

WRITTEN QUESTION E-3335/05
by Antoine Duquesne (ALDE)
to the Commission

Subject: Procedures for the reimbursement of medical expenses in Europe

European citizens can currently obtain reimbursement of any medical expenses they may incur in a country other than their native country by using an E111 form issued by their health insurance organisation.

Could the Commission give details of the procedures to be followed under this reimbursement system, which in the eyes of some patients sometimes appears too long and still too complicated?

Would it consider proposing another system in the future that might be quicker and less restrictive?
