

Eleonora Faina, General Manager of Anitec-Assinform

39 years old, with a degree in political science, a Master of Science "Antitrust and Regulation of Public Utilities", for over 15 years she has been dealing with public policies and institutional affairs for trade associations and companies in regulated sectors.

After graduation, she was intern and consultant at Italian ministry of Foreign Affairs and at the Olympic Committee Turin 2006, and she completed her studies focused on geopolitics and international relations, before completing the MSc in Antitrust and Regulation of Public Utilities.

From 2008 to 2017, she was senior public policy manager in Confindustria, General Confederation of Italian Industry, where she worked closely with institutions at all levels (Parliament, Government, regulatory authorities, local authorities). During her experience she consolidated a solid knowledge of main industrial policy dossier, including digitization of industry, digital market issues, public procurement regulation, infrastructure policy. She was seconded to the Confindustria's Delegation to the EU for one year during the Italian Presidency of the EU in 2014.

Until July 2019 she was Senior Manager Institutional Affairs at Italiana petroli S.p.A ..

From August 2019 she was Head of Industrial Policies of FederlegnoArredo.

From September 2020 she is General Manager of Anitec-Assinform, Italian Association of ICT industry, member of Confindustria.