

WRITTEN QUESTION E-0197/05
by Christopher Huhne (ALDE)
to the Commission

Subject: Household disposable income

Will the Commission indicate the average level of household disposable income in each Member State for the last five years? Will it also indicate the average level of household disposable income in the applicant countries?

In addition, will the Commission ensure that the average level of household expenditure (for example, income tax/living expenses, etc.) is given as a total percentage of the average household income for each Member State (and applicant country)?