Motion for a resolutionParagraph 73Motion for a resolutionAmendment*

73. Strongly emphasises, given the importance of the digital economy in the relationship and in the cause of rebuilding EU-US trust, that the consent of the European Parliament to the final TTIP agreement could be endangered as long as the blanket mass surveillance activities and the interception of communications in EU institutions and diplomatic representations are not completely abandoned and an adequate solution is found for the data privacy rights of EU citizens, including administrative and judicial redress; stresses that Parliament may only consent to the final TTIP agreement provided the agreement fully respects, inter alia, the fundamental rights recognised by the EU Charter, and provided the protection of the privacy of individuals in relation to the processing and dissemination of personal data remain governed by Article XIV of the GATS; stresses that EU data protection legislation cannot be deemed an 'arbitrary or unjustifiable discrimination' in the application of Article XIV of the GATS;

73. Calls for an immediate suspension of the TTIP agreement negotiations as long as the blanket mass surveillance activities and bulk processing of personal data, as well as the interception of communications in EU institutions and diplomatic representations, are not fully stopped and an adequate solution for the data privacy rights of EU citizens, including administrative and judicial redress, has not been found; underlines the fact that Parliament will only consent to the final TTIP agreement provided that the agreement fully respects, among other things, the fundamental rights recognised by the EU Charter, and that the protection of the privacy of individuals in relation to the processing and dissemination of personal data remain governed by Article XIV of the GATS; stresses that EU data protection legislation cannot be deemed an 'arbitrary or unjustifiable discrimination' in the application of Article XIV of the GATS;
