Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 3 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

3a. Stresses that while the changed security environment calls for a more robust CSDP, it is crucial that the larger aim of both foreign and security policy remains to strengthen human rights, democracy and the rule of law outside the EU's borders, since this is the only way to find sustainable solutions to crisis, conflict and threats to the EU; Notes that this also means that CSDP must be complemented by the EU's other foreign policy instruments, such as trade policy, development assistance and humanitarian aid;

Jonás Fernández

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 19 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

19a. Maintains that in addition to cooperation with NATO, the EU must step up its efforts to strengthen global governance, which will result in an improved strategic and security situation; calls, therefore, for a root and branch reform of the UN with a view to enhancing its legitimacy, transparency, accountability processes and effectiveness, including revitalising the General Assembly and establishing a United Nations parliamentary assembly; takes the view that the UN Security Council must be reformed, especially as regards its composition and voting procedures, in order to bring it into line with the realities of the 21st century and to boost its capacity to act decisively to address global security challenges, moving beyond its purely military focus to tackle issues such as refugee flows, the fight against pandemics and sustainable development;
