Paragraph 23 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

23 a. Considers that Frontex should respect the fundamental human rights of migrants, but that its mandate is first and foremost to assist with border management in order to secure the integrity of Member States as well as the fundamental human rights and the interests of their citizens:

Paragraph 23 b (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

23 b. Points out that no Member State has the capacity to expeditiously process the thousands of applications of migrants in its territory, and that this necessitates pushbacks, particularly in cases of weaponised migration and in cases where migrants are travelling from a safe third country or hold a passport from a country that is considered safe;

Paragraph 23 c (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

23 c. Stresses that pushbacks are not illegal per se, as migrants, who clearly do not fulfil the criteria to be accepted as refugees, e.g. those coming through or originating from safe third countries, can already be denied entry under current law; declares its solidarity with Poland and Lithuania who are fending off a large influx of migrants at its border to Belarus; considers this influx to be a hybrid attack in the form of weaponised migration;
