C. whereas 61 % of all imported gas in the European Union is used in buildings and

75% of these are residential buildings; whereas any interruptions in gas supply leading to inadequate heating puts at risk the health and wellbeing of a large proportion of EU citizens;

75% of these are residential buildings; whereas therefore the building sector has to be regarded as part of the energy infrastructure system on an equal footing with energy generation and transmission; whereas any interruptions in gas supply leading to inadequate heating puts at risk the health and wellbeing of a large proportion of EU citizens;

(The Ecofys study, page 4, clearly refers to 61% as being the percentage of EU imported gas that is consumed in buildings, not 61% of all gas used in the EU. Most of the EU imported gas is used to heat buildings; the renovation of the EU building stock is therefore crucial to improve the EU energy independence.)

Motion for a resolution

Paragraph 10

Motion for a resolution

10. Acknowledges that the role of local authorities of European cities in increasing energy efficiency through cogeneration, modernisation of district heating systems, increasing the use of cleaner public transport, encouraging more active travel models and renovation of buildings is also undoubtedly an important contribution to energy independence;

Amendment

10. Acknowledges that local authorities have a role to play, within their countries, in increasing energy efficiency through cogeneration, modernisation of district heating systems, increasing the use of cleaner public transport, encouraging more active travel models and renovation of buildings, while noting that, given the current policy of austerity, that role is difficult to play;

Motion for a resolution

Paragraph 11

Motion for a resolution

11. Notes that improved vehicle performance standards and fuel efficiency are crucial for both reducing EU oil dependency and cutting greenhouse gas emissions, and therefore calls on the Commission to continue and accelerate its efforts in this field;

Amendment

11. Reminds that special attention should be paid to the transport sector due to its continued high use of energy, notes that fully implemented vehicle performance standards and fuel efficiency as well as continuously improved electrification based on renewable electricity are crucial for both reducing EU oil dependency and cutting greenhouse gas emissions, and therefore calls on the Commission to continue and accelerate its efforts in this field, in particular by coming forward with robust post-2020 standards for cars and vans, setting similar standards for other vehicles, proposing new fuel efficiency standards; requests the Commission to create additional measures inter alia for labelling, changing driving behaviour, reducing distances travelled and shifting to more sustainable modes of transport;

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 11

Motion for a resolution

11. Notes that improved vehicle performance standards and fuel efficiency are crucial for both reducing EU oil dependency and cutting greenhouse gas emissions, and therefore calls on the Commission to continue and accelerate its efforts in this field;

Amendment

11. Notes that improved vehicle performance standards and fuel efficiency are crucial for both reducing EU oil dependency and cutting greenhouse gas emissions, and therefore calls on the Commission to propose new car and van CO2 standards after 2020, as well as to set similar standards for other vehicles, such as trucks and buses; notes, however, that the long term solution for cutting transport emissions and ensuring energy demand reduction and diversification of supply is in alternative fuels, especially in electrification with renewable electricity;

Motion for a resolution

Paragraph 13

Motion for a resolution

13. Calls on the Commission to closely monitor the implementation of the Energy

Amendment

13. Calls on the Commission to closely monitor the implementation of the Energy

Efficiency Directive and the Energy Performance of Buildings Directive and to carry out a limited review of the Energy Efficiency Directive in order to update the provisions relevant to the indicative 2030 energy efficiency improvement target of at least 27 %; believes that measurement and verification of energy efficiency improvements should be an integral part of the annual European semester reporting;

Efficiency Directive and the Energy Performance of Buildings Directive, and stresses the potential of energy audits to identify insulation measures especially in large industries and to carry out a full review of the Energy Efficiency Directive; asks the Commission to update the provisions relevant to the indicative 2030 energy efficiency improvement target of at least 40%; believes that measurement and verification of energy efficiency improvements should be an integral part of the annual European semester reporting;

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 13

Motion for a resolution

13. Calls on the Commission to closely monitor the implementation of the Energy Efficiency Directive and the Energy Performance of Buildings Directive and to carry out a limited review of the Energy Efficiency Directive in order to update the provisions relevant to the indicative 2030 energy efficiency improvement target of at least 27 %; believes that measurement and verification of energy efficiency improvements should be an integral part of the annual European semester reporting;

Amendment

13. Calls on the Commission to closely monitor the implementation of the Energy Efficiency Directive and the Energy Performance of Buildings Directive (EPBD) and to enforce the energy efficiency acquis rigorously and immediately; calls on the Commission to carry out a review of the Energy Efficiency and Energy Performance of Buildings Directives in order to update the provisions relevant to the 2030 energy efficiency target and refocus its priorities towards helping vulnerable consumers and tackling energy poverty, believes that the most effective way to do this is by strengthening Article 4 of the Energy Efficiency Directive, believes that measurement and verification of energy efficiency improvements should be an integral part of the annual European semester reporting; recalls that the EPBD sets the principle of nearly zero-energy buildings, based on high energy performance thanks to their homogenously-insulated envelope.

Amendment 313
Miroslav Poche

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 13 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

13a. Calls on the Commission to actively support Member States in the deployment of national renovation strategies as requested in article 4 of Energy efficiency directive; asks for the 2017 iteration of these strategies to be developed with more input from relevant stakeholders in the building sector with a view to establish a national long term (2050) goal of reduction of energy demand in the building stock and accompanying milestones for 2040, 2030 and 2020. Notes that the provision on the energy efficiency obligation schemes set in the Energy Efficiency Directive is the main measure that delivers energy savings for 2020; therefore calls on the European Commission to prolong this requirement beyond 2020, as a key instrument to achieve the 2030 energy efficiency objective, while deleting the exemptions that reduce its effectiveness;

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 13 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

13a. Urges the Commission to utilize the potential of energy efficiency by proposing new legislation including;

- a framework of targeted financial incentives and legal obligations including milestones to ensure a minimum, cost-optimal annual deep renovation rate for all eligible existing buildings of at least 3% with a view to achieving an 80% energy performance improvement in the EU building stock by 2050;*
- Investment to moderate energy demand, especially in buildings, to be categorised and evaluated as infrastructure investment on a par with investment on the energy supply side, thus making it eligible for equal financing conditions;*
- Fully integrated planning of energy demand and supply, in order to achieve cost-optimal security of supply and avoid unnecessary or over-dimensioned infrastructure investments and stranded costs;*
