

WRITTEN QUESTION E-2060/07
by Simon Coveney (PPE-DE)
to the Commission

Subject: Human trafficking and education

What is the Commission doing to ensure that development aid is focused on education projects, both formal and non-formal, which benefit the most marginalised groups in human trafficking source countries? Will the success of such projects be partly measured by a reduction in trafficking of women and children from these marginalised groups?