Paragraph 5 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

5a. Is alarmed by the negative trends in addressing environmental challenges at European level, as reported by the EEA State of the Environment Report 2020, and by the fact that the Union and its Member States are not on track to meet most of their own environmental targets; stresses that addressing this environmental crisis will require transformative and systemic changes in production processes as well as consumption patterns in order to reduce our global footprint;

Motion for a resolutionParagraph 8Motion for a resolution*

8. Stresses that there are trade-offs between protecting the climate and protecting biodiversity in the bio-economy sector, which play a central role in the transition towards a climate-neutral economy; expresses its concern that this trade-off has not been sufficiently addressed in recent policy discussions; calls on all stakeholders to develop a cohesive approach in order to bring together biodiversity protection and climate protection as part of a thriving bioeconomy;

Amendment

8. Stresses that trade-offs between protecting the climate and protecting biodiversity should always be avoided, in particular in the bio-economy sector, which can play a central role in the transition towards a climate-neutral economy provided it does not threaten the quality of ecosystems; expresses its concern that such trade-offs have not been sufficiently addressed in recent policy discussions; calls on the Commission and all stakeholders to develop a cohesive approach in order to build a truly sustainable bioeconomy based on nature conservation and other ecosystem-based solutions, as such an approach gives the best results for both climate and biodiversity;

Paragraph 10

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

10. Welcomes the commitments made by Ursula von der Leyen in the 2019-2024 Commission's political guidelines and in her mission letter of 10 September 2019 to the Commissioner for Environment and Oceans, to present, within the new Commission's first 100 days of office, an ambitious Biodiversity Strategy for 2030 as part of the European Green Deal, and her intention for the EU to lead the world at the 2020 Conference of the Parties to the CBD, as it did at the 2015 Paris Climate Conference; insists that this be a high priority for the new Commission and that the EU galvanises global ambition on biodiversity ahead of the COP15; calls on the Commission, in view of the global biodiversity crisis highlighted by the recent IPBES report, to apply a new approach and to move away from voluntary commitments and to propose an ambitious and inclusive Biodiversity Strategy for 2030 that sets legally binding targets for the EU and its Member States, including specific targets to conserve and protect natural areas and to restore degraded ecosystems by 2030;
