<sup>4</sup>. Communication from the Commission to the European Parliament, the European Council, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions, The European green deal, 11.12.2019, COM/2019/640 final.

- (2) ESAP is to be established in accordance with Regulation (EU) XXX/XXX of the European Parliament and of the Council [ESAP Regulation]<sup>1</sup> in order to enable an easy access to data for decision makers in the economy and society to make sound decisions that serve the efficient functioning of the market. Rolling out common European data spaces in crucial sectors, including the financial sector, would serve that purpose. The financial world is expected to undergo a digital transformation in the coming years, and the Union should support this, in particular by promoting data-driven finance. Ensuring easier access to public information is also crucial in order to increase opportunities for the growth of small and medium-sized businesses and for visibility and innovation, including easier access to information provided on a voluntary basis. Furthermore, putting sustainable finance at the heart of the financial system is a key means to achieving a green transition of the Union economy. For the green transition to succeed through sustainable finance, it is essential that information related to the sustainability and social governance of businesses is easily accessible to investors so that they are better informed when making decisions about investments. For those purposes, public access to financial, non-financial and ESG-related information on natural or legal persons ('entities') required to make information public, or publicly disclosing such information about their economic activities to a collection body on a voluntary basis needs to be improved. An efficient means to do so at Union level is to establish a centralised platform, ESAP, giving electronic access to all relevant information.

- (3) ESAP should provide the public with an easy centralised access to information about entities and their products in relation to financial services, capital markets and sustainability that authorities and entities are required to publish in accordance with a number of Directives and Regulations in that field in accordance with a file-once principle and without entailing any additional reporting requirements beyond those specified by law. Nevertheless, any entity may submit information about its economic activities of relevance to financial services, or to capital markets or concerning sustainability to a collection body with a view to making that information accessible on ESAP in accordance with Article 3 of Regulation (EU) XXX/XXX [ESAP Regulation].

- (4) A number of Directives in the field of financial services, capital markets and sustainability should be amended in order to enable the functioning of ESAP. To allow for a sound and efficient functioning of ESAP in a proportionate manner, the scaling-up of the collection and submission of the information would need to be gradual. Going forward, the submission of information to ESAP will constitute an integrated part of the sectoral legislation listed in the Annex of Regulation (EU) XXX/XXX [ESAP Regulation] and of any further legally binding Union act which provides for the centralised access to information in ESAP. Information to be made available on ESAP and collection bodies identified for the collection of this information could be revisited when these sectoral legislations are reviewed to ensure that ESAP provides market participants with an easy centralised access to the information they need and becomes a market reference.
- (4a) ESAP should be established with an ambitious timeline, while taking intermediate steps to ensure the operational soundness and efficiency of the platform. In particular, sufficient time should be left for the technical implementation of the project and the collection of information to be put in place in Member states. The development of ESAP should start with a phase of a duration of 12 months to grant sufficient time to Member states and ESMA to establish the IT infrastructure and test it on the basis of the collection of a limited number of information flows. The development of the project should then gradually incorporate, over time, a number of flows of information and functionalities at a pace allowing for a sound and efficient development of the platform. The functioning of ESAP should be assessed on a regular basis over the course of its implementation and operation to allow for the adjustments that would ensure its adequacy to the needs of its users and its technical efficiency.

- (5) For the functioning of ESAP, collection bodies should be designated to collect from the relevant entities the information in relation to financial services, capital markets and sustainability. In the absence of a collection body already established under Union law, Member States should retain flexibility in organizing the collection of information in their jurisdiction and should designate at least one collection body as defined in Regulation (EU) XXXX/XXX [ESAP Regulation] to collect and store the information, and notify the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) accordingly. For the purpose of making information available on ESAP in a efficient way in terms of functioning and costs, the collection, transmission and storage of information should be based, to the extent possible, on existing collection, transmission and storage procedures and infrastructures both as regards national infrastructures and existing mechanisms in place for the transmission of information from collection bodies to ESMA.
- (6) To ensure that ESAP provides timely access to information that is relevant for financial services, capital markets and sustainability as set out in Regulation (EU) XXXX/XXX [ESAP Regulation], entities should submit their information to a collection body at the same time as they make that information public. In turn, collection bodies should make the information available to ESAP in automated ways and without undue delay, drawing to the extent possible upon the existing collection procedures and infrastructures in place, at Union and national level, for the transmission of information from collection bodies to ESMA.

- (7) In order for the information to be digitally usable, the entities should submit to the collection bodies the information in at least a data extractable format or, where required under Union law, in a machine-readable format. The entities should also accompany the information they submit to the collection bodies with the metadata requested by those collection bodies. The Commission should be empowered to adopt implementing technical standards developed by the relevant European Supervisory Authority specifying the metadata for each piece of information, the data structuring of the information, and the information for which the machine-readable format is required and which machine-readable format is to be used in that case. As regards implementing technical standards concerning sustainability information, the Joint Committee of the European Supervisory Authorities should liaise with the European Financial Reporting Advisory Group (EFRAG) on the development of those draft standards. The introduction of a machine-readable format should be justified by a cost-benefit analysis taking into account costs and benefits for preparers and users of the information but also for any other involved parties, in particular collection bodies, national competent authorities and ESAs.
- (7a) Collection bodies should not be responsible for verifying the accuracy of the content of the information, unless mandated to do so in accordance with the applicable Union legislative acts listed in the Annex to ESAP Regulation. Entities subject to mandatory reporting should be responsible for ensuring the accuracy of the information submitted pursuant to their legal obligations under the applicable Union legislative acts listed in the Annex to ESAP Regulation or under national law.
- (9) The European Data Protection Supervisor was consulted in accordance with Article 42(1) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725<sup>1</sup> and delivered an opinion on 19 January 2022<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>1</sup>. Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2018 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 and Decision No 1247/2002/EC (OJ L 295, 21.11.2018, p. 39).

- (10) Since the objective of this Directive, namely to harmonise the disclosure requirements for the public information that should be accessible through ESAP, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States and can therefore, by reason its scale or effects, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Directive does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective.
