

WRITTEN QUESTION E-3275/04
by Christopher Huhne (ALDE)
to the Commission

Subject: Civil liability

Will the Commission indicate briefly the circumstances under which an EU citizen who loses a civil liability case for damages in one Member State may be subject to pursuit in the courts of his or her own Member State for the sum awarded? Are there any plans to change cross-border collection of damages awards in one Member State by making judgments enforceable in another?