Amendment 1

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1

Text proposed by the Commission

(1) Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>58</sup> provides for harmonised rules and procedures to facilitate cooperation between national authorities responsible for the enforcement of cross-border consumer protection laws. Article 21a provides for a review of the effectiveness and operational mechanisms of that Regulation and pursuant to that Article, the Commission concluded that Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 is not sufficient to effectively address the enforcement challenges of the Single Market, and in particular the Digital Single Market,

Amendment

(1) Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>58</sup> provides for harmonised rules and procedures to facilitate cooperation between national authorities responsible for the enforcement of cross-border consumer protection laws. Article 21a of Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 provides for a review of the effectiveness and operational mechanisms of that Regulation and pursuant to that Article, the Commission concluded that Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 is not sufficient to effectively address the enforcement challenges of the Single Market, including the Digital Single Market,

Or. en

Justification

Although the digital environment and development of e-commerce bring enforcement challenges that require a highest level of the attention of competent authorities, the aim of this Regulation should be to secure a high degree of consumer protection, fair environment and a level playing field in the Single Market in general, irrespective whether online or offline.

Amendment 2

Proposal for a regulation Recital 2

Text proposed by the Commission

(2) The Digital Single Market Strategy adopted by the Commission on 6 May 2015 identified as one of the priorities the need to enhance consumer trust through more rapid, agile and consistent enforcement of consumer rules. The Single Market Strategy adopted by the Commission on 28 October 2015 reiterated that enforcing Union consumer protection legislation should be further strengthened by the Regulation on Consumer Protection Cooperation,

Amendment

(2) The Digital Single Market Strategy adopted by the Commission on 6 May 2015 identified as one of the priorities the need to enhance consumer trust through more rapid and consistent enforcement of consumer laws. The Single Market Strategy adopted by the Commission on 28 October 2015 reiterated that enforcing Union laws that protect consumers' interests should be further strengthened by the reform of Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004,

Amendment 3

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 3

Text proposed by the Commission

(3) The resulting ineffective enforcement of cross-border infringements, in particular in the digital environment, enables traders to evade enforcement by relocating within the Union, giving rise to a distortion of competition for law-abiding traders operating either domestically or cross-border, and thus directly harming consumers and undermineing consumer confidence in cross-border transactions and the Single Market. An increased level of harmonisation setting effective and efficient enforcement cooperation among competent public enforcement authorities is therefore necessary to detect, investigate and order the cessation of intra-Union infringements and widespread infringements,

Amendment

(3) The ineffective enforcement of the laws governing cross-border infringements, including in the digital environment, enables traders to evade enforcement of those laws by relocating within the Union, giving rise to a distortion of competition for law-abiding traders operating either domestically or cross-border, and thus directly harming consumers and undermining consumer confidence in cross-border transactions and the Single Market. An increased level of harmonisation, ensuring effective and efficient cooperation among competent public enforcement authorities, is therefore necessary in order to detect, investigate, order and force the cessation of infringements,

Amendment 4

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 4

Text proposed by the Commission

(4) Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council established a network of competent public authorities throughout the Union. Effective coordination among different competent authorities participating in the network, as well as other public authorities at the level of Member States, is necessary. The coordination role of the single liaison office should be entrusted to a competent authority in each Member State that has sufficient powers and resources to undertake this key role in the network of competent authorities,

Amendment

(4) Regulation (EC) No 2006/2004 established a network of competent public authorities throughout the Union. Effective coordination among different competent authorities participating in the network, as well as other public authorities at the level of Member States, is necessary. The coordination role of the single liaison office should be entrusted in each Member State to a public authority that has sufficient powers and necessary and sufficient resources to undertake that key role,

Or. en

Justification

The role of the single liaison office (SLO) is to ensure the smooth circulation of information and coordination between different national competent authorities in charge of the implementation/enforcement. In several Member States, SLOs are not necessarily also competent authorities. It should be allowed for these Member States to continue in this model if it works efficiently.

(5a) In order to ensure legal certainty and the efficiency of enforcement actions against ceased infringements in a cross-border context, and to prevent differential treatment both for consumers and traders in the Single Market, the introduction of a limitation period is needed. This will involve the setting of an unambiguous period of time within which competent authorities, when enforcing the rules governing cross-border infringements, may impose sanctions, order the compensation of consumers or order the restitution of profits obtained as a result of infringements,

Where the Member States choose that competent authorities exercise their powers by application to the competent courts, Member States should ensure that those powers can be exercised effectively and in a timely manner and that the cost of exercising those powers is proportionate and does not hamper the application of this Regulation,

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Background and the Commission's proposal

In 2003 the Commission proposed for the first time a system for cross-border cooperation between the national authorities, in order to promote more effective surveillance, investigation and prosecution of cross-border infringements, thereby closing gaps exploited by rogue traders. Regulation 2006/2004 (the so-called 'CPC Regulation') was adopted by the European Parliament and the Council on 27 October 2004 and entered into force on 29 December 2006.

Ten years after, the Commission submits a proposal to revise the CPC Regulation, to improve the effectiveness of the rules and procedures relevant to this cooperation, in particular with the aim to better addressing the challenges of the Digital Single Market. The proposal for a Regulation, repealing Regulation 2006/2004, forms part of the E-Commerce package adopted on 25 May 2016. The revised provisions are meant to enhance the enforcement mechanisms used by the national authorities to address unlawful practices harmful to consumers in several countries, especially as regards online breaches.

Position of the rapporteur

The Rapporteur welcomes the Commission's proposal and acknowledges that considerable progress is still to be achieved in the area of enforcement of consumer protection laws.

Because traders increasingly operate across the Single Market, EU relevant infringements should be supported by efficient mechanisms to avoid inconsistent enforcement approaches regarding the same infringement, and duplication of enforcement efforts and cost.

Therefore, the Rapporteur believes that the Commission's proposal has rightly identified the powers needed by the enforcement authorities in all Member States (Article 8) and considers this set of powers as a prerequisite for a proper cross-border cooperation to tackle infringements. For achieving an effective cooperation these powers should be available to enforcement authorities in all Member States.

The limitation period to exercise certain powers in the case of an infringement is reasonably set to 5 years, providing legal certainty and possibly having a deterrent effect (Article 5).

The Rapporteur supports the introduction of the new notions of "widespread infringement" and "widespread infringement with a Union dimension". However, the Rapporteur is of the opinion that the threshold set for the latter is too high (Article 21). Due to complexity of investigation and coordinated enforcement that is foreseen in case of widespread infringement with a Union dimension, the anticipation of the Commission as the coordinating entity is needed. The Rapporteur therefore proposes a single criterion, namely a majority of the Member States (Article 3).

The Rapporteur supports the participation of consumer organisations, for example under the alert mechanism provided in Article 34, because entities having a legitimate interest in consumers' protection very often become aware of infringements much earlier than the competent authorities. In this respect, it is also necessary to ensure an appropriate functioning of the database and of the information exchange system provided under Article 43.

The Rapporteur believes that once the secrecy criteria have been complied with, common positions - the outcome of the investigation and the assessment of widespread infringements - or parts of them should be published in order to improve transparency and inform consumers about proven infringements.

The Rapporteur agrees that a substantial number of consumer laws should be added to the list of legislation that the Regulation covers to help enforcement bodies to tackle issues such as discrimination of consumers on grounds of residence/nationality of recipient and all cross-border infringements in general.

The submission of biannual enforcement plans by each Member State (Article 45) is accepted by the Rapporteur as means for the Member States to better prioritise and increase efficient application. However, the Rapporteur would propose to limit the set obligations to what is necessary, while respecting subsidiarity.

The Rapporteur proposes the Commission to submit every two years a report containing an overview of the information exchanged under the cooperation mechanism set by this Regulation, including alerts notified by both competent authorities and external entities. This publicly available report shall summarize trends and developments in the area of enforcement of consumer laws.

In addition, the Rapporteur believes that the proposal can benefit from a number of improvements and has sought with her amendments to address the following:

- To provide for a clear set of definitions, including “widespread infringement with a Union dimension”, “competent authority”, “single liaison office”, “sweep”, whereas definitions codified in the existing consumer acquis can be maintained (consumer, trader);
- To extend the sweeps to the offline sector because consumer protection should be enforced regardless of the medium (infringements occurring online or offline);
- To tackle the numerous empowerments to the Commission which are laid down in the proposal in an insufficiently and unclear manner. Amongst others, the Rapporteur wishes to lay down in the basic act a 14 days time-limit for replying to requests (Article 11) and asks the Commission to set reasonable time limits for the exchange of information and enforcement requests for coordinated actions, by means of implementing measures;
- To simplify the structure of the proposal’s text, especially of Chapter IV, amongst other in order to avoid unnecessary repetition. On the substance, to clarify procedures for cooperation, whilst respecting legal traditions with regard to enforcement of the law;
- To clarify the role of the Commission, especially under Chapter III on the mutual assistance mechanism and under Chapter IV on widespread infringements and widespread infringements with a Union dimension;

- To clarify the procedure of opening coordinated actions and designation of a coordinator when a suspicion of a widespread infringement is notified;
- To address the coordination role of the single liaison office, that should be entrusted in each Member State to an authority that has sufficient powers and resources to undertake this key role;
- To remove the location of the trader as the most important criterion for designating the competent authority taking the enforcement measures (Article 25 as amended in Article 18a).
