

AMENDMENT 1

by Evelyne Gebhardt and Barbara Weiler, on behalf of the PSE Group

Report

A6-0288/2005

Joachim Wuermeling

Green Paper on defence procurement

Motion for a resolution

---

Paragraph 6

6. Stresses the need, particularly in the context of a more efficient European armaments industry, to maintain an adequate balance between arms expenditure and spending on civil methods of conflict prevention, in order to not to bring into doubt the Union's role as a civil power;

Or. en

12.10.2005

A6-0288/2

AMENDMENT 2

by Evelyne Gebhardt and Barbara Weiler, on behalf of the PSE Group

Report

A6-0288/2005

Joachim Wuermeling

Green Paper on defence procurement

Motion for a resolution

---

Paragraph 7

7. Emphasises that the increased efficiency of the industry should serve to protect European soldiers in action and benefit European citizens and that the primary concern should not be to obtain the most modern military technology simply for the sake of having it;

Or. en

12.10.2005

A6-0288/3

AMENDMENT 3

by Evelyne Gebhardt and Barbara Weiler, on behalf of the PSE Group

Report

A6-0288/2005

Joachim Wuermeling

Green Paper on defence procurement

Motion for a resolution

---

Paragraph 17

17. Believes that there must be intensive consultation with industry stakeholders, relevant non-governmental organisations and social partners in drawing up the draft directive, and stresses the need for a business impact study and a foreign-relations impact study;

Or. en

12.10.2005

A6-0288/4

AMENDMENT 4

by Evelyne Gebhardt and Barbara Weiler, on behalf of the PSE Group

Report

A6-0288/2005

Joachim Wuermeling

Green Paper on defence procurement

Motion for a resolution

---

Paragraph 23 a (new)

23a. Stresses the need to observe the precautionary principle in trade relations with third countries with regard to the possible destination of arms, as well as to economic and social conditions and respect for human rights in purchasing countries;

Or. en