Amendment 25

Róza Gräfin von Thun und Hohenstein, Piotr Borys

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 3 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(3a) It is necessary to organise efficient publicity campaigns, in order to raise awareness of the European citizens' initiative, to promote civil dialogue and to build a genuine European public space; in this context, communication activities and information campaigns have an important role to play. Therefore, the Commission should consider using the existing programmes which promote mobility and active citizenship.

Or.en

Justification

Efficient communication on the citizens' initiative is crucial. The existing programmes which promote mobility (such as the Lifelong Learning and Youth in Action programmes) and active citizenship (the Europe for Citizens programme), as well as European Year for Volunteering 2011 can be useful in this context.

Amendment 26

Recital 3 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(3a) It is important to initiate effective campaigns to promote public debate of current initiatives. Their aim should be to build a European public space; in this context, an important role will be played both by the existing programmes which promote mobility and active citizenship and by the new forms of communication *in the shape of social networking sites, which promote public debate amongst

young people.*

Or.cs

Justification

To ensure efficient communication and broad public debate about the citizens' initiative, it is necessary to make use of existing programmes which promote mobility and active citizenship and to involve the new communication channels, which are an effective tool for promoting discussion of the citizens' initiative amongst the younger generation.

(5) It is necessary to establish the minimum number of Member States from which citizens must come. In order to ensure that a citizens' initiative is representative of a Union interest, this number should be set at one third of Member States.

Amendment

(5) It is necessary to establish the minimum number of Member States from which citizens must come. In order to ensure that a citizens' initiative is representative of a Union interest, this number should be set at one quarter of Member States.

Or.cs

Justification

The citizens' initiative should be accessible to citizens, and the threshold for support should therefore not be set too high. The requirement of one quarter of Member States (i.e. 7 of the current number of 27 EU Member States) is an amply sufficient expression of a common EU interest. At the same time, it is in line with other provisions of the Treaties, such as Article 76 TFEU.

Amendment

(5) It is necessary to establish the minimum number of Member States from which citizens must come. In order to ensure that a citizens' initiative is representative of a Union interest, this number should be set at one fifth of Member States.

Or.fr

The figure should not be too high otherwise the initiative may turn into an tool only large organisations with an already established good structure will be able to use.

Amendment

(5) It is necessary to establish the minimum number of Member States from which citizens must come. In order to ensure that a citizens' initiative is representative of a Union interest, this number should be set at one fourth of Member States.

Or.fr

Justification

Launching an initiative should not suffer from too many restrictions. The number of countries concerned will rise as signatures are collected. Looking at it from this viewpoint, it is fairly logical that the number of organiser countries will be lower than the number of countries from which signatures come.

(7) It is appropriate to fix a minimum age for supporting a citizens' initiative. This should be set at 16 years of age.

Justification

The minimum age of 16 is justified insofar as the ECI is not a binding referendum but solely an tool for setting the Commission's agenda, participation in which must be left as wide open as possible; this tool must also encourage young people to take or support initiatives affecting Europe.

(7) It is appropriate to fix a minimum age for supporting a citizens' initiative. This should be set as the age at which citizens are entitled to vote in the European Parliament elections.

Amendment

(7) It is appropriate to fix a minimum age for supporting a citizens' initiative. This should be set at 16 years of age.

(This amendment applies throughout the text. Adopting it will necessitate corresponding changes throughout.)

Justification

Lier l'âge minimal aux dispositions nationales en matière d'âge pour avoir le droit de vote risque de créer des inégalités parmi les Etats-membres de l'UE. La participation à l'initiative citoyenne n'a pas de conséquence législative directe. Elle peut donc être conçue comme un outil d'éducation à la citoyenneté. En conséquence, il est souhaitable d'harmoniser l'âge minimal du droit de signer une initiative citoyenne de façon à encourager la participation des jeunes à la vie démocratique le plus tôt possible. L'âge de 16 ans en vigueur dans certains des Etats membres pour le droit de vote paraît donc être un âge raisonnable.

As soon as a citizens' initiative has been declared admissible, it is important for the organising committee to know what type of legal act or measure will be appropriate in order to achieve the objectives of the initiative in case it is successful. The European Parliament should organise a hearing at which further possibilities for giving political support to the initiative would be discussed.

Or.fr

Justification

EU policies affect nationals of countries outside the EU who live within the EU just as much as they affect EU citizens. (This amendment applies throughout the text. Adopting it will necessitate corresponding changes throughout.)

Or.fr

Justification

Les ressortissants des pays-tiers résidant dans l'Union européenne participent au même titre que les citoyens ayant la nationalité d'un des pays de l'Union à la vie économique, sociale et culturelle des Etats membres et contribuent ainsi à la richesse de l'Union. Ils sont donc des citoyens actifs de l'Union puisque la citoyenneté ne peut se limiter à l'exercice du droit de vote au sens strict du terme. Faciliter l'intégration de tous ceux et toutes celles qui vivent sur le territoire de l'UE est une question souvent évoquée. Dès lors que la participation à une initiative citoyenne n'a pas de conséquence législative directe, donner le droit d'y participer à tous ceux et toutes celles qui résident sur le territoire de l'UE peut être un signe fort en leur direction.

Proposal for a regulation

Article 2 – paragraph 3

Text proposed by the Commission

3. “Organiser” means a natural or legal person or organisation responsible for the preparation and submission of a citizens’ initiative to the Commission.

(This amendment applies throughout the text. Adopting it will necessitate corresponding changes throughout.)

Or.cs

Justification

The citizens' initiative is a tool which should be used by the citizens themselves. Its aim is to strengthen direct democracy, promote active citizenship and enhance the influence of European citizens on EU policies. The organising committee will consist of at least seven citizens of the Union coming from at least seven Member States, which will ensure that every initiative will secure sufficient support across the EU right from the start and will truly be a citizens' initiative in its nature.

Amendment

3. “Organising committee” means a group of natural or legal persons responsible for the preparation and submission of a citizens’ initiative to the Commission.

Or.fr

Justification

The citizens’ initiative is a democratic instrument to be employed either by citizens themselves or via the not-for-profit bodies representing them. Forming them into a organising committee is a way of facilitating participation by citizens who may, left to themselves, feel incapable when faced with the complexity and scope of the citizens’ initiative.

1. The organising committee shall be comprised of members who are citizens of the Union entitled to vote in the European elections

Or.cs

Justification

Excluding legal persons from the organising committee will enhance the transparency of the citizens' initiative and protect it from abuse by transnational business and lobby groups, which can use other ways of acting at EU level. 1. The organising committee shall be comprised of members who are citizens of the Union, who are old enough to be entitled to vote in the European elections, and who are not currently serving as Members of the European Parliament.

Or.en

Justification

Excluding legal persons from the organising committee will protect the citizens' initiative from the possible abuse of existing business organisations, political parties and other organisations which are much stronger than a group of citizens and have more possibilities to act on the EU level. The citizens' initiatives should not develop into election campaigns nor should they be used as a tool for such campaigns. Politicians and especially MEPs have other tools to influence legislative decisions. It is worth to underline that Members of the European Parliament will have a chance to examine each initiative after the communication from the European Commission.

Justification

The minimum age of 16 is justified insofar as the ECI is not a binding referendum but solely a tool for setting the Commission's agenda, participation in which must be left as wide open as possible; this tool must also encourage young people to take or support initiatives affecting Europe.

Amendment 68 Olga Sehnalová

Proposal for a regulation Article 3 – paragraph 2

Text proposed by the Commission

2. In order to be eligible to support a proposed citizens' initiative, signatories shall be citizens of the Union and shall be of the age to be entitled to vote in the European elections.

Amendment

2. In order to be eligible to support a proposed citizens' initiative, signatories shall be citizens of the Union and shall be at least 16 years old.

Or.cs

Justification

To create a fully functioning European communication space it is essential to open it up to the younger generation, too, which has huge potential for creating a broad communication platform at EU level. Tying the minimum age to the age of entitlement to vote in national elections is unnecessarily strict, since the citizens' initiative will not be a direct component of the legislative process in the EU.
