Rule 5 – paragraph 4 – subparagraph 1 a (new)

Present text

Amendment

By means of a reasoned decision the Bureau may, on the basis of the powers assigned to it by Rule 25(12), deny a Member the right to inspect a confidential Parliament document if, after hearing the Member concerned, the Bureau comes to the conclusion that such inspection would cause unacceptable damage to Parliament's institutional interests or to the public interest, and that the Member concerned is seeking to inspect the document for private and personal reasons. The Member may lodge a written appeal, which must include reasons, against such a decision within one month of notification thereof. Parliament shall reach a decision on the appeal without debate during the part-session that follows its being lodged.

Or. de

Justification

The amendment is intended to make it clear who may take such an initiative and to make such action clearly subject to existing rules.

Justification

At a time when we are criticising the concentration of power within a number of countries around the world we feel that this amendment would not only promote fresh leadership, but also showcase the democratic values of this House and encourage checks and balances on one of our most visible representatives. Furthermore, given that the President of the European Council is elected for two and a half years, renewable once, it would be logical to align the rules on the term of office of the President of the European Parliament.

Present text

The Vice-Presidents shall then be elected

Amendment

The Vice-Presidents shall then be elected on a single ballot paper. Those who on the first ballot, up to the number of 14, secure an absolute majority of the votes cast shall be declared elected in order of the number of votes obtained. If the number of candidates elected is less than the number of seats to be filled, a second ballot shall be held under the same conditions to fill the remaining seats. Should a third ballot be necessary, a relative majority shall suffice for election to the remaining seats. In the event of a tie the oldest candidates shall be declared elected.

Present text

Amendment

Members may serve as President, Vice-President or Quaestor for no more than two consecutive terms.

(This amendment is to enter into force at the beginning of the 9th parliamentary term.)

Or. de

Justification

The aim of the amendment is, in addition to the duration of a term of office laid down in Rule 19(1), also to introduce a rule establishing how many consecutive terms may be served. Politically, this rule should be based on the rules concerning the President of the European Council.

Vote in Parliament-First reading

1. Parliament may approve, amend or reject the draft legislative act.

1. Parliament shall vote first on any proposal for the immediate rejection of the draft legislative act that has been tabled in writing by the committee responsible, a political group or at least 40 Members.

If that proposal for rejection is adopted, the President shall ask the originating institution to withdraw the draft legislative act.

If the originating institution does so, the President shall declare the procedure closed.

If the originating institution does not withdraw the draft legislative act, the President shall announce that the first reading of Parliament is concluded, unless on a proposal of the Chair or rapporteur of the committee responsible or of a political group or at least 40 Members, Parliament decides to refer the matter back to the committee responsible for reconsideration.

If that proposal for rejection is not adopted, Parliament shall then proceed in accordance with paragraphs 1a and 1b.

1a. Any amendments to the draft legislative act shall be put to the vote, including, where applicable, individual parts of the provisional agreement tabled by the committee responsible under Rule 73d(4), where requests have been made for split or separate votes or competing amendments have been tabled.

Before voting on the amendments, the President may ask the Commission to state its position and the Council to comment.

After the vote on those amendments has taken place, Parliament shall vote on the whole draft legislative act, amended or otherwise.

If the whole draft legislative act, amended or otherwise, is adopted, the President shall announce that the first reading has been concluded, unless, on a proposal of the Chair or the rapporteur of the committee responsible or of a political group or at least 40 Members, Parliament decides to refer the matter back to the committee responsible, for interinstitutional negotiations in accordance with Rules 59a, 73a and 73d.

If the whole draft legislative act as amended fails to secure a majority of the votes cast, the President shall announce that the first reading has been concluded with the proposal having been rejected, unless, on a proposal of the Chair or rapporteur of the committee responsible or of a political group or at least 40 Members, Parliament decides to refer the matter back to the committee responsible for reconsideration.

1b. After the votes taken under paragraphs 1 and 1a, and the votes subsequently taken on amendments to the draft legislative resolution relating to procedural requests, if any, the legislative resolution shall be deemed to have been adopted. If need be, the legislative resolution shall be modified, pursuant to Rule 193(2), in order to reflect the outcome of the votes taken under paragraphs 1 and 1a.

The text of the legislative resolution and of Parliament's position shall be forwarded by the President to the Council and the Commission, as well as, where the draft legislative act originates from them, to the group of Member States, the Court of Justice or the European Central Bank.

Rule 67a

Vote in Parliament-Second reading

1. Parliament shall vote first on any proposal for immediate rejection of Council's position tabled in writing by the committee responsible, a political group or at least 40 Members. For it to be adopted, such a proposal shall require the votes of a majority of the component Members of Parliament.

If the Council's position is rejected, the President shall announce in Parliament that the legislative procedure is closed.

If that proposal for rejection is not adopted, Parliament shall then proceed in accordance with paragraphs 2 to 4.

2. Save where a proposal for rejection has been adopted in accordance with paragraph 1, the amendments to the Council's position, including those contained in the provisional agreement tabled by the committee responsible under Rule 73d(4), shall be put to the vote. Any amendment to the Council's position shall be adopted only if it secures the votes of a majority of the component Members of Parliament.

Before voting on the amendments, the President may ask the Commission to state its position and the Council to comment.

3. Notwithstanding a vote by Parliament against the initial proposal to reject the Council's position under paragraph 1, Parliament may, on the proposal of the Chair or rapporteur of the committee responsible or of a political group or at least 40 Members, consider a further proposal for rejection after voting on the amendments under paragraph 3. For it to be adopted, such a proposal shall require the votes of a majority of the component Members of Parliament.

If the Council's position is rejected, the President shall announce in Parliament that the legislative procedure is closed.

4. After the votes taken under paragraphs 1 to 3 and any votes then taken on amendments to the draft legislative resolution relating to procedural requests, the President shall announce that the second reading of Parliament has been concluded and the legislative resolution shall be deemed to have been adopted. If need be, it shall be modified, pursuant to Rule 193(2), to reflect the outcome of the votes taken under paragraphs 1 to 3 or to the application of Rule 76.

The text of the legislative resolution and of Parliament's position, if any, shall be forwarded by the President to the Council and to the Commission.

The provisions governing the procedure for granting discharge to the Commission in accordance with Article 319 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, in respect of the implementation of the budget, shall likewise apply to the procedure for granting discharge to:

Or. en

Justification

Amendments tabled on behalf of the CONT committee. The proposed change reinstates the original wording of this paragraph clarifying that: (1) discharge is granted on the basis of article 319 of the treaty and (2) the long current practice of preparing individual reports for the discharged bodies referred to in the fourth indent for the following reasons: 1. In recent years the bodies covered by rule 94 (fourth indent) have been at the centre of the discharge procedure. The proposal to deal with those bodies in a single report would make it more difficult to early identify possible problems and to ensure proper financial management for agencies and joint undertakings (JU) 2. A single report would also diffuse the accountability of each separate body, and would make it more challenging for CONT, and consequently the Parliament, to scrutinise in detail the implementation of the tasks and the budget execution of individual agencies and JU 3. The following also speak in favour of maintaining Rule 94 in its current version, such as a better visibility of Parliament's scrutiny of each agency and other bodies and a stronger public accountability of their financial management, as well as the Council's practice to present individual discharge recommendations on each of them 4. Under Rule 94 (fourth indent) CONT prepares the discharge reports for two different legal entities: EU decentralised agencies and JU. CONT has different "Rapporteurs" and different Political Groups are responsible. It appears therefore that they shouldn't be treated under the same report. CONT also reflects on a thematic regrouping of the discharge reports for EU decentralised agencies in order to have more than one rapporteur for this sector;

Parliament's Rules of Procedure

Rule 94 – paragraph 1 a (new)

Present text

Amendment

The discharge to the bodies referred to in the fourth indent of the first paragraph shall be dealt with in a single report per body.

Or. en

Justification

5. EU agencies are set up to perform specific tasks under EU law. The legal basis for each decentralised agency is set by its individual founding regulation. The EU agencies are established upon Commission's proposal by the European Parliament and the Council 6. JU are established on the basis of Article 187 TFEU to realise public-private partnerships at European level in the field of industrial research. Their founding members are typically the Commission, non-profit industry-led associations and some Member States 7. It results from these provisions that Parliament has to examine the implementation of the budget (accounts, financial statements) of each of the agencies and other bodies individually in the light of the individual reports of the Court of Auditors and take an individual and distinct decision on granting, postponing or rejecting the discharge as regards each of them 8. The amendment ("dealt with in a single report which shall contain separate sections") is not clear in this respect. Even if they were assembled in a single report, the discharge decisions for each body constitute legally distinct decisions which have to be separately adopted by Parliament and could not be replaced by a single vote 9. The proposed amendment obstructs the culture of responsibility within the agencies and JU. In the light of general principles of Union law, such as transparency and legal certainty, the existing version of Rule 94 and Parliament's current practice to adopt separate discharge reports on each of the entities referred to in Article 208 of the Financial Regulation appears preferable 10. Preparing only a single report for 41 bodies (33 EU agencies and 8 JU) would undermine the importance of the tasks performed by those bodies as well as their autonomy, in particular of the regulatory agencies and those with the function of independent information collection.
