22 a. Questions the decision by Parliament not to act on the allegations concerning the use of its resources by the President in furtherance of his candidacy in 2014; takes note of the reason put forward by the Secretary-General, namely that OLAF had dismissed the complaint because of the limited credibility of the allegations; points out that those allegations were raised by Members in connection with discharge for Parliament for 2014 (paragraphs 32, 33, 34 and 35); takes the view that, in such circumstances, it is the Secretary-General's duty to address issues raised by Members, especially where they relate to the President, who is the guarantor of Parliament's credibility; calls on the Secretary-General to explain why he has failed to act on the paragraphs referred to above;
