EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The Partnership and Cooperation Agreement (PCA) between Georgia and the European Communities entered into force on 1 July 1999. Georgia has participated actively in the European Neighbourhood Policy since 2004 and in the Eastern Partnership since its launch in 2009.

The Protocol to the PCA under consideration has been signed on 12 December 2013. Its objective is to lay down the financial and technical rules to enable Georgia to participate in certain Union programmes. The Protocol contains a Framework agreement on the general participation of Georgia in Union programmes and includes standard provisions contained in such protocols for ENP countries. The participation in each programme requires the drafting of a memorandum of understanding (MoU) to be signed by both parties. Furthermore the participation of ENP countries concerns only those Union programmes, whose statutes and objectives permit for such participation.

The Commission Communication "on the general approach to enable ENP partner countries to participate in Community agencies and Community programmes"<sup>1</sup> of December 2006 outlined the approach envisaging the possibility for the ENP countries to participate in selected Community programmes and agencies as a measure to promote reform, modernisation and transition in the Neighbourhood. The Council endorsed the approach on 5 March 2007<sup>2</sup> and on 18 June 2007, it issued directives for the Commission to negotiate Framework Agreements on the general principles for the participation of Community programmes with thirteen Neighbourhood countries.

The intention to further facilitate partner countries' participation in Union programmes was stressed in the Joint Communication by the Commission and the High Representative of the EU for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy on "A new response to a challenging Neighbourhood"<sup>3</sup>. The Declaration of Warsaw Summit of the Eastern Partnership that took place on 29-30 September 2011, highlights once more interest of the Partner countries and the EU to facilitate the participation of the Partners in Union programmes and agencies and welcomes the increased sectoral cooperation.

Georgia shall contribute financially to the specific programmes it participates in. The financial implications vary from programme to programme and are determined in the MoUs.

The conclusion of the Protocol will permit the gradual opening of or reinforced participation in certain Union programmes for Georgia, offering an opportunity to promote further cultural, educational, environmental, technical and scientific links, enhancing people-to-people contacts and sectoral cooperation, in addition to the strengthening of the political and relations through the Eastern Partnership and the conclusion of the Association Agreement.
