

Radboud Reijn has been the coordinator of the GSP Platform since it was founded in 2018.

The GSP Platform represents a group of human rights and development organizations, trade unions and other stakeholders seeking to advance human and labour rights and sustainability standards in the context of the trade preferences of the European Union.

Prior to being the coordinator of the GSP Platform he worked for several non-governmental organisations.

Originally from The Netherlands, Radboud hold a degree in Political Sciences from The University of Amsterdam.