Written declaration, under Rule 136 of Parliament’s Rules of Procedure, on the ban on third-party ownership of players in European sport

1. Respect for human dignity (Article 2 of the Treaty on European Union) is one of the values of the European Union, and the EU therefore aims to protect the integrity of sportsmen and women and to combat human trafficking.

2. There is a growing trend towards third-party ownership (TPO) in team sports in Europe, whereby players, many of whom are very young, are partially or fully ‘owned’ by private investors and can no longer determine the future path of their career.

3. TPO raises important concerns regarding the integrity of competitions, since the lack of transparency of TPO arrangements creates further risks of result manipulation, money laundering and other criminal activities, as well as some broader ethical considerations regarding what amounts to ‘ownership’ and ‘trading’ of the ‘economic rights’ of another human being.

4. The ownership of players by third-party investors is therefore strongly condemned.

5. A cross-border solution is required in order to effectively tackle the threats posed by TPO.

6. The decision to ban TPO as from 1 May 2015 is a very welcome one.

7. The Commission is called upon to incite Member States to support the ban and take additional measures to implement it in the EU.

8. This declaration, together with the names of the signatories, is forwarded to the Council and the Commission.
