Paragraph 14 – indent 1

Motion for a resolution

– save the life of a person in danger;

Amendment

– encourages the EU and the Member States to open up new channels for legal entry into the European Union, in order to reduce the risks inherent in attempting to enter the EU illegally and the loss of migrant lives at sea, to combat the unlawful acts of the human trafficking networks and the risk of refoulement; in this regard, encourages the EU and the Member States to use humanitarian visas for asylum seekers and refugees, also when they resettle, in addition to making legal migration systems – such as those to facilitate family reunification, work and student mobility – more accessible to refugees;

– calls on the Member States to improve their reception standards, with special attention paid to people who have specific needs; encourages the Commission and the Member States to establish fair and efficient asylum application procedures to identify and protect those in need of international protection, in addition to procedures to identify stateless persons, to respect fundamental rights;

– calls on the EU to activate search and rescue operations without delay and urges Member States to provide genuine cooperation in the management of migration flows in order to prevent the loss of human lives at sea, especially following the conclusion of the Mare Nostrum operation, as part of the implementation of Regulation (EU) No 656/2014 and in accordance with their obligations under international navigation law;

– calls on the Member States to repeal national laws that criminalise the aiding of illegal immigration, in order to ensure that private boats are not encouraged to evade their obligations under international law, which require them to assist any vessels in danger;

– calls on the Member States to ensure that, in conducting interception operations at sea, the principle of non-refoulement is complied with and the persons intercepted are not returned to countries where they risk being subjected to torture or other inhuman or degrading treatment, as required by the ECtHR in its ruling in the Hirsi case and others against Italy; calls on the Commission, the European Agency for the Management of Operational Cooperation at the External Borders of the Member States of the European Union (Frontex) and the Member States to ensure compliance with this principle and with other obligations under international and EU law, in connection with the implementation of Regulation No (EU) 656/2014;

– encourages the EU and the Member States to put respect for the rights of migrants at the centre of any bilateral or multilateral cooperation agreement with non-EU countries in relation to migration, including readmission agreements, mobility partnerships and technical cooperation agreements;
