

WRITTEN QUESTION E-3898/03
by Chris Davies (ELDR)
to the Commission

Subject: Otters in UK rivers

Otters are said to have returned for the first time in decades to a great many rivers in the UK, principally as a result of improved water quality and the end of otter hunting.

Will the Commission list the items of EU legislation the implementation of which by the UK Government is likely to have contributed to this positive development?