Draft opinion

Recital C a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Ca. Whereas also one of the five Europe 2020 targets aims at reducing by at least 20 million the number of people in or at risk of poverty and social exclusion; whereas this objective is far from being achieved and in 2013 almost 123 million people in the EU are in this situation of whom 32,2 million persons with disabilities in 2012; whereas in 2013 26,5 million children in the EU28 were at risk of falling into poverty or social exclusion; points out that high levels of inequality reduce the output of the economy and the potential for sustainable growth;

Amendment 25
Tamás Meszerics
on behalf of the Verts/ALE Group

Draft opinion
Recital C a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Ca. whereas restrictions on public spending and austerity measures are seriously hindering urgently needed investment in critical sectors of the economy and society and therefore withholding economic growth; whereas austerity measures and lack of public investment overly affect the most vulnerable households and may cause social crisis;

Or. en

Amendment 26
Maria Arena, Joachim Schuster, Brando Benifei, Evelyn Regner, Elena Gentile, Jutta Steinruck

Draft opinion
Recital C b (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Cb. Whereas the increasing of the employment rate in member states has been unfortunately accompanied - due to the economic crisis, austerity policies and structural reforms - by the increase of atypical, precarious and non-formal forms of employment, zero-hour contracts included, the weakening of social dialogue, the decentralisation of the collective consultation in some member states giving rise to negative impact on worker's rights;

Or. en

Amendment 27

Maria Arena, Joachim Schuster, Brando Benifei, Evelyn Regner, Elena Gentile, Jutta Steinruck

Draft opinion

Recital C c (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Cc. Whereas the most precarious work involves the inability of individuals to enforce their rights, where social insurance protection is absent, where health and safety is put at risk and where work does not provide sufficient income to enable people to live decently; whereas insecurity is another key element of precariousness and it encompasses work uncertainty, income insufficiency, lack of protection against dismissal, an unknown length of employment where there is uncertainty about future employment;

Or. en

Amendment 28

Maria Arena, Joachim Schuster, Brando Benifei, Evelyn Regner, Elena Gentile, Jutta Steinruck

Draft opinion

Recital C d (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Cd. Whereas as opposed to precarious work, decent jobs with employment security must be promoted and required to help tackle unemployment across the EU but also to boost the domestic demand and stimulate growth;

Amendment 29

Maria Arena, Joachim Schuster, Brando Benifei, Evelyn Regner, Elena Gentile, Jutta Steinruck

Draft opinion

Recital C e (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

Ce. Whereas growth in most of member states remains low, the EU growth rate for 2016 having even declined to stabilize at 2 % (whereas Global growth (excluding the EU) is expected to strengthen to 3.7% this year and 3.9% in 2018 from 3.2% in 2016) despite positive temporary aspects such as low oil prices, low interest for credits and unconventional monetary policies showing therefore that the EU can do more to boost the economic and social recovery so as to make it more sustainable in the medium term;

Or. en

Amendment 30

Maria Arena, Joachim Schuster, Brando Benifei, Evelyn Regner, Elena Gentile, Jutta Steinruck

Draft opinion

Recital C f (new)

Paragraph 1 a (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

1a. Notes that the EU continues to suffer from structural problems that need to be addressed; recognizes that austerity measures have failed to provide sustainable solutions for these problems; underlines the crucial need to break up austerity policies, to boost the domestic demand by promoting public and private investment, by promoting socially and economically balanced structural reforms that reduce inequalities and promote quality and inclusive jobs, sustainable growth and social investment and responsible fiscal consolidation, thus reinforcing a favourable path towards more cohesion and upward social convergence environment for business and public services with a view to creating more quality jobs while balancing the social and the economic dimensions; stresses that those priorities will only be achieved if investment in human capital is prioritised as a common strategy;

Paragraph 6 h (new)

Draft opinion

Amendment

6h. Calls on the Commission, after due consultation of the civil society, notably the social partners, to submit a proposal by 2020 to the European Parliament and the Council, to establish a European Unemployment Insurance scheme, complementing national benefit schemes; considers that such an appropriately funded automatic stabiliser can play an important role in reducing inequality between countries and in neutralising the consequences arising from the absorption of asymmetric shocks; this scheme should be targeted to Eurozone countries, with the possibility for other Member States to join afterwards;
