Sustainable finance and disclosures: Bringing clarity to investors

Tipo di pubblicazione: Briefing
Data: 13-03-2019
Autore: STEFANO SPINACI

Riassunto: On 24 May 2018, the Commission published three proposals for regulations reflecting the EU’s efforts to connect finance with its own sustainable development agenda. The proposals include measures to: create an EU sustainable finance taxonomy; make disclosures relating to sustainable investments and sustainability risks clearer; and establish low-carbon benchmarks. In particular, the proposal for a regulation on disclosures aims to integrate environmental, social and governance considerations into the decision-making process of investors and asset managers. It also aims to increase the transparency duties of financial intermediaries towards end-investors, with regard to sustainability risks and sustainable investment targets. This should reduce investors’ search costs for sustainable investments and enable easier comparison between sustainable financial products in the EU. In the Parliament, the ECON committee adopted its report on the proposed regulation in November 2018. On 7 March 2019, the Romanian EU Council Presidency and the Parliament reached a preliminary agreement on the proposal in trilogue discussions, and that agreement now needs to be confirmed by Parliament, with the plenary vote expected in April. First edition. The ‘EU Legislation in Progress’ briefings are updated at key stages throughout the legislative procedure.

Settore di intervento: Problemi economici e monetari

Riassunto: Nel marzo 2018 la Commissione europea ha presentato una proposta di regolamento volta a rivedere il regolamento (CE) n. 924/2009 relativo ai pagamenti transfrontalieri. La proposta ridurrebbe le commissioni applicate sui pagamenti transfrontalieri in euro e garantirebbe una maggiore trasparenza sulle commissioni di conversione valutaria. Cross-border euro transfers and currency conversions: A step forward in favour of the single market

Tipo di pubblicazione: Briefing
Data: 23-10-2018
Autore: STEFANO SPINACI
Settore di intervento: Problemi economici e monetari | Adozione della legislazione da parte del PE e del Consiglio

Parole chiave: mercato unico | pagamento intra UE | automazione del sistema bancario | elaborazione del diritto dell’UE | istituto finanziario | spese bancarie | regolamentazione finanziaria | pagamento | zona euro | relazione | servizi finanziari | proposta (UE)

Riassunto: Cross-border payments are crucial for the integration of the EU economy, and play an important role in ensuring that citizens and enterprises from all EU Member States enjoy the same rights offered by the single market. Currently, restrictions and excessive costs affecting cross-border payments are an impediment to the completion of this market. Since the introduction of the euro, the EU has launched various initiatives to reduce the cost of cross-border transactions, among them a set of single euro payments area (SEPA) standards, regulations on cross-border payments, and the Payment Services Directives. Nevertheless, cross-border euro payments made in non-euro-area Member States are still subject to high fees. Furthermore, when paying with a card or making an ATM withdrawal in a country using a currency other than the euro, it is almost impossible to know exactly how much it is going to cost. On 28 March 2018, the European Commission presented a proposal for a regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 924/2009 and aimed at making cross-border payments in euros cheaper across the entire EU, while also bringing more transparency to currency-conversion practices.
