Efficiency and gains

12. Commends the Agency for sharing resources on overlapping tasks and competences with other Agencies, including in the areas of human resources advisory services, digitalisation and tools, e-learning and surveys, as well as for the participation in inter-institutional and inter-agency calls for tender; notes that the Agency is collaborating closely with the European Environmental Agency for the elaboration of reports such as the European Aviation Environmental Report, with Eurocontrol for mutual opportunities in aviation related learning solutions and with European Union Agency for Railways through a Memorandum a Cooperation signed in 2022 that establishes a regular structured dialogue and enhances the sharing of information, knowledge and experience in various cooperation areas; welcomes that the Agency has strategic partnerships on the sharing of resources and information with almost all of the national competent aviation authorities in its Member States;

16. Notes that the Agency continues to apply the relevant Green Public Procurement criteria and requirements using the available toolkits on its calls for tenders; further notes that in 2022 one staff member was recruited with the aim of ensuring resources to re-start the analysis of instruments of continuous improvements in the environmental performance of organisations, with primary focus on EMAS and ISO 14001; calls on the Agency to inform the discharge authority on the results of that analysis;

Staff policy

17. Notes that, on 31 December 2022, the establishment plan was 95,59 % implemented, with 651 temporary agents appointed out of 681 temporary agents authorised under the Union budget (compared to 680 authorised posts in 2021); notes that, in addition, 95 contract agents and 23 seconded national experts worked for the Agency in 2022;
18. 19. Observes with concern the lack of gender balance within the Agency's senior and middle management members, with 17 out of 22 (77 %) being men, and within the Agency's management board, with 59 out of 79 (75 %) being men; further notes the gender balance within the Agency's overall staff, with 525 out of 757 (69 %) being men; takes note that the Agency is systematically monitoring the gender distribution among applicants and actively reaches out for female candidates, by publishing the positions in the right forums, explicitly encouraging applications from female candidates, and drafting positions with precise information as it may affect work-life balance; calls on the Agency to continue its efforts towards gender balance at management and overall staff level through concrete actions that attract applications from women for posts offered by the Agency; asks the Commission and the Member States to take into account the importance of ensuring gender balance when nominating their members to the Agency's management board;

20. Welcomes that the Agency maintained focus on gender balance, geographical balance and diversity; recalls the importance to develop a long term human resources policy on work-life balance and the offer of specific training possibilities for career development, home office, right to disconnect, the enhancement of a geographical balance to have an appropriate representation from all Member States, and the recruitment and integration of people with disabilities, as well as the promotion of their equal treatment and their opportunities;
21. Notes from the Agency's report with regard to the follow-up measures taken in light of the discharge in respect of the implementation of the budget of the Agency's for the financial year 2021 (the 'Agency's report'), that, based on its competency management and strategic workforce planning programme, the Agency identified a stable staffing scenario 2022+ with significant external resource investments in technical and corporate expertise areas both for traditional tasks and emerging domains based on the Agency's mid-term strategic priorities, including e.g. new technologies, cybersecurity, safety assessment, flight test and research;
22. Notes that in 2022 one case of harassment has been reported for which the Agency used the services of an external investigator of the Inter-Agencies network, with the conclusion that the harassment could not be confirmed; further notes that a total of 4 burnout cases was reported in 2022, the same number as in 2021;
23. Recalls from the Court's annual report on Union agencies for 2021 the observation regarding the Agency's non-compliance with Article 16 of the Union's Staff Regulations; notes from the Court's report that that observation remained open; notes however from the Agency's report that the Agency has in the meantime formally established a Joint Committee, in addition to having revised its procedures to address weaknesses identified by the Court;

Procurement

24. Notes from the Court's report that the Agency concluded a contract with one service provider for the continued development of an incident reporting system for the value of EUR 1,9 million by using an extreme urgency procedure; notes the Court's observation that since the legal conditions for the use of that procedure were not satisfied, the procedure was irregular, as were all the associated payments (EUR 261 385) made in 2022; notes nevertheless the Agency's reply that the awarded contractor was the only one able to continue the development of that system without creating disruption and an immediate safety risk with potential catastrophic consequences;
25. Notes from the Court's observations that the Agency, after having launched a tendering procedure for events management services, modified the price of the tender without following the provisions of the Article 151 of the financial regulation; observes that following complaint from the bidder, the Agency carried out a second evaluation that led to excluding the bidder on the grounds that it “did not meet the requirements set in the tender specifications“, however without specifying which requirements had not been met; notes the Court’s conclusion that the bidder’s exclusion was not properly justified; calls on the Agency to take the necessary actions to guarantee that in future procurement procedures any correction in price or exclusion of the tenderers are justified according to the applicable legal basis;

Prevention and management of conflicts of interest and transparency

26. Acknowledges the Agency’s existing system for the prevention and mitigation of conflicts of interest which includes an annual exercise during which staff is asked to review and update (if necessary) any change in their situation that could lead to an actual or potential conflict of interests; notes that in 2022, from all declarations of interest submitted by staff in various contexts (annual declaration, new recruits, post-employment or outside activities/ leave on personal grounds) and assessed by the Agency in line with the applicable procedure, 4 cases were referred on for opinion to the Agency’s Ethical Committee; welcomes the fact that in 2022 there were no confirmed cases of conflicts of interest and all cases where a risk of an actual or potential conflict of interest was identified could be mitigated via specific measures put in place, for example cooling-off, lobby-bans, non-involvements in certain assignments;
27. Notes that CVs and declarations of interest of board members and senior and middle managers are published on the Agency’s website; further notes that the Agency does not list all its meetings with lobbyists or interest representatives on its webpage and calls on the Agency to do so without delay;
28. Takes note that the Agency is open to the possibility of an internal anticorruption strategy for the future, but considers at this moment that, according to the records in the past years, there is no threat in this regard; nevertheless, calls on the Agency to re-evaluate its position and take steps towards setting up an internal anticorruption strategy;

Internal control

29. Notes that in 2022, the Commission's Internal Audit Service (IAS) carried out an audit on standardisation activities that assessed whether the controls in place provide reasonable assurance regarding compliance with the relevant legislation and the standardisation activities are organised in an efficient way to effectively support the achievement of the Agency's business objectives; further notes that as a result of that audit three recommendations were raised for which the Agency drafted an action plan to be implemented in the course of 2023;
30. Notes that the 2022 audit programme of the Agency’s Internal Audit Capability (IAC) consisted of 8 engagements, namely 4 assurance audits, including 1 audit performed by IAS, 2 consulting, and 2 follow-up audits; takes note that during the 2022 follow-up audits, 2 out of the 13 actions identified in the initial audits from 2021 could be closed, while six actions were assessed as partially implemented and five actions remained open; calls on the Agency to take the necessary measures to address those actions;

Other comments

31. Salutes the focus of the Agency to integrate Ukraine as a candidate country into the Union system;
32. Notes from the Agency's report that in 2022 the Agency performed a comprehensive usability study involving tree testing and one-to-one user interview; notes that the study has provided qualitative insights that, in combination with the quantitative insights, are expected to improve EASA Pro, EASA Light and communities on the Agency's website; commends the Agency for having put in place a project to make EASA Light (a dedicated area of the Agency's website which explains its activities in a simple non-technical English) available in all official languages of the Union;
