The screenshot displays the 'Ancient City of Aleppo (inscribed in 1986)' page. It features a large image of the city's ruins and a detailed text block. The text includes the site's name in Arabic and English, its inscription date, and a description of its historical significance. Below the text is a grid of smaller images showing various parts of the site. The page also includes a sidebar with social media icons and a 'CONTACT US' button.
