multilateral EU trade negotiations in a sound and transparent manner;

Or. en

Amendment 7
Josu Juaristi Abaunz, Miguel Urbán Crespo

Draft opinion
Recital C a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Ca. whereas in 2000 the UN launched the United Nations Global Compact, in which it appealed to transnational companies voluntarily to implement 10 principles dealing with a range of aspects linked to human rights, labour rights, non-discrimination, the environment and anti-corruption; whereas in 2011 the United Nations Human Rights Council established the guiding principles on business and human rights, which were adopted by the UN Human Rights Council and oblige states to protect human rights where third parties, particularly businesses, take action that affects their territory and/or jurisdiction, and to make businesses responsible for ensuring that human rights are respected and guarantee that victims have the right to effective remedy; whereas several major companies, many of which operate with European capital and have signed up to the above international instruments, have been the target of claims and complaints relating to human and labour rights violations or on the grounds that they have caused environmental disasters;

Or. es

Amendment 8

Josu Juaristi Abaunz, Miguel Urbán Crespo

Draft opinion

Recital C b (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Cb. whereas on 26 June 2014 the UN Human Rights Council adopted a resolution on the establishment of an intergovernmental working group with the task of launching a process leading to the introduction of an international legally binding instrument to regulate the activities of transnational corporations and other business enterprises in the framework of international law; whereas the European Union voted against this resolution;

Or. es

Amendment 9
Miguel Urbán Crespo, Josu Juaristi Abaunz

Draft opinion
Recital C c (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Cc. whereas as long ago as 1974 the UN Centre on Transnational Corporations drew up a Code of Conduct for transnational corporations, and again in 2003, the UN Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights published its Norms on the responsibility of transnational corporations and other business enterprises; whereas, in both cases, corporations prevented the documents from being adopted and instead drew up their own voluntary and unilateral codes of conduct;

Or. es

Amendment 10
Miguel Urbán Crespo, Josu Juaristi Abaunz

Draft opinion
Recital C d (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Cd. having regard to the Commission communications entitled 'Corporate social responsibility: a business contribution to sustainable development’ (2002) and ‘Implementing the partnership for growth and jobs: Making Europe a pole of excellence on corporate social responsibility’ (2006), as well as the ‘Renewed EU strategy 2011-14 for corporate social responsibility’ (2011) and the European Parliament resolution on ‘corporate social responsibility: accountable, transparent and responsible business behaviour and sustainable growth’ (2013); whereas none of these documents is binding in nature and the Commission has refused to define legal responsibilities, has failed to introduce any type of regulation and has left businesses to set their own rules;

Amendment 16
Richard Howitt

Draft opinion
Recital D a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Da. whereas the European Union has played a leading role in negotiating and implementing a number of global initiatives for global responsibility, in particular the UN's Guiding Principles for Business and Human Rights, the revised OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the ILO Tripartite Declaration of Principles Concerning Multinational Enterprises and Social Policy, the framework of the International Integrated Reporting Council, the ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact, and the ISO 26000 Guidance Standard on Social Responsibility;

Amendment 17
Miguel Urbán Crespo, Josu Juaristi Abaunz

Draft opinion
Recital D a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Da. whereas there is a clearly asymmetrical relationship between international rules on trade and investment, which have full legal force as part of international trade law, and international labour standards, which are subject to cultural and political differences between countries, come below national standards in the legal hierarchy, do not have transnational judicial institutions and make no provision for coercive measures or economic sanctions;

Or. es

Amendment 18
Richard Howitt

Draft opinion
Recital D b (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Db. whereas the draft French law on 'due diligence' advancing the UN Guiding Principles, the statement of President Juncker at the 2015 G7 Summit in favour of "urgent action" to improve responsibility in global supply chains and the commitment of the current Dutch EU Presidency to seek Council Conclusions on global supply chains, all demonstrate the global responsibility for European business to promote and respect international standards;
