The European Parliament,

- having regard to Rule 116 of its Rules of Procedure,
 - A. whereas forced labour goes against fundamental labour rights as laid down by the International Labour Organisation (ILO),
 - B. whereas the Laogai is a vast prison labour system in China, used by the Chinese government as a tool for political suppression of pro-democracy activists, internet dissidents, labour activists, and religious and spiritual believers,
 - C. whereas fifty million people have suffered as prisoners in the Laogai, where they have been beaten, tortured, and often killed, since its inception,
 - D. whereas, in its resolution on prospects for trade relations between the EU and China (2005/2015(INI)), Parliament called on China to take effective and swift action against the use of forced labour and asked the Commission to offer the Chinese its support in this connection,
