

WRITTEN QUESTION E-7082/08
by Hanne Dahl (IND/DEM)
to the Commission

Subject: Bank packages

It is well known that we now have a lot of undercapitalised and illiquid banks in Europe. As an example, in Denmark the Danish Folketing has started negotiating a second bank package. What will the Commission's response be to these packages from the different Member States? What are the possibilities for making some global change to the architecture of the financial institutions?
