Paragraph 4

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

4. Welcomes the clause in the partnership and cooperation agreement concerning cooperation between the EU and Iraq in relation to the accession of Iraq to the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court (ICC); stresses the importance of the EU providing maximum support for Iraq's ratification of and accession to the Rome Statute as soon as possible, and for the implementation of international human rights standards and instruments as a matter of priority; applauds, in this respect, the clause in the partnership and cooperation agreement on cooperation in the promotion and effective protection of human rights in Iraq, with the caveat that failure by Iraq to protect, enhance and respect human rights would negatively affect cooperation and economic development programmes; stresses the importance of maintaining strict conditionality on the basis of the principle of 'more for more' and the need to put greater emphasis on the importance of substantial progress in relation to human rights in Iraq; welcomes the pledge by the Iraqi Government to promote effective dialogue with civil society and promote its effective participation;

4. Welcomes the clause in the Partnership and Cooperation Agreement concerning cooperation between the EU and Iraq on the accession of Iraq to the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court (ICC); stresses the importance of a maximum support by the EU for ratification and accession at the earliest convenience by Iraq to the ICC and for the implementation of international human rights standards and instruments as a matter of priority; calls on the EU Member States and on Iraq to ratify the statute changes of the ICC, adopted on 11 June 2010; applauds the clause in the Partnership and Cooperation Agreement on cooperation in the promotion and effective protection of human rights in Iraq with the caveat that failure by Iraq to protect, enhance and respect human rights would negatively affect cooperation and economic development programmes; stresses the importance of maintaining a strict conditionality on the basis of the principle of 'more for more' and the need to put greater emphasis on the importance of substantial progress in human rights in Iraq; welcomes the pledge by the Iraqi Government to promote effective dialogue with civil society and promote its effective participation;

Paragraph 13 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

13a. Calls on the Commission to draft a binding corporate social responsibility (CSR) clause for consideration at one of the first meetings of the Cooperation Council, based on CSR principles as defined at international level, including in the 2010 update of the OECD Guidelines and in the standards defined by the UN, the ILO and the EU; suggests that this clause should harmonise existing standards and concepts, in order to ensure comparability and fairness, and that it should set out measures to implement these principles at EU level, such as requirements to monitor the activities of companies, their subsidiaries and supply chains, and to apply due diligence;
