(5) The Union shall ensure policy coherence for development as required by Article 208 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union. The Union should take account of the objectives of development cooperation in the policies that are likely to affect developing countries, which will be a crucial element of the strategy to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals defined in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development ('2030 Agenda') adopted by the United Nations in September 2015⁴⁵. Ensuring policy coherence for sustainable development, as embedded in the 2030 Agenda, requires taking into account the impact of all policies on sustainable development at all levels — nationally, within the Union, in other countries and at global level.

The 2030 Agenda, together with the Paris Agreement on Climate Change⁵⁷ and the Addis Ababa Action Agenda⁵⁸ is the international community's response to global challenges and trends in relation to sustainable development. With the Sustainable Development Goals at its core, the 2030 Agenda is a transformative framework to eradicate poverty and achieve sustainable development globally. It is universal in scope, providing a comprehensive shared framework for action that applies to the Union, to its Member States and to its partners. It balances the economic, social and environmental dimensions of sustainable development, recognising the essential interlinkages between its goals and targets. The 2030 Agenda aims to leave no one behind. The implementation of the 2030 Agenda will be closely coordinated with the Union's other relevant international commitments. (8a) The implementation of this Regulation should also include the UN Security Council resolution 1325 on women, peace and security, recognising its primary objective of protecting women and substantially increasing their participation in political and decision-making processes. At the peace table, where crucial decisions about post-conflict recovery and governance are made, women are still conspicuously underrepresented despite the fact that when women have an explicit role in peace processes there is a 20% increase in the probability of an agreement lasting at least 2 years, and a 35% increase in the probability of an agreement lasting at least 15 years. The effective participation of women in decision-making processes at all levels is crucial, with a view to developing gender-sensitive responses to address underlying inequalities. The EU will ensure UNSCR 1325 is reflected in all its work in this area.
