Amendment 1
Sylwia Spurek, Gwendoline Delbos-Corfield
on behalf of the Verts/ALE Group

Report
Elissavet Vozemberg-Vrionidi, Sylwia Spurek
Combating gender-based violence: cyberviolence
(2020/2035(INL))

Motion for a resolution
Annex, Recommendation 1

Motion for a resolution
Recommendation 1 on the objective of the directive to be adopted

The objective is to establish in the upcoming proposal minimum rules, as a harmonised policy response, concerning the definition of the crime of gender-based cyberviolence and related sanctions, to establish measures to promote and support the action of Member States in the field of prevention of that crime and to establish measures to protect, support and ensure reparations for victims.

Amendment
Recommendation 1 on the objective of the legislative proposal

The objective is to include in the upcoming directive on combating all forms of gender-based violence minimum rules, as a harmonised policy response, concerning the definition of the crime of gender-based cyberviolence and related sanctions, to establish measures to promote and support the action of Member States in the field of prevention of that crime and to establish measures to protect, support and ensure reparations for victims.

Or. en
Amendment 2
Sylwia Spurek, Gwendoline Delbos-Corfield
on behalf of the Verts/ALE Group

Report
Elissavet Vozemberg-Vrionidi, Sylwia Spurek
Combating gender-based violence: cyberviolence
(2020/2035(INL))

Motion for a resolution
Annex, Recommendation 2 § 4

The inclusion of the term ‘computer crime’ in Article 83(1) TFEU may also cover crimes committed against electronic communication networks or information systems or by using them, and serious forms of online gender-based violence with a cross-border dimension may fall within the scope of ‘computer crime’ within the meaning of Article 83(1) TFEU. In addition, measures that aim to prevent gender-based cyberviolence and to assist victims could be established on the basis of Article 83(1) TFEU because they are secondary to the main objective of the directive.

Amendment
The inclusion of the term ‘computer crime’ in Article 83(1) TFEU may also cover crimes committed against electronic communication networks or information systems or by using them, and serious forms of online gender-based violence with a cross-border dimension may fall within the scope of ‘computer crime’ within the meaning of Article 83(1) TFEU. In addition, measures that aim to prevent gender-based cyberviolence and to assist victims could be established on the basis of Article 83(1) TFEU because they are secondary to the main objective of the legislative proposal.

Or. en
8.12.2021

Amendment 3
Sylwia Spurek, Gwendoline Delbos-Corfield
on behalf of the Verts/ALE Group

Report
Elissavet Vozemberg-Vrionidi, Sylwia Spurek
Combating gender-based violence: cyberviolence
(2020/2035(INL))

Motion for a resolution
Annex; Recommendation 2 § 5

The scope of the directive should cover any form of gender-based violence committed, assisted or aggravated in part or fully by the use of ICT, such as mobile phones and smartphones, the internet, social media platforms or email, against a woman because she is a woman, or affects women disproportionately or against LGBTIQ people on the grounds of gender identity, gender expression or sex characteristics.

The scope of the legislative proposal should cover any form of gender-based violence committed, assisted or aggravated in part or fully by the use of ICT, such as mobile phones and smartphones, the internet, social media platforms or email, against a woman because she is a woman, or affects women disproportionately or against LGBTIQ people on the grounds of gender identity, gender expression or sex characteristics.

Or. en